

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

It is now Britain's duty to strain every nerve to crush this frightful portent of militarism, as by her naval power she crushed the evil genius of Napoleon a century ago.

The New York National Housewives' League has sent to all its members throughout the United States an appeal urging that every family live as simply as possible while the war in Europe is in progress. "Extravagant living at this time," the appeal asserts, "will inflate prices and cause great suffering among the poor."

"No nation ever entered into a great contest with a cleaner conscience or a stronger conviction. It is striking for the defence of a principle, the maintenance of which is vital to the civilization of the world. As we have entered the struggle, let us now make sure that all of our resources, not only those of the United Kingdom, but those of the vast empire of which it is the centre, are thrown into the scale."—Premier Asquith.

world. People can learn how to handle gasoline and gunpowder safely, how to climb scaffolding and cross railroad tracks, and do other things safely. This is the merit of the "Safety First" movement. It is a teaching campaign. It should accomplish something. Parents and teachers ought to re-inforce its lessons. The laws of gravity are a reality in this world of ours, which all the children should learn at their earliest opportunity.

A circular has just been issued by the Department of Immigration declaring its intention henceforth not only to warn all but agricultural laborers and domestics against coming to the Dominion, but also to reject them if they fall under any of the restrictive clauses of the immigration regulations. The fact that a man comes under the category has a promise of employment, will not save him from rejection as formerly. In such a case the department takes the view that if he secures such a position he does so by taking a job which might otherwise have been filled by one of Canada's unemployed, among whom every trade and occupation is already represented. The department is becoming alarmed at the applications for deportation which it is daily receiving from points where the unemployed are plentiful.

The Philosophy of Janey Canuck

THE BOOKMAN of London, England, has in its August number placed Mrs. Arthur Murphy of Edmontson in its "Gallery" and has given three pages to discuss her philosophy which it describes as having "literally sung its way through the Dominions." "Her work," says The Bookman "has the optimism of the true lyric; the song of the open road. The refrain of the windswept spaces was never set to a better tune.....It is not style that matters in the work of 'Janey Canuck' any more than it matters in the work of Walt Whitman a kindred philosopher. She comes scattering seeds of gladness in our mist, and lol our gloom is gone like a black cloud that breaks before the April sun. She is the philosopher of gladness and content and common sense, a philosophy as durable as Bergonism. The whole thing is a garland of gladness sparkling with the dew of a clean, fresh philosophy—a crown of rest for the tired brows. What patron saint, we wonder, bends over 'Janey Canuck' when she is weaving her bright fancies.....of all 'Janey Canuck's' books, command me to OPEN TRAILS. It is a rubric a book that makes you want to go and bury your face in the cool brooks, to hear blackbirds and robins piping against the clear skies; to be the brother to the wind, the lover of the stars; to breathe the freedom of the sun-washed spaces and to follow the trail through the fragrant pinewoods and 'winding mossy ways.' It is as refreshing as a bunch of spring flowers.....What then is the charm of 'Janey Canuck' that has set all the critics raving on the other side of the Atlantic and has taken us captive? We cannot analyse it any more than could Emerson analyse the charm of the Rhodora of the woods. When you hear the thrush singing his song in the green trees you do not ask what makes it sing; you are content to listen. So is it with the author of OPEN TRAILS."

AGASSIZ AND A HERRING.

And a Student Who Finally Succeeded In Making a Discovery.

A student enrolled in Agassiz's class. For several days Agassiz paid no attention to him whatever. At length, tired of standing around idle, the student asked Agassiz to give him something to do. Agassiz's reply was to hand him a herring and to say, "Study this." The student was bewildered, but set about "studying" it. The next day Agassiz asked him what he had learned about the herring. The student replied that it had two eyes, so many fins and such and such markings.

The hall in the Rijks museum, in Amsterdam, which contains Rembrandt's "The Night Watch," painted in 1642, was specially built to hold the picture. The lighting might be as perfect as possible. The picture is always lighted, the hall always dark. Originally the picture was arranged badly as to light and space. When, in 1715, it was transferred from the Doelen to the town hall it was made to fit into its new position by having strips cut off the canvas on either side and off the top, which destroyed the balance.

Had to Be.

Little five-year-old Bessie was telling about some medicine she had taken while ill.

"Yes," she said, "I took some compulsion of cod liver oil, and—"

"You mean emulsion, don't you, dear—not compulsion?" said the visitor.

"Well," rejoined Bessie, "there was a doctor of compulsion about it!"—Pittsburgh Press.

Unsympathetic.

"Willie," whispered Auntie in the street car, "why don't you get up and give your seat to your father? Doesn't it pain you to see him reaching for the strap?"

"Not in a car," responded the youngster, settling back comfortably in his seat—"People's Home Journal."

Laughs First.

"What makes you begin to laugh every time you see me?" asked Mr. Grover.

"I'm taking time by the forelock," replied his wife. "I know there won't be a chance in the world for me to laugh after I have talked with you for five minutes."—Washington Star.

Megalomania.

"Egotistical, isn't she?" "Yep—thinks if she borrowed some dishes of a neighbor that next day there'd be an article in the papers on the China loan."—New York Times.

Her Name.

She was round, and she was ruddy, And her cheeks were like the rose, And she weighed at least one-eighty, As the hay scale record shows. She was sound as any dollar, And no stronger girl you've met. Yet this big and robust creature Had been christened Violet. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Speaking of Settlements.

Bill—This paper says that Clayton, Mo., is about to annex nine small settlements on its borders. Jill—Well, the lady I board with is trying to do the same thing.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Woman's Plea.

Say I'm getting old and I'll try to keep from being tearful. Bravely I will try to smile. And pretend that I am cheerful. Say my hair is turning gray. Say I'm old—it's no matter—Say my youth is gone, but pray Do not say I'm getting fatter! —Chicago Record-Herald.

Shrewd Deduction.

"She must have a very clever husband." "What makes you think so?" "Her paper on Browning was so well done."—Detroit Free Press.

It was a mere coincidence that the train conveying delegates to the laundrymen's convention at Winnipeg was delayed by a washout.

Miller's Worm Powders act mildly and without injury to the child, and there can be no doubt of their deadly effect upon worms. They have been in successful use for a long time and are recognized as a leading preparation for the purpose. They have proved their power in numberless cases and have given relief to thousands of children, who, but for the good offices of this superior compound, would have continued weak and feeble.

A Scotchman, an Irishman and an Englishman were on a train. It had been a long journey, but they reached their destination at last. All three got out. The first thing the Englishman did was to look for some place to eat in. The Irishman cast about in search of a place to get something to drink. The Scotchman went back through the train to see if anybody had forgotten anything.

An oil for all Men.—The sailor, the soldier, the fisherman, the lumberman, the out-door laborer and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subdue lumbago and overcome rheumatism, it has no equal. Therefore, it should have a place in all home medicines and those taken on a journey.

"Now, boys," said the schoolmaster, "I want you to bear in mind that the word 'stan' at the end of a word means the place of. Thus we have Afghanistan—the place of the Afghans; also Hindustan—the place of the Hindus. Can anybody give another example?" Nobody appealed very anxious to do so, until little Johnny Snags, the joy of his mother and the terror of the cats, said proudly: "Yes, sir, I can. Umbrellastan—the place for umbrellas."

They Cleanse While They Cure.—The vegetable compounds of which Par-melee's Vegetable Pills are composed, mainly dandelion and mandrake, clear the stomach and intestines of deleterious matter and restore the deranged organs to healthful action. Hence they are the best remedy for indigestion available today. A trial of them will establish the truth of this assertion and do more to convince the ailing than anything that can be written of these pills.

County of Lambton Treasurer's Notice as to Lands Liable for Sale for Taxes A. D. 1914. TAKE NOTICE that the list of lands in the County of Lambton liable for sale for arrears of taxes by the Treasurer of the County has been prepared by me and that copies thereof may be had in the office of the County Treasurer.

And further take notice that the list of lands liable for sale as aforesaid is now being published in the Ontario Gazette in the issues thereof bearing date the 27th day of June A. D. 1914, and the 4th, 11th and 18th days of July A. D. 1914.

And further take notice that in default of payment of the taxes in arrear upon the lands specified in said list together with the costs chargeable thereon as set forth in the said list so being published in the Ontario Gazette before the day fixed for the sale of such lands being the 1st day of October A. D. 1914, the said lands will be sold for taxes pursuant to the terms of the advertising in the Ontario Gazette.

And further take notice that this publication is made pursuant to Assessment Act, 4 Edward VII, Chap. 23 and Amendments. Dated at Sarnia this 22nd day of June A. D. 1914. HENRY INGRAM, Treasurer of Lambton.

Newspaper Laws 1.—A postmaster is required to give notice by letter. Returning the newspaper does not answer the law, when a subscriber does not take his newspaper out of the office and state the reason for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment. 2.—If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made. 3.—Any person who takes a paper out of the post office, whether directed to his name or not, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay. 4.—If a subscriber orders his paper stopped and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses. 5.—The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the postoffice or removing, leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
