APHORISM'S.

(ST. LOUIS GROCER.)

The man who can't laugh can't succeed,

A mistake openly acknowledged is a fault remedied.

A clear conscience and a dirty store never go together.

The way to find luck is to work for it not talk about it.

Only those who pay their bills have a right to help the poor.

Don't keep a bank account at the expense of your creditors.

Never trust the man who says he don't care to make money.

Your best friend is sometimes the dead-beat who hates you.

A small store well-handled may not pay big, but it pays sure.

The sneer of the dead-beat is a high compliment to the merchant.

If you neglect your business you will soon have no business to neglect.

A sluggish merchant and a wide-awake trade don't go well together.

Don't try to run a hundred-thousand-dollar business in a fifty-thousand-dollar town.

When you get a good thing hang to it like a nigger preacher to a striped water-melon.

When Push and Caution go into partnership Success is finally going to get into that firm.

Carefulness, experience, and $1,000 will beat carelessness, inexperience, and $10,000 any day.

Some men never learn that they are fools until they have passed the age of activity and usefulness.

Tell a dead-beat he is a scoundrel for "doing you up" for $10, and the chances are he will go into court and try to prove that you have damaged his reputation to the extent of $1,000.
