TRAVELERS PLAN MONSTER PICNIC FOR JULY 14 NEXT

Appoint Nominating Committee To Arrange All Final Details.

START SALES CLASS

Many Commercial Men Intend Joining Western University Course.

London has witnessed some big picnics in recent years, but judging by the present and preliminary plans the Commercial Travelers' picnic on July 14 will be the largest that has been staged in Western Ontario in some time.

The travelers of the city met Saturday to discuss the advisability of a picnic and the enthusiasm was so evident and the interest so keen when the subject was broached that it was decided unanimously to hold a monster picnic either at Springbank or Port Stanley. The picnic will be for all commercial travelers in Ontario, and it is confidently expected by London officials that 4,000 "knights of the grip" alone will gather at the place to be decided later.

There are more than 1,000 commercial travelers in London and already a promising number have evinced a desire to aid in the undertaking. Travelers of other cities and towns in this part of the province will be asked to co-operate, and as it has been proven many times before that the travelers are the most willing and tireless of workers, whether it be a picnic or a welfare campaign, there is no doubt that the 1923 picnic will prove a successful undertaking.

Consider Location.
It is quite likely that Port Stanley will again be chosen for the picnic as it has all the facilities for handling large crowds, although Spring-bank will be considered.

The following have been appointed a nominating committee to choose the various picnic committees and attend to preliminary details: W. E.
Thorpe, C. R. Dromgole, H. E. Hoop, D. O. Hannah, F. E. Harley, A. E.
Coley and J. H. Laughton.

The same committee was delegated to collaborate with the Old Boys' Association and offer the assistance of the travelers for Old Boys' Week, and also to interview the Western Fair board with the object of investigating the chances of having a travelers' day at the fair.

It is planned to inaugurate a special course at Western University for commercial travelers, and Prof.
E. H. Morrow of the university staff addressed the meeting and explained the object of the course and the subjects to be taken up. Marketing analysis, sales budgeting, general marketing and salesmanship are some of the topics to be taught.

Will Join Class.
Already many travelers have inquired about the course and declared their intention of joining. The fee will be $10 and the meetings will be held at the University of Ontario Commercial Travelers' Association.

A vote of thanks was tendered Prof.
Morrow and the Western University staff for their efforts in furthering educational facilities for traveling men.

Edwin Smith spoke as a representative of the London Old Boys' Association and told of the work that has been accomplished to date.

Among those present at the meeting were: A. E. Coley, George F.
Hair, F. E. Harley, D. S. McGowan, A. M. Smith, W. E. Watson, E. J.
Ryan, Charles Legg, W. E. Thorpe, C.
R. Dromgole, James McKendall, S.
Masey, W. A. Clark, Edwin Smith,
F. A. Hart, D. J. Tallant, K. S.
Charters, J. H. Laughton, James Jenkins, S. G. Byrne, O. H. Gidley, W.
D. Quigley, E. N. Hannah, F. W. St.
Lawrence and G. N. Adams.

CITY LIBERALS PREPARE FOR COMING STRUGGLE
Plans Being Carried Out For Perfecting Organization For Fight.

Those who imagine that the local Liberals have retired gracefully from the arena will receive a rude awakening one of these fine mornings.
Quietly but effectively—with no fanfare of trumpets or "roll of kettledrums"—the followers of Wellington Hay are perfecting their organization. As a matter of fact, the executive members of the London Liberal Association convene in special session early this week—today or tomorrow—when the situation will be reviewed generally, and the date for the party convention tentatively set.
Organizing meetings have been in progress throughout the various wards during the past few days, and the workers continue to report increasing enthusiasm—enthusiasm such as has not been manifested for many years in this city.

There is no pep lacking, and volunteers for active service are enrolling at every session. A general survey of the subdivisions reveals the feeling that it is time for a change of administration at Queen's Park, and furthermore, that the swing ball will net a Liberal victory.

The continued chaotic situation over at Conservative headquarters constitutes sharply with the optimistic demeanor of the Liberal chiefs at Hyman Hall, who have in view at least four likely possibilities for the nominating rally.

Urges District Oddfellows To Imitate Life of Christ

Rev. W. Cox Addresses Lodge Members On 104th Anniversary of Founding of World's Largest Fraternal Organization.

If the original intention of the founders of Oddfellowship was to make all good fellows Oddfellows, then Sunday saw the exemplification of their theory. Sunday was Odd-fellows' day in London—it was the 104th anniversary of the order and in the church parade and the service at St. Paul's Cathedral the members of the largest fraternal order in the world worthily commemorated the foundation of their fellowship.

The parade formed on Carling street at 3:30, facing east, and led by the three cantons of St. Thomas, Stratford and London No. 1, and accompanied by the band of the Salvation Army, moved off in brisk style in the bright sunshine. On York street the parade halted and William Skinner, the oldest Oddfellow in London, was presented with a bouquet of flowers as a token of the esteem in which his fellow members held him. The presentation was made by Brothers L. W. Crawford, Col. Kirkpatrick, Lewis Clarke and R. Wona-cott. Brother Skinner, standing straight and erect in front of his house, bearing easily his 95 years of life and supported by his daughter, Mrs. Noble, received the flower-bearers with dignity.

The band of the Salvation Army played "Auld Lang Syne" and which nothing could have been more appropriate or more in keeping with every tradition of the Order. It was a most impressive little ceremony, graced by the soft light of the setting sun as it shone on the group standing before the door, on the blood-red roses and the stately old gentleman holding them.

Further on as it turned down Queens avenue the parade again took the opportunity of showing appreciation for one of its outstanding members, Dr. C. T. Campbell, who died here last year and who was the Past Grand Sire of the Order.

Resolves Passed.
Mrs. Campbell, his widow, was presented by Harry Clements, chairman of the anniversary committee, with a beautiful spray of roses, and Rev.
Walter Cox, P.G.M. of Ontario, and W. G. R. Bartram, Deputy Grand Sire, accompanied Mr. Clements in conveying the sympathy and affection of the Order to Mrs. Campbell.

Once more the band met the situation with an appropriate melody, and as "Auld Lang Syne" rose in the quiet air, it formed a benediction on the parade, and on the white haired lady with her bright flowers that would soon fade, and her loving memory that would always remain.

On Clarence street the procession was joined by the Rebekah lodges of the city under the leadership of Deputy President, F. C. Parsons, and the whole proceeded to St. Paul's Cathedral.

Here the Oddfellows entered the church, following the ladies of the Rebekah Lodges who had gone before under the arch of raised voices of the cantons. Following the service parade dismissed on Richmond street, and the visiting cantons became the guests of London Canton No. 1 in the lodge rooms in the Alma house. The supper was served, and the formality of the parade gave way to the less constraining friendship of the table and the post prandial cigar.

The parade was led in the march through the streets by Brother Bennet, the standard-bearer, followed immediately by Colonel Kirkpatrick, Adjutant Hickman, Q. M. S. Garford, Colonel J. Goodburn, and Major Pawley, all officers of the Patriarchs Militant of the Department of Ontario.

EVANGELIST APPEALS FOR MORE TOLERANCE

Individuality in religion was the theme of a stirring sermon preached yesterday morning by Rev. Joseph Hanley, evangelist, of Chicago, who, with his co-worker, F. Fisher, is conducting a series of revival services at Ridout Street Methodist Church.

"I believe that God deals with us individually," he said. "And I believe with all my heart that everyone finds God in a different way."

"Ever since the time of Wesley I think that we Methodists have been making a big mistake for we have been too apt to think that there is but one narrow pathway to heaven.
We impress upon our children that to be saved they must accept implicitly the things we teach them."

"I do not believe that such is the case. Religion grows upon us. It is rarely the result of a sudden revulsion."

"We know religion as the outcome of our experiences and few of our experiences are alike. The religion of one man might not suit the needs of another."

"Many of us have been too inclined to expect conversion to resemble the experiences of St. Paul. Some people have had great visions, but the most of us have not been favored in that way. I personally, have never been on the mountain-tops."

"But down in the valley there is much work to do. I thank God that I am walking there, for I find so many who are walking the same way."

Mr. Hanley said he believed also that Heaven was a place of individuals.

"So often it is pictured as a place where everyone sits on the bank of a stream, strumming all day long on a harp," he declared, "but that is not my idea of heaven. I like to think of it as a place where everyone will be able to do the things they have always wanted to do; where they will be able to work and live and accomplish things like God himself, unhindered by earthly flesh."

Mr. Fisher sang a solo and led singing, while special music was rendered by a large choir.

At the afternoon Mr. Hanley preached to men and women only and conducted services again at night.
The church was well filled both in the morning and evening.

high speed when they crashed. Fire broke out immediately in the wreck-
