How Lance-Corp. Roy Fair Died

The following letter ament the death of Lance-Corp. Roy Fair was received by his father, Rev. H. J. Fair, of Arkona, from Corp. Stewart:—
 6963 Corp. S. Stewart,
 No. 3 Co., 1st Batt.,
 1st Brig., Canadian B.E.F.,
 France, July 1st, 1915.

Dear Sir,—It is with the greatest regret that I am writing to inform you of the death of your son Roy. He was killed in the awful fighting our battalion took part in on June 15th.

He was wounded in the arm during a charge and, like the brave lad he was, refused to go back to the dressing station, but still kept going forward. He was struck under the arm by a German hand grenade, which exploded. He died peacefully in about ten minutes, without recovering consciousness. He suffered no pain, but passed quietly away.

Although we had no time to bury him, as we had to drop back before a strong counter-attack, he was, I believe, buried by a party of another battalion later.

His death is greatly mourned by the few of his friends who are left. He was very popular with all of us and a braver or better lad never left Canada with this contingent. I hope you will accept the deepest sympathy from us all in this hour of your sad bereavement.

I am forwarding his belt to you at the first opportunity. It was always his wish that it should be sent to you if anything happened to him.

Again offering my deepest sympathy, I remain,
 Yours sincerely,
 SIDNEY STEWART.

In Defence of a Berry

(By Peter McArthur)

There is an old saying, "Give a dog a bad name, and kill him," which applies everywhere in life. No matter how good a thing may be, if you give it a bad name you may wish well to do away with it. It is all very well for Shakespeare to say that "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet," but if you called a new variety of rose "The Skunk Cabbage Rose" it would take a long while winning favor.

I am moved to make these reflections because one of the best of our tender fruits suffers from a bad name, and I wish to proclaim the fact that its bad name is due to a strange mistake. The very name gooseberry suggests something about which one could not hope to be enthusiastic in spite of the fact that gooseberry wine figures in the Vicar of Wakefield, that literary masterpiece in which everything is dainty. And the children who have not yet learned the disfavor goes with the name "goose" will reach for gooseberry tart before any other, but the name "goose" puts all grown ups on their guard. And now comes a great philologist who proves the name is a vulgar and ignorant mistake. The berry is one that should be known as the Saints-berry—and the berry of the most beloved of saints at that.

Mr. Fox Talbot gives the following remarkable account of the origin of the name "gooseberry": "Gooseberries are called in German, Johannis-beeren, that is, "John's berries," because they ripen about the feast of St. John. St. John is called in Holland, St. Jan, and the fruit is there called "Jansbeeren." Now this word has been—centuries ago—corrupted into "Gansbeeren," of which our English word Gooseberries is a literal translation; Gans in German signifying a goose.

So you see that the only thing the matter with the delicately flavored St. John's berry is that it has suffered from a touch of German Kultur and has been called out of its name. Give it its right name and saintly character and you will never be without jam from it for your tarts.

Baseball At Alvinston

Alvinston, July 27.—One of the largest and best baseball tournaments ever held in Alvinston will be held on Friday, August 6. Arrangements have been made to have games played here between the Forest, Strathroy, Rodney and Alvinston teams. Most people in this district remember the game in Watford on July 12 between Forest and Alvinston, when, after twelve innings, the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the locals. A repetition of that game is expected again. One hundred dollars is offered in prizes for the winning teams, as follows:—First prize $30, second $20, third and fourth free meals. A tug-of-war will be pulled off between the first and second games, between the farmers of Brooke Township and the men of Alvinston. The winning side gets $5, and the losers $2.50.

Fake Subscription Canvassers

The circulation crook is still at large taking advantage of a gullible public and hampering honest, upright canvassers doing business for publications of standing and integrity, and offering value not worth less premiums for subscription money. There are many good men doing circulation work, but their efforts are seriously trammelled by the few "slick" gentlemen who crop up here and there giving away fountain pens which write once and scratch ever afterwards, razors which never cut and are worthless, cheap books of no real value, and other little traps to catch the unwary. These premiums, to induce people who do not want a paper to subscribe, cost next to nothing and are worth nothing, as the new subscriber soon finds out. Generally the paper is on a par with the premium itself. Do you ever get something for nothing from a stranger in business? Stop and think! Can you expect it? Is a paper worth reading which does not sell on its own merits, but is taken because a pen or razor is used as a bribe to get the subscriber? If it is junk that is wanted get the paper with the valueless premiums.—Farmer's Advocate.

We Must, and Shall Win

London Daily Express:—The great mass of the German people still believe that triumph will be theirs, and are determined to fight on to the bitter end. We must be equally determined. They are better organized than ourselves and every bit as brave. But they have neither our numbers nor our greater resources. Nothing but Great Britain's failure to rise to her destinies can prevent Europe's speedy delivery from the brutish attempt to throw her back to complete subjection to mediaeval tyranny. We are far behind. After ten months of war we are beginning to prepare for it, but we have set our hand to the task, and we shall win.

Plympton Will Buy Machine Gun

Wyoming, July 28.—The Red Cross garden party last evening on the grounds of Mr. Joseph Bryson, Reece's Corners, London road, was a decided success from every viewpoint. It is estimated that about 600 people were in attendance. Proceeds of the evening were $216, of which $125 were gate receipts. A band of tiny flower girls sold $12 worth of bouquets. Supper, a musical program and such speakers as Messrs. F. F. Fardee and A. Johnston, of Sarria; John Farrell, Dr. J. Pickering, of Forest; John Frazier and R. Stirrett, of Petrola, made the evening one of pleasure and profit. A paper was in circulation during the evening regarding the proposed donation by Plympton Township of a machine gun. The people's gift to the empire met with ready response and approval.
