

Indochine et les pays de l'ASEAN/Indochina and ASEANJapon (société et culture)/Japan (society and culture)

CARON, Joseph P.

Né en 1947. Études en sciences politique et économique à l'Université d'Ottawa et McGill. Entré au Ministère d'Industrie et Commerce en 1972, il fut muté aux Affaires extérieures en 1973 pour faire partie de l'équipe canadienne à la Commission Internationale de Contrôle et de Surveillance. Par la suite, il fut ré-intégré au Ministère de l'Industrie et du Commerce et servit à Ankara et, après 2 années d'études du japonais, à Tokyo. Mr. Caron est, depuis 1980, directeur adjoint de la Division de l'Asie du sud et du sud-est aux Affaires extérieures.

Born in 1947. Studied political science and economics at the University of Ottawa and McGill University. Joined the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce in 1972 and was transferred in early 1973 to External Affairs to take part in the Canadian delegation to the International Commission for Control and Supervision, based in Saigon. He returned to DITC to serve in Ankara and, following two years of Japanese language studies, Tokyo. Mr. Caron is currently Deputy-Director for Southeast Asia of the South and South East Asia Division of the Bureau of Asian and Pacific Affairs of External Affairs.

Pakistan and Soviet Expansionism in South AsiaElements of Pakistan's Foreign PolicyPakistan and Islamization

SMALL, A. Douglas

A. Douglas Small served as Canadian Ambassador to Pakistan and to Afghanistan from 1978 to 1981. He was Director of the Division of the Department of External Affairs responsible for relations with East and South-East Asian countries from 1975 to 1978. At the present time he is Director-General of Telecommunications.