The Canadian Tariff Discussed. London, Nov. 21.—The discussion on the Canadian tariff question in the English

Canadian tariff question in the English papers continues from time to time. The Chronicle yesterday, following the same line as the Times a tortnight ago, points to Mr. Courtney's mission to Washington as a proof that the Canadian Ministry for the first time has come face to face with the Northwest demand for tariff revision. The Chronicle considers the man well chosen, the time opportune for the mission, and the prospects for some unitual arrangement with the States are more favorable than for along time past.

Dutch Take 8,000 Prisoners.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A courier arrived the bringing fresh news from the Congo country. It says that Capt. Dhanis' party, after defeating the Arabs at Kasengo, found letters which proved the existence of a plot among the Arab chiefs to destroy the influence of the Congo Free State.

It was also stated that Capt. Pouthier, after taking Kibundi, pursued the retreating enemy to their camp at Ontia or Loma, and took 8,000 prisoners.

Women Fenced Off with Iron Bars. LONDON. Nov. 21 .- Once again the time nored question of removing the iron bars which shut the women spectators in the which shut the women spectators in the House of Commons in a sort of monkey cage has been raised, and this time there seems really some chance that it will be done. At least the Minister in charge is sympathetic, but he has adroitly explained that what is necessary is an expression of copinion from a majority of the House. This is difficult to get, for the reason that a majority secretly dislike seeing women about the place at all, yet would not wish to be on record as saying so, and hence keep the question from coming up in a form which would require a vote.

Serious Spanish Military Outbreak. MADRID, Nov. 21 .- A serious military outbreak occurred during the mobalizing o 5,000 reserves at Getafe, a town eight miles south of this city. Disastrous Results of an Earthquake. London, Nov. 21 .- A special dispatch from Meshed brings further details of the earthquake that occurred Friday at Kueearthquake that occurred Friday at Kuehan, in the northern part of the Province of Khorassan. The town was completely destroyed and the loss of life was immense. Great crevasses were opened in the earth, through which water flowed in torrents, causing the Atrek River to overflow its banks. The fertile region around the city was inundated, and the large gardens and extensive vineyards were swept out of existence.

The people of Kuchan had no chance to The people of Kuchan had no chance to save anything. The shock was so severe that the largest houses in the town, including the residence of the Governor, were almost instantly toppled over, crushing hundreds of people to death. The town had a population of between 20,000 and 25,000 persons, and it is thought that at least 10,000 perished. Many persons were carried away by the flood that flowed down the valley. It is not known yet what damago was done in the valley, but it is feared that many of the villages below Keuhan have been destroyed.

A short time after the disturbance the entire water supply of the town disap.

A short time after the disturbance the entire water supply of the town disappeared. The people who were not injured fled panic-stricken to Ala Dagh Mountains, leaving the injured to care for themselves as best they could. The district in which kinds a situated is very populous, and it is feared that it has everywhere suffered from the earthquake and the flood.

The Woman Suffrage Question.

The Woman Suffrage Question. LONDON, Nov. 21 .- In the House of Com ons to-day Mr. Walter McLaren, mem mons-to-day Mr. Vatter McLaten, member for the Crown division of Cheshire, who is a Radical in favor of political and religious equality without distinction of sex and creed, moved to include among the electors mentioned in the Parish Councils bill married women who would be entitled to note if they were single.

The Rt. Hon. Henry Fowler, president for the Local Government Board, made counter proposal to disqualify married women except when they are duly qualified as ratepayers.

Right Hon. Leonard Courtney (Unionist),

Right Hon. Leonard Courtney (Unionist), member for the Bodmin division of Cornwall, said he thought Mr. Fowler's proposal commendable for its simplicity.

Right Hou. Sir Henry James (Unionist), member for Bury, said that though he has hitherto opposed the giving of the privilege to vote to women for party purposes, he considered the proposal moderate, as before a woman could obtain the right to vote sha st be rated. If a woman lived with he and the latter must be rated.

husband the latter must be rated. They were therefore dealing with the question of married women living apart from their husbands.

The Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, Conservative leader in the House, held that the change proposed was an important departure. If the House assented the Government's proposal it would give up all hope of drawing a distinction between married and single women, not only in relation to municipal and local franchises, but in relation to party.

Mr. McLaren withdrew his motion.

A STUBBORN OFFICEHOLDER.

Sir John Astley's refusal to resign the Irish Under Secretaryship is causing Mr. Morley some embarrassment. He is, however, only doing what he has every right to do, for he holds the office direct from the crown, and is by no means called on to retire just because he is a Unionist and because Mr. Gladstone's Irish Secretary wants him out of the way. It is unlucky, certainly, that the Dublin commissioner of police resigned his position to take Mr. Ridgeway's duties while he was away in Morocco, but Mr. Morley should have known better than to permit such an arrangement.
