THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE.

KKKKKKKKKK Ubserver. *******

It has been stated in a local evening paper that the savage extreme of flogging is to be resorted to in connection with the recent disturbances at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, and, to the discredit of all concerned, it is stated that a sigh of relief went up from the people of the neighborhood when the announcement was made. Independently of the regreatable nature of this decision from a humane point of view, it is more than of terrorizing, or of even partially quieting, the rioters, or whether it may not operate in an opposite direction, and incite the sympathizers of the condemned men to more open and stubborn rebeltion. Rumor says that eight have been told off for the lash-(which is eight too many under the provocation given, or under any circumstances)-but, from all reports, it would seem to represent a small proportion of the so called mutincers and will represent a still smaller the prisoners are all marshalled to witness the application of the 'cat'to see their comrades stripped and striped, bruised, beaten and bled till the surgeons in waiting stop the lash, to save the life. It is admitted that the preservation of discipline is necessary to the maintenance of good order, and that both are essential to prison management, but it is not admitted that these are promoted by introducing the barbarous practice of physical torture. The poor wretches who, in this instance. are to be strung up and scourged, may conduct of over-exacting officials, while, if ordinary consideration had been extended to them, they might have proved tractable and reasonable beings, but 'guards " will be guards and men will be men, and when the one bullies, the other will resent, even in prison wards or yards. In this connection it would be interesting to know what, if any. moral influences have been tried upon these refractory prisoners, or if any arguments have been used, other than threats and appeals to their physical lears. Is it not possible, and even probopen to other modes of reasoning, and not and cannot be driven.

The question arises, has any actual effort been made to ascertain this? and the further question follows: Is there net something radically wrong in the whole prison system, and should it not be probed to its depths? Things are going from bad to worse until they are connection with prison life in this country. If two trained sluggers equally able to take care of themselves and both conditioned to stand the hardest hitting desire to try issues, the whole country exclaims against it, laws are made and courts and every known authority invoked to prevent a meeting, yet those who repudiate and condemn such trials of strength and science are expected to fold their arms and quietly approve the blood curdling scenes now in course of preparation for the edification of the inmates of St. Vincent de Paul prison and the gratification of enterprising reporters who are already anticipating the event by publishing the most minute details of the programme to be presented in this 'chamber of horrors.' To be incarcerated, shut out from communion with family and friends, subjected to privations and hardships of every conceivable kind, poorly fed, and barred at night in a cage far inferior to the commonest menagerie van; these conditions are punishment enough for almost any known offence, and Christian feeling repudiates and revolts against any proposal to super-add to or intensify | Province of Quebec, and to promote the them. Hence this protest against the wholesale lashing now proposed. If it be carried out it is to be hoped the sug gestive title of the Canadian Bastile will be adopted in substitution for that of the good and kindly Saint whose name is now so inappropriately associated with what claims to be the leading prison of the Dominion.

OUR little experience which will enable them to realize their interference with the view of those who have to sit behind them that, on the next occasion of a decidedly popular performance at the Academy, Queen's, or any other theatre, free tickets, with good front seats in the orchestra stalls, should be given to a de tachment of Royal Scots, full dress, with bonnets and plumes, being a condition of the passes. Some of the headgear enormities now worn by female charmers out-size and out plume the 'Bonnets of Bonnie Dandee,' but they will know what the thestre-hat means after that.

The Ontario Cabinet is now consider ing another suggestion touching upon legacy duties. The suggestion comes doubtful whether it will have the effect from outside sources and proposes that half of the succession duty collected shall go to the municipality in which the property so taxed is situate. If this idea were now incorporated in the Act. Toronto and the County of York would, together, receive over $100,000 from one (the Camphra) estate. A Toronto paper says : Those who support this plan say the city, which by general advancement and public services enhances the value of large estates, so that the municipality should be rewarded by benefit from this tax. As it is the Provincial Government proportion of the disaffected when gives all its rec ipts from succession duties to the provincial charity institutions. But the municipalities would be

The grave objection to the proposal is that large cities might get into the habit of giving bonuses to rich men to come and die there.

Another suggestion made to the Government is one which may not be acted upon just now but will likely be before another year has passed if the Govern ment is sustained. The succession tax may be escaped by corporations. In fact, any rich man may take in his relatives, form a corporation, and at his decease, the succession duties cannot be collected. The only alternative is to impose on the have been goaded to desperation by the corporations a tax at certain periods, a sum equivalent to the succession duties tax.

RAMBLER. ST ANN S The Recent Performance of the Past Pupils of St. Ann's Academy.

Two Very Important Features of the Programme. The Choir Dinner a Grand Success. A Shamrock Athlete to Become a Benedict. The Annual Retreat for Parishioners.

In the report of the excellent and highly successful entertainment given last week at St. Ann's Hall, by the talented past pupils of St. Ann's Academy. which is under the administration of the Nuns of the Congregation de Notre Dame, two unfortunate omisssions occurred. The first was in regard to the production of "The Chimney Sweep," an operetta, which was put on the boards in a manner which reflected the bighest credit upon all concerned in the rendering. To Miss Maggie Clancy and Miss Katie Foley fell the lion's share of the work. The former as the Prima Donna was simply perfect. Her voice, rich and pure and under complete control, was an eminently suitable vehicle for the expression of the sentiment contained in the lines, and her interpreta tion of the character she had assumed showed not only a careful study much relieved if they could utilize the of the part, but marked histri funds in the same way. a young lady of only fourteen years' handled the part of the Chimney Sweep in an able manuer. Her identity was completely lost and for the nonce she became the friendless "sweep," whose heart yearned to see again her dear Savoy. The clear enunciation of Miss Sarah Maguire gave added beauty to her lines as First Florist, and she was ably assisted by the Misses A Clancy, M. E. Liston, K. Finlay. Maggie Liston M. Mahoney, Minnie Mahoney, L. Mc Keown, M. Kenehan, M. Malloy, M. Downs and Martha Sullivan. The second omission, a comedy. ' Mrs.

Willis' Will,' was a veritable mine of laughter-provoking situations. The Misses R Lonergan and S. McGarity, as Lady Spindle and Mrs. Dwindle, respectively, were good, and their jigs, the latter being compulsory, gave rise to much merriment. Miss Maggie Madigan's Rachel was a true representation of an amusing character. Miss Maggie Foley was a dignified testamentary executrix, and Jennie, Miss L. Foley. deserved the unstinted measure of applause which fell to her lot.

The manner in which both pieces were presented proved to the satisfaction of all present that the Rev. Sisters of St. Ann's Academy are in the front rank as educationists, and that their fair expupils have not forgotten the lessons taught them in by gone days.

A lew days ago, at the invitation of the Pastor, Rev. Father Catulle, the musich conductor, Prof. P. J. Shea and the choristers, attended the annual choir it was opened for Divine Service, dinner, which was served up in an elegant momer in the main dining hall of the pr-sbytery

Rev. Father Catulle presided, and Rev. Father Strubbe, who has always taken an active interest in the boys in the choir gallery, together with Rev. Fathers Billean and Jackmann, were also bated, and nearly every brother present took part. This good Branch guarantees payment of claims in from 55 to 60 days after the death of a member.

F. C. LAWLOR, See. Br. 1.

The annual meeting for the installation of officers of Branch No. 10 was heid in their hall, on the 5th inst., the hall being crowded with members and visiting Brothers. The reports of the various officers were read, showing the Branch to be in a highly prosperous condition both financially and numerically. After routine business, Grand Deputy Bro. James Meek installed the following duly elected officers for the present YORT :---

Chancellor, Bro. M. Lynch; President, Bro. Thos. F. Mace; 1st Vice President, Bro. P. Morninge; 2nd Vice President, Bro. R. Bishop; Rec. Secretary, Bro. Jas McIver; Asst. Rec. Secretary. Bro. J. H. P. Brown; Fin. Secretary, Bro. Andrew Duggan; Treasurer, Bro. C. J. Flannagan; Marshal, Bro. J. Corbeil; Guard, Bro. M. Dwyer; Trustees, Bros. M. Lynch, M J. Walsh and J. Holland Representatives to Advisory Board Bros. T. F. Mace, P. Moruinge, and J McIver.

After the installation coremony short addresses were delivered by Supreme Deputy Bro. Flannery, Grand Deputy Bro. J Meek, Bros. Davis, Mace, Fitz patrick, Duggan, Morninge, Bishop and others; and, taken altogether, a very enjoyable and highly instructive meeting was brought to a close by an elo quent address from the outgoing president, Bro. M. Lynch.

Fond of society, yet nowhere was Mrs. Dunn so favorably known as in the family circle; to no service was she so well as well as a visit to the parish church Surrounded by all the consolations of our holy religion, she expired after two short weeks of patient suffering, her dying lips petitioning, "Oh, Jesus, Son of the living God, have mere y on my soul!" Only five short years had she adorned the home of her husband when destiny called her from her three little children, and she was laid in the cold and silent grave, bedecked in her bridal array, and wearing a smile which seemed to rob death of all terror. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in St. Joachim. The Reverend Father Leduc celebrated the beautiful Requiem Mass in the presence of a very large congregation of mourners and sympathizing friends. Mr. P. McGuirk acted as funeral director and the bearers were the brother and three brothers in-law of the deceased, Messrs. P. Callaghan, Granby ; P. Dunn, Windsor Mills; J. O'Malley, Magog, and T. S. O'Malley, St. Joachim.

The entire community extend their heartfelt sympathy to Mr. Dunn and family in their great bereavement. May her soul rest in peace.

Mr. Michael Maloney.

In the death of Mr. Michael Maloney, of Park Avenue, which occurred last week, the circles of Irish Catholics suffer the loss of a successful and upright member. Although retired from active participation in mercantile affairs for some years, deceased always took a quiet and unassuming interest in all matters concerning his nationality. For many years after his arrival in this country from the Old Land, he was engaged at the Old Ottawa Hotel, which many of our readers will recall as being located on St. James street. Later, Mr. Maloney, embarked in business on his own account, and in all his undertakings was very successful. The funeral, which was held on Monday morning to St. Patrick's Church, where a solemn Mass was chanted, was largely attended by citizens of all classes.

Mr. Keith, the Boston theatre king, is trying an experiment in which he has, at least, the moral support of all theatregoing men inside and outside the Hub. He is declaring war against the obstruc tionist bat which ladies insist on wearing, in spite of the known aversion which men have to it, and in spite of the polite and repeated requests made by managers, agents, and all connected with theatre and theatrical companiesas also in defiance of the city ordinances forbidding the wearing of such headgear. The city ordinance says :

'Nor shall any person be allowed to wear a covering for the head so as to obstruct the view of any person in such place. Failure of the management to enforce the foregoing upon request of a patron is liable to be followed by forfeiture of license.'

After full justice had been done to the good things provided by the thoughtful pastor and his warm hearted assistants, Rev. Father Strubbe, in a good speech tull of warm sympathy, proposed the health of Prol. Saca, the Musical Conductor, and the boys, old and young, who compose the organization. Prof. Shea made a capital speech in reply, during the course of which he paid a high compliment to the Rev. Fathers in charge of the Parish. Songs and recitations followed in quick succession, which serve to demonstrate the fact that the choristers of St. Ann's are a versatile aggregation.

The annual general retreat for the parishioners opened on Sunday, this week being set apart for the married women. The attendance at the exercises speaks volumes for the enthusiasm of he worshippers of the district. Rev. Fathers Strubbe and Billeau are deliver ing the sermons in turn. Next week will be devoted to the married men, and the two following weeks to unmarried women and unmarried men respectively.

There is a rumor that a well known hockey player, and also a clever defence player of the Shamrock Lacrosse team, will shortly join the Benedicts. A charming young woman from across the Wellington Bridge, and there are a host of them in and around the district, has assisted this young athlete in reaching such a happy frame of mind. This is as it should be ; a Catholic young man who is worthy of the name should always choose a Catholic young woman for a wife.
