Haygarth disposed of his men's wear store in Cayuga, with the ultimate object of embarking in business in this larger centre Upon his return he lost no time in making a careful study of the modern Semi-Ready system, not only from the viewpoint in London, but visiting the big tailor shops in Mentreal, and making a close study of the methods of tailoring fine clothes.

The new proprietor will return to London on Monday. The store will be closed on Tuesday and Wednesday for stock-taking, and will reopen on Thursday morning, when some good things are promised to mark the change of ownership and to prepare the way for the fall opening.

Capt. Haygarth is well known in London. He has spent several years in and around the city, having taken a nactive part in the outdoor athletic life of the town.

"We expect a great season," declared Manager Minhinnick. "We are negotiating for the best possible list of attractions."

Mr. Harry Dann, the treasure of last season, will be here again. He is one of the best men that ever sold tickets in a box office, and like the manager, Mr. Minhinnick, is very popular with patrons of the house.
