WITHOUT FOOD EIGHT DAYS

Terrible Experience.

St. Johns, Nfld., Sept. 9.—After eight days' absence a little girl named Minnie Keefe, who disappeared at Colinet, has been found barely alive, three and a half miles from her home. She was in a terrible condition. A man coming from Salmonier to Colinet, stopped to give his horse a drink, and hearing the low cry of a child went in the direction of the cry, and found the little girl lying on her back with eyes closed and barely breathing. She was terribly eaten by the flies about the face, and her legs mangled and bleeding from contact with briars and stones. It is considered almost a years old, could live so long without was 90 a day. An equal number was food or water. miracle that a child, not quite two Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 10. - Dr. Edward Brooks, head of the Philadelphia public schools, takes issue with Prof. G. Stanley Hall, of Clark University, regarding slang and its usefulness in aiding boys and girls to acquire fluency of speech.

Dr. Brooks says: "The highest forms of expression should constantly be set before the young for imitation, just as a chemical company in Ohio. the highest ideals of morals are ever held up before them to shape their characters. Slang has not only a ten-dency to cultivate inelegant forms of expression, but it has also a lowering effect morally.

"Great difficulty is experienced, after once contracting the use of slang, to overcome the habit later in life. If you cultivate in a child a habit of using slang, even if the slang is forgotten, it leaves a spirit of unrefinement be-

An Ohio Chemist's Discovery Makes Bodies Like Hard Rubber.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 10. - The Michigan Association of Funeral Directors and Embalmers is in annual session here. The members are greatly interested in what is termed the "American mummy." It is the body of John Leek, a colored man, who died in October of last year, and which was embalmed with a liquid prepared by a chemical company in Onio.

That the liquid will do all that is claimed for it is attested by the appearance of the body. It is of the consistency of hard rubber, and has stood upright in the morgue of Baker & Geet, in this city, for more than a year. The flesh has not fallen away one iota, and there is no odor. The experimenters say that the body will remain in its present condition 100 years as easily as it has one year, and that the discovery rivals the process employed by the ancient Egyptians.
