ENTERTAINMENT AND XMAS TREE

St. Andrew's S. S. Pulpit, Spent a Pleasant Evening—Santa Claus Visit.

The entertainment given for the children in the Primary Department of St. Andrew's Sunday School, on Friday, Dec. 29, proved a great success and was enjoyed by all present. Notwithstanding some of the children who were to take part in the program were unable to be present owing to illness. The decorations were all that could be desired and the Xmas tree was a thing of beauty. It was an event which will no doubt live in the minds of the children for many coming seasons. The program was as follows:

"We are Little Sunbeams"—Sung by the School.

"Joy"—By Mrs. Gentry.

"Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star"—Sung by twenty boys and girls.

"Can a Little Child Like Me"—Sung by the School.

"Look for Something Sweet To Do"—By Evelyn Gentry and Bernice Jamieson.

"Recreation"—By Doris Dugany.

"Hymn—By Beginner's Class, 'Jesus Bids Us Shout'."

"Benediction—'Joy to the World'—By four girls and five boys.

"Recreation"—By Evelyn Gentry.

"Solo—'Christmas Bells'—By Jean McKenna, John Dickie and Alice Mann.

"Glean Ye Now the Fruit of the Tree"—By Beginner's and Primary Class.

"Presentation for Best Attendance—Miss MacPherson's Class to Allan Miller and David Gerrard."

"Away in a Manger"—Sung by the School.

"Solo—'Santa Claus is Coming'—By Jean McKenna.

At the close of this solo much to the surprise of the children Santa Claus descended the platform and addressed them in booming words of his pleasure at being able to be present so early in the season to present to them the gifts which he had brought with him. After which refreshments were served to all present.

In a few words the Superintendent thanked all the children who so willingly helped to make the entertainment a success and all the parents who so kindly donated to refreshments and also to those who liberally gave toward expenses.

Hymn N. 790 was then sung as a tribute to the memory of Joyce Giller, who was a scholar in that department, and the entertainment closed with the National Anthem.

OBITUARY

Miss Catherine McNair.
The death of Miss Catherine McNair took place at the S. M. Hospital on Friday evening, Dec. 29th. Miss McNair had been in failing health for some time and two weeks previous to her death was removed to the hospital where all that loving care and tender nursing could accomplish was done for her. Deceased was seventy-one years of age and was a daughter of the late Alexander MacNair of New Mills. One brother, Mr. A. A. MacNair of New Mills survives her. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of A. A. MacNair and was largely attended by friends from Jacques River, Charlo and New Mills. Rev. Mr. McLennan conducted the services at the house and grave. His beautiful and touching address will not soon be forgotten by those who had the privilege of hearing it. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Harold McNair, Ernest McNair and Alex. Turvey of Jacques River and Edwin McMillan, Alexander McNair and Gordon McNair of New Mills. Interment was made in the New Mills Cemetery.

Much sympathy is extended to the family in their sad bereavement.

All the Differences

The policeman was giving evidence and was being strictly cross-examined by the magistrate.

"Now, be careful," said his interlocutor—"What was the prisoner doing?"

"I was lying a very heated argument with a taxi-driver, yer worship."

"But that doesn't prove that he was drunk," said his interlocutor.

"No," replied the policeman, smiling reminiscently, "but there 'was' a taxi-driver there!"

SERIOUS FIRE IN BATHURST

Combined Loss of $75,000 in Blaze of Last Saturday Morning

In one of the most disastrous fires experienced in Bathurst for a considerable time three stores and their contents were completely destroyed early Saturday morning last, as the result of a blaze which originated in the shops of Messrs. J. Palmer, liquor vendors. The combined loss approximates $75,000.

The fire broke out shortly after midnight and when first discovered had completely consumed the front part of the large wooden Palmer building. As a brisk westerly wind was blowing the blaze made rapid progress and soon spread to the two adjoining stores: that of J. E. Whalen Co. Ltd. on the east side and Cameron & Co. on the west. The hardware store of Hugh Kent and McLean's Pharmacy which was located in that immediate vicinity were also slightly damaged but the splendid work of the department kept the flames from spreading beyond the three doomed buildings.

Palmer's loss is placed at $10,000, on which he had about $6,000 insurance. The Whalen Company lost $20,000. The Cameron Company lost $25,000 worth of stock and $5,000 building with a total insurance of $17,000, while Cameron and Co. suffered $25,000 loss in stock and $4,000 building with a total insurance of $18,000.

In an interview with Mr. W. R. Stevens who lately acquired the business of M. E. Moore here and who is joint partner of Cameron and Co., the Graphic learned that the loss sustained by that firm was somewhat heavier than first estimated. For the last two weeks previous to the fire large quantities of woolen, foot-wear, and other commodities had been arriving in daily shipments to meet the winter trade and the insurance on the stock had not been increased accordingly. Their loss in the recent blaze will also be heavier felt by the concern on the whole than if the stock had been cleared out before the disaster.

MOTHER AND FOUR CHILDREN POISONED

Mother and Four Young Children Are Victims of Gas in Syracuse.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 30.—A mother and her four little children were found dead at their home, 350 Reed avenue, by her husband at 2 o'clock this morning. Death was caused by gas poisoning. The victims were: Mrs. Katherine B. Simone, 33; Mary, 11; John, 8; William, 4 and Robert, 2.

Simone, completely unbalanced by her discovery, was taken to the psychopathic hospital.

First news of the tragedy was received at police headquarters at two o'clock when Lieut. Naumann got a telephone call from a woman in Reed avenue, who said she had been awakened by the "raving" of a man in a house on the opposite side of the street. Lieutenant Naumann had scarcely hung up when another call came.

"I found all my family lying on the floor," sobbed a man. "I guess they're all dead. For God's sake send help."

When detectives reached the house they found Simone insane with grief, being held in the front room by a neighbor. Officers bursting into the kitchen found Mrs. Simone prostrate on the floor and near her the body of four-year old William, partly dressed. Doors were thrown open as the fumes of the deadly gas were still present to some extent.

Adjoining the kitchen in a bedroom the bodies of the three other children were found stretched on the bed. Mary, the oldest of the children was fully dressed and even had her hat on when she had been overcome.

A gas water heater and two jets of the gas range in the kitchen were still burning and on the stove was a percolator of coffee and a plate of toast, indicating the family had been preparing a meal when they were overcome.

Coroner Crane said it was his opinion death had been caused by monoxide gas poisoning but would not state an opinion as to how long the family had been dead. The mother and the boy in the kitchen had died after the children in the bedroom, the coroner said.

From the position of the bodies it appeared the victims in the kitchen were the last to realize the presence of the gas, which must have acted with deadly suddenness. Apparently Mrs. Simone had made her last effort to get to a window, but was unable to reach it in time to break it.

DUDEE

This place was adduced to learn of the death of Mr. Abel Beckingham at the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Campbellton, Dec. 22nd in the twenty-fifth year of his age, following an illness of but a day or two as a result of injury sustained from a split of wood which flew from a saw at a rotary which he was operating in Hick's Co. mill, Dalhousie Junction. His cheerful and thoughtful nature drew to him many friends. He served overseas in the great war for three years and won honors there.

The funeral service was held on Sunday Dec. 24th at his home in Dundee. It was very largely attended and conducted by the Rev. E. J. Shaw. He leaves a young widow, his father, mother, two brothers, and one sister, to mourn their loss.

The pall-bearers were: Duncan MacDonald, Charles Beckingham, Wesley Hamilton, Robert McConnell, Lawrence Burs and Earle Atkinson.

Some scientists aver that the moon broke away from that part of the earth now covered by the Pacific Ocean. They infer this from the fact that the location of extinct volcanoes on the moon shows a certain similarity to volcanic islands in the Pacific. A comparison of lunar photographs with maps of Pacific islands taken from balloons is quite remarkable. It is said. "Anyway, the moon is a peaceful country, not having war lords or other people."

NOTE AND COMMENT

Customers are changing. A sniff no longer means contempt, but only hope and expectant curiosity.

A society editor says that showers for the bride are simply a delicate allusion to the fact that she will reign.

A new variety of fruit, combining the luscious taste of the orange with the tang of the almond has been produced by Dr. Juan Balme, "the Luther Burbank of Mexico."

Life will never be comfortable for the pedestrian who crosses the street. From the rush hour until he invents some sort of disguise that makes him look like a tack.

A man who was supposed to have committed suicide at Monte Carlo, by shooting himself with a revolver had before doing the fatal deed, written a will on his shirt front.

DENY BIG DRUG PLOT IN N.B.

Carleton Co. Physicians Place Little Cadence in Maine Evidence.

That there has been wholesale smuggling of narcotic drugs from Carleton county into Maine is denied by physicians and others in that section of the province. Recently in Portland, Maine, a United States government official, and Ralph A. Fry, United States government narcotic agent, were placed on trial on charges of conspiring to defraud the government. Fry took the stand in his own behalf, and during the cross-examination the official report of a raid at Mars Hill, Me., a border town, and the arrest of a Carleton county physician and a Mars Hill doctor was submitted in evidence. Fry alleged that one of the physicians arrested on the border was the ring leader of a big drug smuggling system, and that half a dozen others were engaged in the illegal traffic.

Fry's report named Canadian druggists and jobbers as being also involved of funds used to obtain evidence against the alleged smugglers. The case is unfinished.

XMAS TREE IN FLATLANDS

Most Enjoyable Concert And Xmas Tree in Orange Hall.

On Wednesday, Dec. 27th, a community Xmas tree was held at Orange Hall. The interest of the Rev. C. Lawrence of Hampton, N. B., a box of gifts and candy was provided for upwards of one hundred children. A programme was carried out consisting of carols and recitations and through the kindness of M. Havelock Sanson of Campbellton, the addition of some beautiful Christmas lantern slides insured the success of the entertainment.

After the singing of "Peaceful Night", excitement reached its climax when Santa Claus' bells were heard. With a bound that jolly personage was on the platform, welcoming everyone in the most cordial manner. He was formally welcomed by Mr. Stevenson, and then proceeded down through the audience with Christmas wishes and handshakes. Returning to the platform he began the distribution of gifts. His gesticulations and merry remarks made him the centre of all interest and he was pronounced by old and young to be the "best Santa Claus ever." By the time the last gift was distributed, refreshments were being served.

The evening closed with the National Anthem and three cheers for Santa Claus, who was impersonated by the ever ready helper and much loved friend Mr. Havelock Sanson.
