Ten thousand people attended Parnell's meeting at Wexford. There was a great display of floral offerings. The St. James Gazette under the open market yesterday cleared its gold supplies for shipment to Americo.

Ald. Baxter said that if the matter were referred back it meant simply that the route was not to be constructed this all As for Mr. Clarke Gamble, he had seen that gentleman, who had told him that he would not give a foot of land. Ald. 11 vins replied. Ald. Clarke, while thinking it very unfortunate that Caer Howell street was so narrow, did not think the convenience of a whole district should be ontweighed by the convenience of five or six people. As to the danger of an obstruction on the road, the cars would not be running all day, and the whole obstruction would not amount to the whole obstruction would not amount to more than half an hour a day. The only alternative they had was a line along Mc-Caul street, a street only nine feet wider than Caer Howell and very much longer. Ald. Evans spoke in support of the re-port. The only thing that would cause him to change his mind would be the certainty that Renfrew street was going to be opened up. Ald. Crocker was in favor of referring the report back. He, too, had observed the extreme narrowness of the street. Afterwards on hearing from Ald. Baxter that there was no hope of Renfrew street being opened up he announced his inten-tion of voting for the report.
