The German Way.

News comes to-day that the German military Governor of Brussels has suspended the Mayor of Brussels, Burgomaster Max, from his office, and incarcerated him in a fortress on account of his irreconcilable attitude. In other words, the German military governor could not bend to the German way of thinking and doing the gallant Belgian Mayor, and he imprisoned him. All honour to the gallant Mayor. Now what is the German way? A German journal tells us. The Lokal-Anzeiger announces officially that the Belgian press now appears in German, and glazes over it, as the right way of handling a people. The people not using German must be made to use German. The German Governor has been armed with the power to introduce "German discipline and order." The land that has been laid low "belongs whole and undivided to the German people." One of its military correspondents writes:

"In my opinion all Belgium must become German, not in order that a few million rascals may have the honour of belonging to the German Empire, but so that we may have her excellent harbours and so be able to hold the knife under the nose of the English, cowardly England. In English people fully realize this, and the German newspaper is putting into concrete form what every Englishman knows. By all accounts the German retreat from Northern France has begun, and there is good ground for the hope that within a week or so, we shall learn from the British War Bureau that the British and French will be waging war on the German lines in Belgium. The German way of handling the Belgian people will but fire them to greater determination in the next step of the campaign which is to drive the Germans out of Belgium completely. The battle of the Marne was a long and costly operation, but it was successful. The battle of the Aisne is much longer, but by the end of the three weeks, there appears to be good ground for the hope that the Germans will be driven to their next line of defence along the Sambre and the Meuse with Mauberge, Charleroi, Namur, Hirson, Rocroi, and other points in this section of the defence. How long they can hold these lines and what it will cost to root them out, it is idle to surmise; but out they must go. That will be the British, French and Belgian answer to the German way of doing things.

Passing of Rev. W. M. Mair.

Yesterday, Rev. Dr. Fenwick received the following message from Mr. Jordan Milroy, of Old Perley: "I am sorry to report that Mr. Mair died this morning. Rev. C. R. Blount from Lower Island Cove is here now. Arrangements are being made for burial here. The late Rev. W. M. Mair was a Scotsman by birth. His health had been impaired for many months past and his passing was not altogether unexpected. He labored in St. Anthony, Grand Falls and Old Perley where he was always esteemed and cherished by his parishioners as he was a most devoted pastor. He was a valued exponent of Methodism and will be sorely missed by his flock. Quiet and unostentatious, he was a most sincere man. He is survived by a widow and two children to whom the Telegram extends its deepest sympathy."

From St. Pierre.

GERMANS IN FULL RETREAT. The following bulletin is posted at St. Pierre as sent from New York to-day:

Believe all German lines in full retreat London gets a report of a complete withdrawal by the Germans all along the entire battle front, and a retreat from French soil. The official statements while pointing to a decisive victory fail to confirm reports. The allies it is believed are holding back news until the movement is concluded. The Germans captured Aless and the town is burned. Italy is evidently ready to fight. She protests to Austria about Adriatic mines.

Reids' Boats.

The Argyle has not been reported since leaving Placentia. The Bruce arrived at Port aux Basques at 6.40 a.m. to-day. The Clyde leaves Lewisporte this afternoon.

The Dundee arrived at Port Blandford at 7 p.m. yesterday. The Ethie arrived at Clarendville at 7.30 a.m. yesterday. The Glencoe left Port aux Basques at 5 a.m. to-day.

The Home is due at Lewisporte to-day from north. The Kyle is still north of Twillingate. The Lintrose leaves North Sydney to-night.

The Meigle is due at Humbermouth to-day from north. The Sagons left Carbonear at 2.45 p.m. yesterday, going north.

Sulphate of Ammonia.

St. John's Gas Light Company. Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your Works, and I found 20.5 per cent. of NITROGEN, Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen manures. Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season. Yours truly, D. JAMES DAVIES, B.S.C., F.C.S., Analyst and Assayer.

St. John's Boy

WITH KING'S OWN HUSSARS. Albert Piercy, of this city, who was a steward on the s.s. Oceanic at the time she was wrecked off the coast of Scotland, is now a soldier in the defence of the Empire. Writing to his mother a few days ago he stated that he enlisted in Southampton on August 12th in the King's Own Hussars. He was sent to Bristol Barracks for formation drill for 10 days and then on to Longmore Camp where he is at present. When he was in Bristol Barracks there were five thousand recruits there, consisting of old soldiers, sailors, waiters, clerks, tradesmen, sweeties and a number of wealthy men. In the Camp, Lord Torington and his party enlisted as troopers with the same pay and same accommodation as he (Piercy) was getting.

McMurdo's Store News.

THURSDAY, Oct. 1st, 1914. With the advent of the cold weather the need of a fat and warm-producing tonic is often felt. Morrola will fill this want, if used faithfully. Compound of Cod Liver Oil so flavored as to destroy its unpleasant taste and odor, combined with Iron and Wine, its beneficial effects are promptly felt in cases of general ability and nervous exhaustion, anemia, impoverished blood, loss of appetite, malnutrition, atonic dyspepsia, and in convalescence after severe illness. It is quite easy to take, and is serviceable in many cases of cough and cold, bronchitis, catarrh and lung and throat troubles—the result of its value as a reconstructor and stimulant. It is suitable for children as well as adults. Price $1.00 a bottle.

Cartershall, Md. Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Dear Sirs,—While in the country last summer I was badly bitten by mosquitoes, so badly that I thought I would be disabled for a couple of weeks. I was advised to try your Liniment to allay the irritation, and did so. The effect was more than I expected, a few applications completely curing the irritation, and preventing the bites from becoming sore. MINARD'S LINIMENT is also a good article to keep off the mosquitoes. Yours truly, W. A. V. R.

LOCAL ARRIVES.—The local from Carbonear, via Brigus, arrived in the city at 12.30 p.m. to-day.

SHOT CAPTAIN AND OFFICERS.

VENICE, To-day. The captain and all the officers of the Austrian steamer Radm, chartered to carry coal for the Austrian Navy have been arrested and summarily shot at Castle Nuovo, Dalmatia, on suspicion that they were selling information to French warships regarding the position of mines in the Adriatic. The floating mines in the Adriatic have caused nineteen deaths which has aroused Italian feeling against those responsible.

LOOKING AFTER SCHOOL GIRLS.

SPECIAL TO EVENING TELEGRAM: LONDON, To-day. Miss Daisy Pollock of San Francisco, has been delegated by the International Women's Relief Committee to take 38 German school girls from England back to Germany. She will leave to-morrow, and on her return will bring back to England an equal number of English school girls.

GAINING IN THE EAST.

PARIS, To-day. The following official communication was issued last night: The general situation is satisfactory. There has been no change of any account on the front except for the mouth of Woivre, where we have occupied Selshepre Island and advanced as far as slope of Rupt-de-Mace.

GERMANS LOOKING FOR VICTORY.

BERLIN, To-day. No official news from the western battle ground has been received since last night. Newspapers have not been informed by their correspondents regarding the general engagement which is progressing and details not known here. Archduke Frederick of the Austrian forces in army orders to-day declared that a new and great victory was imminent in the west.

BRUSSELS HIT-GOASTMASTER IN FORTRESS.

LONDON, To-day. The following official despatch has been received by wireless from Berlin: The German military Governor of Brussels has announced by public poster as follows: I have found myself obliged to suspend Burgomaster Max from his office on account of his irreconcilable attitude. He is now in honorable custody in a fortress.

GENERAL SITUATION DISTINCTLY GOOD.

LONDON, To-day. The 19th day of the battle of the Aisne finds the allies pushing with all the strength they can bring to bear in their great effort to outflank the German right wing and force it back from its line of communications through Belgium. There is evidence that this movement is beginning to tell, and that unless something unforeseen happens this portion of the German army must fall back on another defensive line. A French official report issued this morning stated that the French leftward now being pushing toward Cambrai, as yesterday it was in the neighborhood of Albert. Even further north than this the French cavalry were operating last night, and the German forces were sent to Orchies, 16 miles southeast of Lille to punish France's Tierceur for an alleged attack on a German hospital at that place, met a superior force and had to fall back. The Germans too admit they have been unable to stop the allies pushing against their right, and also that the allies have advanced on their right front. Indeed there seems to be some agreement among the official reports of both belligerents on the events in this part of the battlefield. The German reports refer to the advance of the allies, while the French communications say that a vigorous attack made by Germans on Tracey-Le-Mont, northwest of the forest of Aisne, was repulsed with heavy losses. Of course these reports may refer to different incidents, but they nevertheless agree that the advantages are with the allies. In the centre, from Rheims to the Meuse, the armies still appear to be waiting for the outcome of the fighting on the wings, as there has been a lull in the battle there between the Argonne and the Meuse. Again at Woivre there has been severe fighting. The French claim to have made slight progress and have advanced at several points, especially at St. Michael of Aisne, where the French staff is very sparing with its information. It is evident the forces which advanced from Toul oppose the Germans who crossed the Meuse near St. Michael have succeeded in getting behind the small contingent of invaders who had successfully carried out the attempt to bend the French line at this point. Other offensive movements by the French between Verdun and Toul were however, to a German report, repulsed. In Lorraine and in the Vosges there has been no change in the situation. Here two armies seem to be waiting the result of the greater contest going on further west, where British military experts believe the allies have at last firmly set the claws of their left on the German right wing under General Von Kluck.

EXCITING GREAT APPREHENSION

VENICE, To-day. The news of the beginning of the Russian invasion of Hungary is exciting the greatest apprehension throughout the monarchy. Work on the fortifications around Vienna is being hastened. Asiatic cholera is spreading rapidly, cases being reported daily in Vienna and various districts of Hungary. Scores of cases have already been found in Galicia whence the disease has spread to other parts.

MILLIONS FOR LABOR.

NEW YORK, To-day. According to the New York American, John D. Rockefeller is preparing to spend a goodly share of his vast wealth for the cause of labor. The American learns that the Rockefeller Foundation has been endowed with $100,000,000 and has chosen Mark Twain, former Canadian Minister of Labor, as a special investigator of labor conditions. The scope of his work is understood to be as wide as the Continent of North America.

BRITISH SEIZE CONTRABAND IN AMERICAN SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Britain's intention to seize goods which may be classed as conditional contraband is being specifically destined for Germany or Austria, even when such shipments are carried in American ships, and consigned to neutral ports was announced at the State Department yesterday by the British Ambassador who called to explain the despatches stating that two cargoes of copper, shipped from the States to the Krupp Gun Works in Germany, had been seized and diverted to England. He said the said copper was to be used in connection with the manufacture of torpedoes and it came distinctly under the classification of conditional contraband. Payment for this full value of the cargoes has been remitted to the American shippers, and it is understood that a similar course will be pursued in such cases in future. Earlier in the day the Senate had passed a resolution asking the State Department to report as to whether the British Government was interfering with shipments of Americans in neutral ships to Rotterdam. No announcement has been made as to the attitude of the Department would be toward Britain's action. Some officials, however, were inclined to think there was no ground for claiming there has been a violation of International Law.

BOMBARDING ANTWERP.

SPECIAL EVENING TELEGRAM. LONDON, To-day. An official communication issued at Antwerp says: The German artillery during the day continued the bombardment of the first line of forts on the Meuse. Our works suffered little and were still in a condition to make effective resistance. Between the Sambre River and Reeth no movement of the enemy's forces occurred in the circle from the Scheldt to the Sambre. Daring and violent German attacks have been repelled by the Belgians, who were well supported by their artillery. The German losses were proportionate to the tenacity of their attacks in the direction of Termonde. Offensive movement was of great importance, consisting of a long distance cannonade which had no appreciable effect on the detachment of our troops, guarding the approaches to the town between Rivers Dendre and Scheldt. There is no notable change. In short the German bombardment has produced no result commensurate with its violence. The morale of our troops remains excellent and their confidence is admirable as proved by the successful resistance of all German infantry attacks.

ALLIES WATCH DARDANELLES.

LONDON, To-day. An official communication issued at Antwerp, says a London despatch from Constantinople states that newspapers explain that the closing of the Dardanelles is due to the fact that English and French cruisers are attempting about the mouth of the Dardanelles, examining merchant steamers. It is asserted that the Straits will remain closed until the allied fleet departs.

BRITISH REVENUE.

LONDON, To-day. For the first half of the fiscal year ending yesterday, the British National Revenue amounted apparently to $350,000,000, a decrease of $13,000,000 as compared with last year, while the expenditure aggregated $67,000,000, showing an increase of nearly $25,000,000 due to the war.

GERMAN FLEET DRIVEN OFF BY RUSSIANS.

PARIS, To-day. A Petrograd despatch dated Sept. 30 says: Details of a naval engagement which occurred on Sept. 24th off the coast of Windsu, the Russian seaport of the Baltic, have been made public. It appears that a German squadron comprising forty ships of all classes appeared off the harbor and were prevented from landing forces by a heavy fire from the forts. One officer and two sailors were killed and three more drowned. The ships withdrew, but on the day following two cruisers returned and opened fire and destroyed the lighthouse. They killed a civilian and a number of soldiers but were driven off again by fire from the forts.
