Judgment was rendered on Monday in the High Court of Justice in Toronto in this action, which had been tried without a jury at London. Action was against the members of the Building Committee of the Presbyterian Church at Petrolea to recover $566 41, the amount of two orders or assignments of meneys in the hands of the defendants given by William Scott & Son, contractors for the carpenter's work on the church, in favor of J. C. Dodd & Son, and assigned by the latter to the plaintiffs. The learned judge held that the order of the 15th May, 1890, for $306 is an equitable assignment and not a bill of exchange. Judgment for plaintiffs for $366 with interest from 31st May, 1890. As to the other order, he directs that the plaintiffs may, if they are so advised, be added as parties in the master's office in the suits brought by holders of mechanics' liens. Further directions and oosts reserved. D. M. Fraser (London) and T. Macbeth (London) for the plaintiffs. Moncrieff, Q.C., for the decinadants.
