Frederick of Newbury furnished the greater part of the music. Misses Wilmot and Lizzie Sutherland gave temperance songs .-Mr. T. Coulthard delivered an interesting temperance speech. The meeting was brought to a close with the National Anthem. Notwithstanding the crowded house, the utmost good order was maintained.

These Temperance and Grange meetings are doing much to educate and amuse, and to fill up a void that has long been felt in rural life.

A SPLENDID MAGAZINE. - The December number of OUR HOME COMPANION AND CAN-ADIAN TEACHER is on our table and is really a fine specimen, and a credit to Canadian en-terprise. We know of no educational journal in the United States that for the quantity and quality of the matter it contains, or for its typegraphical appearance, equals this new Canadian publication. Its departments are varied and complete, comprising editorial, con-tributed and selected articles, educational intelligence, scientific and literary notes, and mathematical, fireside, children's and publisher's departments. Each has its own attractive testures, the mathematical department alone being worth the subscription price to teachers.

To be brief, its contents throughout are admirably calculated to bring pleasure and SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Propriefors, profit to the school and fireside wherever it may be introduced. Not the least attractive feature, however, is the premiums offered to subscribers by the publishers (the Companion Publishing Co., London, Ontario). Every subscriber at $1.50 receives a beautiful oil chromo—"Lake Maggiore," a beautiful scene in Italy—size 17 x 25; or for $1 a handsome premium crayon (22 x 28) is given with the magazine for one year. It is published in octavo form, and contains 32 pages of closely printed matter, neatly bound in double cover.

We have made arrangements with the publishers whereby we are enabled to club the

COMPANION AND TEACHER with the TRAN-$CRIPT on very favorable terms. For only $2.25 we will send both journals one year with the premium chromo; or for $2 we will send a crayon with both journals for one year. Copies of the magazine and premium may be seen at our office, and on examination of the
