

* * The subscriber begs leave to say, that his connection with the "Morning Post" newspaper having closed, a slight alteration has taken place in the publishing of this work. All business connected with it will in future be attended to,—and all orders for printing punctually executed, by JOSEPH KIRK.

THE Publisher acknowledges with thanks, the kind reception which the first number of the Nova Scotia New Monthly Magazine has met with from the public—a reception which evinces readiness to support a deserving object, and encourages renewed exertion. At a former period, occasion was taken to state the objects of the work,—and although, from the difficulties naturally attending the commencement of a periodical, the plan has as yet not been completely developed, he states with firmness that that object is to supply

CHEAP LITERARY READING,
Of a Useful and Entertaining Character, to the Inhabitants of Nova Scotia—reading which shall be contributed, as far as possible, by PROVINCIAL WRITERS OF TASTE AND TALENT,

and on subjects which shall have a connection with the practical occupations of the people at large. The publisher respectfully solicits the assistance of ALL who approve of this object.

The work will be sent to subscribers in any part of the country, if paid for in advance,—and persons in the various parts of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick undertaking the sale of a number of copies, will be allowed liberal commissions,—and the work will be forwarded punctually to their order.
