HEARTIEST REJOICING

Era of Australian Federation Ushered In.

Congratulatory Message From Queen Victoria-Earl of Hopetoun the First Governor.

Sydney, N.S.W., Jan. 1.-The new century and the new era of federation were ushered in for Australia yesterday with every sign of public rejoicing. This city is overflowing with visitors to such an extent that many have to be accommodated on passenger steamers in the harbor. The streets were alive with people last evening, and when midnight struck bells pealed and cannon boomed a welcome to the birthday of United Australasia. Today was a public holiday, and business has been practically suspended for a week to come. The city is decorated with unprecedented lavishness. The American arch, which is a distinct feature, is of imposing design. It is surmounted by a colossal eagle, and bears the mottoes: "The United States Greets United Australasia," and "Hail to the New-Born Commonwealth."

FIRST GOVERNOR. The Earl of Hopetoun was today sworn in as the first governor-general of the federated Australian colonies, amidst scenes of pageantry such as never before had been attempted on this side of the world. Scores of thousands of people participated in the demonstration.

MESSAGE FROM THE QUEEN. The rejoicing of the commonwealth was intensified by a message which Queen Victoria sent through Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, and which was read by the Earl of Hopetoun, as fol-

"The Queen commands me to express, through you, to the people of Australia her majesty's heartfelt interest in the inauguration of the commonwealth, and her earnest wish that under Divine Providence is. vidence it may insure increased pros-perity and well-being to her loyal and beloved subjects in Australia."

THE INAUGURAL PROCESSION. The weather for such an occasion was not of the best, but it did not deter immense crowds from thronging the streets at an early hour. A procession, formed of ministers, officials, judges, clergy, members of the House of Commons and trade unions, and all kinds of societies, aliegorical cars, coloniai, Indian and imperial troops and blustockets must be a societies. aliegorical cars, coloniai, Indian and imperial troops and bluejackets, moved at 10 o'clock down the troop-lined route towards the Government House. Stands which had been erected at every available spot were thronged with sightseers. The footways were packed with enthusiastic thousands, gay summer dresses lending variety to the scene.

Shortly after noon the procession entered the park, and thousands of the public followed, swelling the multitude that had already assembled on the hills which formed a vast amphitheater overlooking the pavilion which had been erected for the ceremonies connected with the inauguration.

ters followed. The Earl of Hopetoun briefly congratulated the members of the cabinet, and then read the Queen's message, given above, which evoked prolonged cheering.

SECOND ROYAL MESSAGE. This was followed by a second message, as follows:

"Her majesty's government sends cordial greeting to the Commonwealth of Australia. They welcome her to her place among the nations united under her majesty's sovereignty, and confident-ly anticipate for the new federation a future of ever-increasing prosperity and influence. They recognize in the long-de-sired consummation of the hopes of sired consummation of the hopes of patriotic Australians a further step in the direction of permanent unity of the empire, and they are satisfied that the wider powers and responsibilities henceforth secured to Australia will give a fresh opportunity for a display of that generous loyalty and devotion to the throne of the empire which has charac terized the action in the past of its several states. Three cheers were given for the gov-The proceeding were concluded by the choir singing a "Te Deum," "The Hallelujah Chorus," and "God Save the
