

KATE SANBORN'S IDEA

AND IT IS NOT WRITTEN TO ENJOY THE LORDS OF CREATION.

The Month—What is it? What Comes Out of it and How to Use it—Characteristic Treatment of a somewhat Neglected Subject—How to Laugh.

(Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.)

Yes, and this is not written for men's edification either, which reminds me of a friend of mine who found great delight in the society of a handsome Jewess with big flashing eyes and pronounced features. "There is only one fault, I can't get over her nose," said the fastidious bachelor. And a witty woman suggested, "I suppose you would rather get under it!"

A woman's mouth has seldom the thought and care it deserves to make it as irresistible as it ought to be and might be. Every woman should have a kissable mouth; but, dear me! I pity many a man when I look at his wife's mouth, and who could blame him for wondering just a little? In the real country, where the people are poor, a dentist is the very last resort, and then he is usually applied to for a "set of uppers." Such a yawning cavern, with black stumps here and there! All the back teeth are in front, or, as a woman said the other day when I offered her some candy from the best store in Boston: "I thank you; but, law sakes, I can't do nothing with that. Why, I hain't got but one upper tooth!" Young girls devour cheap, highly colored candies, sour lemon drops, the pungent checkerberry lozenge, use teeth for nut crackers, to bite off thread, careless about the use of the toothbrush, and let their teeth go till the decayed remnants have to go all at once, and they "gum it" for three months, then fill their mouths with cheap substitutes, destroying all beauty of outline and sadly changing the expression. And even among the rich in city life one notices under teeth that are repulsive from positive need of cleaning.

Lips may be rosy by nature, but "teeth like pearls" very seldom. Frothingham said of teeth that they were "carious, precarious and vicarious!" I recollect also an old, old conundrum:
"Why are teeth like verbs?" "Because they are regular, irregular and defective."

Dare I allude to the bad breath so frequently caused by bad teeth and a worse digestion? I was introduced lately to a noted woman I had longed to meet and sat down by her side on a small lounge for a prolonged chat. But, phew! O-o-o-ah! I turned my head this way and that and soon made an excuse to leave her. She looked well, dressed well, talked well, but, as my latest hired man says when he does not know what else to say, "Jus-das Priest!" I think such a trial would be reasonable cause for breaking an engagement on either side. Every girl and woman should keep on her dressing table or in a medicine cupboard conveniently near some hairbrush but effectively disinfectant, as listerine, Dobell's solution, charcoal tablets, a little tincture of myrrh for the gums, orris root cut in dainty bits or chlorate of potash troches. Rinsing the mouth and gargling the throat often prevent disease and ward off contagion.

But the mouth itself! Hazlitt once said that "little traits tell large tales," and the movements of a mouth, or the first words from it, often charm or prejudice beyond all change. One very common fault is that of covering the mouth with the hand when laughing heartily. Why, we must let the mouth alone, only endeavoring to improve its outline by pleasant expression, frequent smiles and wiping the lines at corners up instead of down.

I notice some young ladies who constantly bite their lips and moisten them with tongue when talking with their admirers. Holmes described his land-lady's daughter as moistening her lips and saying yes with a rising inflection.
Protruding the tongue is worst of all.
Working the mouth when writing, and cutting and pulling at under lip when reading, are other bad habits. Beware the lips rightly in speaking, reading or singing. Pronouncing a few difficult words as distinctly as possible will prove how feeble and flabby your mouth is. Continued practice will give good enunciation.

An old lady strolling along the beach saw a boy tinkering some boats and asked what he was doing. "I am copper bottoming 'em, mum." Try "The sea beneath and dismisseth us with its oiling" or say "Good blood, bad blood" quickly several times. Singers and elocutionists practice before a mirror, a good idea for all. It is a rare art to smile in a sunny, natural way.
The merry looking actress and danseuse practice diligently to look happy. A musical laugh bubbling out of a captivating mouth is rarer yet. A friendly critic once said to me after a brilliant dinner party, "Why, Kate, you laugh like a Choctaw savage." A snuffling giggle or repeated yes is still more dreadful. If we can lift the mean between the loud laugh that speaks the vacant mind and the hysterical "te-he-hee," we shall be fortunate.

And what comes out of our mouths?
Sharp sarcastic speeches, malicious slanders, cruel personal criticism, shallow nothings, weak whispering over the invisible, rude words to our own Oh, I hope not!

Women are severe on each other. I heard a woman lately say, "I never go into a social group of women that I do not get a mental nausea owing to their spiteful, treacherous gossip." The old fable of the two women—one of which dropped pearls, and from the other crawled slimy venomous snakes—instill truth. These snakes surely return to bite the lips that sent them forth. One more hint. When going from a warm room to a cold one or outdoors, inhale a full breath and then for a few seconds keep your mouth shut! KATE SANBORN.

MARINES FOR ESQUIMALT.

MONTREAL, March 22.—The Royal Marine artillerymen en route from Plymouth to Esquimalt, B.C., have arrived here. The party is in charge of Major Rawston and numbers 56. At 10:30 a.m. Col. Stevenson was present to act as host and guide of the artillerymen, who were in heavy marching order. They marched up Notre Dame street. Major Rawston at their head, and beside him Col. Stevenson and Mr.
Lambkin, passenger agent of the C.P.R., at Quebec, who has charge of the party as far as North Bay. The line of march was along Notre Dame street to Place d'Armes square, then to St. James street and Victoria square. As they passed the statue of Her Majesty they brought their rifles to the shoulder. They then proceeded up Beaver Hall hill, west on Dorchester street to Dominion square, down Windsor street to the C.P.R. station. The party were drawn up along Osborne street in front of the station, while Major Rawston went up to Mr. Mc-Nicoll's office to arrange transportation details. When the officer had concluded his business he and Colonel Stevenson led the men down Windsor street, along St. Antoine and down Inspecteur street to Chaboussier square, and then into the fire station, and here the artill-erymen saw a little exhibition of what firemen can do.

The marines almost filled the station.
Some were drawn up in front just inside the doors, others were placed on the stairs, and the remainder were placed in the salvage wagon and on the reels. Col.
Stevenson explained that an alarm would be rung and the horses hitched ready to start for a fire. This was done to the satisfaction of every spectator, and the artill-erymen showed their approval by thumping the floor with their rifles.

The firemen came down the brass poles just as they do when in a hurry, and several of the artillerymen did the same. Col.
Stevenson showed Mrs. Rawston, who had accompanied her husband, about the station and the fire apparatus was examined with interest and evident approval. The visitors then marched back to the drill hall, where they spent a few minutes looking over the headquarters of the militia. From thence they went down to the Dalhousie square station, where dinner was awaiting them on the cars. At 4:50 p.m. they left for the West on the Winnipeg train.

TO BE SHOT AT SIGHT.

(Copyright by the United Press, 1894.) RIO DE JANEIRO, March 17, via Montevideo, March 22.—President Peixoto has revived the Imperial decrees of 1838 and 1861. These decrees authorize the execution, without formal trial, of all persons who have taken up arms against the government, as well as those who have aided or sheltered, directly or indirectly, the cause of the insurgents. The persons coming within the scope of the decrees in question are not necessarily Brazilians. All foreigners who in any way supported or co-operated with the insurgents are liable equally with the natives to the treatment contemplated by the decrees.
To what extent the power of execution without trial is to be carried is not yet known. In view of the present number of State prisoners, the possibilities are tremendous. The Montevideo division of President Peixoto's fleet has been ordered to Rio Grande do Sul, so as to convey from Matto Grosso the reinforcements needed by Governor Cadell.

FRISCO'S SALMON FLEET.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The salmon fleet is being got ready and some of the vessels will sail to-morrow. All the vessels turning out for Alaska are surrounded by an eager crowd of unemployed anxious to get a chance to ship as fishermen or cannery men. Enough men to supply every cannery on the Columbia river and Alaska with a complement have offered to go at Chinese wages, but the agents will not accept them.
Their reason is that they must have experienced men, and the Chinese they employ are all expert cannery men while the unemployed who want to ship know nothing about the business. The Mercom, which was to have sailed this morning, but did not get away because all her stores were not in, has over 250 Chinese on board. They will take a similar number in addition, and probably 1500 Chinese in all will go to the canneries this year.

LONDON, March 21.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayres says: It is reported that Admiral Mello captured off Paraguary a vessel loaded with arms for President Peixoto.
The Paraguayan Government is sending Senor Fajal, formerly a close friend of Admiral Mello, to Europe as a diplomatic agent.

more to calve this spring), 1 pedigree Hereford Bull (rising 3 years).

7 Mares (in foal to a good stallion), 1 Horse, Pigs, Chickens, etc.

Ploughs, Harrows, Reapers, Farming Mill, Wagon, Sleds and usual Farm Implements.

Double Harness, Chain Harness, Bull Chains, Saddles (ladies' and gent's), Bridles, etc.

above; Stone Root-house, Store Buildings, Dairy, Cow Sheds, etc., etc.)

wire and staples; about 2,500 Posts on the ground, ready for use.

Small Lot Household Furniture, Stove and Pipes, Crookery, etc., etc.

This Property is within easy distance of many of the most important Gold, Silver and Coal Mines in West Kootenay. The population of this district will increase this year by at least 10,000; the area of farm land is very limited, and from this it may be fairly asserted that beef and all classes of farm produce will find a ready and lucrative market. The soil is the best bottom land, and the locality is one of the few places in the Province where so large a piece of good farm land can be found in one block. A river runs through the property, and rainbow trout are plentiful and afford capital sport. Deer abound in considerable numbers. Bear, Wolf, Coyote and other large game are to be found in the hills.
There are two creeks recorded and belonging to the estate, one flows all the year round. Limestone and brick clay are to be had in the valley.

The Cattle are well bred; a much larger herd could be farmed with this place. The bunch grass on the hills in the vicinity covers many thousands of acres, and is available to the few land owners in the valley.
All buildings and fences about the farm are a good order, and farming operations can be gone on with at once; about 180 acres of ploughing have been, so far, provided for this year's work.

The Climate is not severe, the land being about 1,100 feet above sea level; the station was for many years the winter quarters of the H. B. Co.'s pack trains. There is a weekly express in and out. Goods and supplies at wholesale can be procured on order and delivered in 48 hours.

The Title is by grant from the Crown, and is free of all encumbrances.
Immediate possession can be given.

Important Railway works are now in progress within moderate distance, and two railway lines have been run to pass close to or through the estate, which can be reached in the spring in three days' journey from Victoria.

The South West Kootenay District, British Columbia, judging from the actual ore products of the mines this winter, is destined in the next year or two to become one of the richest and most important mineral centres in the world. Statistics show, that although the district is in its primary stage, the mines have developed ore veins rich enough to warrant the investment of over million dollars. When these mines come to be worked systematically, there will be an

Influx of Population, which will require beef and farm produce in large quantities. The limited quantity of really good farm land in the district to supply these requirements makes this

LONDON, March 26.—The recent utterances of Chancellor which are assumed to indicate peror William is endeavoring to a reduction of the military ex-source that the Emperor Wil-

The correspondent further asis one of peace, is quite ready to

NEWFOUNDLAND'S SEAL

St. John's, Nfld., March 26.—The steamer Hope, which arrived here Saturday, reports that the catch remainder of the fleet are poor. The steamers are reported to be on the grounds, but none with paying fare steamers have not been heard from prospects for the seal fishery for discouraging. While there is a possible improvement in the season it is not thought likely to be though the steamers have been un-in this venture the people living Northern Coast are reaping a bounty of seals. The steamers were side, but the inhabitants on the Coast walked out on the ice and sands of seals. Such good fortune been experienced in forty years. fisheries on the whole are likely to below the average, but it is hoped to will be better than last year, which was a year on record.

The ice was broken on shore on Sand a large number of men and boats engaged capturing seals thereon. A change of wind took the ice to shore. Steamers have gone to their dead. Even if these people be rescued sufferings will be great.

KAILUAN'S GUARDIAN

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Theop-Davies, guardian of Princess Kaiu-one of the chief representatives of the Hawaii, reached Washington last and spent the greater part of to-day to gain an audience with Secretary G-who was so busy that he was ob-excuse himself. Mr. Davies says he to find out what the U. S. propose about Hawaii, and incidentally to few words in behalf of the Queen and the Provisional Government. He reign of terror exists in Hawaii, not even a small proportion of the favor annexation to the United States places no faith in the idea that the visional Government intends to estab-permanent Republican form of Govern-as that would give the citizens a voice would result in overturning all the tion associations. He thinks the Pro-Government is at the mercy of its aliens and spies, while the people country continue to have faith in United States will yet give them and that the Queen will yet be restored to the throne. Mr. Davies expects to here several days.

the Roma newspaper gives to-day count of a recent interview with K-The old man said he was convinced the day was rapidly approaching when of monarchies would pass away we have corruption and intrigue, which results a constant and ignoble

The troops which were stationed streets to preserve order have been drawn. The city is orderly and the have resumed their performance. anxiety is felt as to the behavior crowd on the day of Kossuth's funeral

TORONTO TOPICS.

Toronto, March 26.—(Special.) Toronto post office authorities have rethe Congressional records addressed ago. Although the U. S. frank recognized on this side of the border authorities decided, as an act of oc-tion, to let the records pass.

There is considerable uneasiness wholesale liquor men over tariff and can be reduced, and the difference by a return on liquor.
