Lightning Burns Barn

Edward Currie's fine new bank barn on the Longwoods road, Mosa, about a mile west of Strathroy, was struck by lightning on Thursday evening of last week and burned. A favorable wind enabled the saving of Mr. Currie's house and his other barn a short distance away. Mr. Currie saw the fire break out, but had time only to save his horses and a buggy. The contents of the burned building, excepting these, were all destroyed. They included 24 loads of grain, 20 loads of hay, harness and weigh scales.

The barn was insured in the Elfrid Mutual for $900, and contents for $300. The cement foundation and basement are almost intact and can be used in rebuilding.

Mr. Currie's barn had just been completed and was built to replace one demolished by the wind storm on Good Friday. The roof was of metal and was thought to be proof against lightning, but the destructive element appears to have entered at the gable and buried itself in the unthreshed grain, which was housed when quite dry and thus all the more inflammable.

White-Smith

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Smith, English St., Strathroy, on Tuesday, September 2nd, at 2.30 p.m., when their second daughter, Gertrude Freida, became the bride of Hughie White, of Barrie. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. N. Hazen, of London. To the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, sweetly rendered by Lefa Smith, sister of the bride, the bridal party took their place in the drawing room, which was prettily decorated for the occasion, with cut flowers and ferns. The bride looked charming in a travelling suit of royal cavendish velvet and lace waist trimmed with lace and sequin. After the ceremony and usual congratulations, the party took their place in the dining-room, where a dainty dinner was served. The bride and groom were the recipients of numerous gifts showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. After a short visit, Mr. and Mrs. White will leave for their future home, Barrie, where Mr. White is engaged in the butcher business, accompanied by the best wishes of their many friends.

Toronto.
Toronto, Sept. 9.—Receipts were 178 cars on the Union Stockyards, with 3,606 cattle, 336 calves, 1,073 hogs, 1,395 sheep and lambs and 22 horses.

There was a good active market at the Union stockyards to-day. A large run of cattle were offering, but receipts of lambs, hogs and calves were light. There was a good demand for cattle, both butcher and export. Montreal buyers were in the market for heavy butcher cattle.

Distillery cattle are also in good demand, good heavy feeders being quoted from $5.40 to $6. Choice stockers wanted for both home and export trade. Prices were firm at last week's business quotations and in some cases from 10c to 20c higher. Lambs were a little firmer and calves very firm, with a light run.

Hogs were quoted steady to firm at last week's business figures. Fed and watered brought $10, f. o. b. at $9.65 and off cars at $10.25.

J. WHITE

WATFORD'S SHOE PARLOR

Who says Farming does not pay? Fred Bolton, of Rannoch, brought to town the other day, a load of hogs sold to Mr. Joseph White, and received in payment a cheque for $700. We would like to know what was the margin of profit Mr. Bolton made on his hogs. He grew the food that fed them. His own team brought them to market. It was a money-making deal from start to finish. —St. Mary's Journal.

Not all stories of agricultural wonders come from the West. Here is one from the Canard. A market gardener who drove his own vegetable wagon into Amherstburg every day, was hailed by a housekeeper on his route. "See here," the woman demanded, "how does it happen that in that basket of potatoes I bought from you yesterday the ones at the bottom were so much smaller than those at the top?" "Well, ma'm," the man replied, "you see, the taters grew so fast since that wet spell that by the time I get a basket dug them I dig last is twice as big as those first outen the ground."
