

Macchiarola, Frank J. "Mexico as a Trading Partner." Proceedings of the Academy of Political Science 37, no. 4 (1990): 90-109. Looks at factors such as economic, political and cultural differences and foreign debt.

McNiven, James D. "Life in El Taco Grande." Policy Options 13 (January/February 1993): 28-31.

McQueen, Rod. "Carla Hills on the Offense: The Consummate Manipulator Who Wants to Blast Open Markets for Free Trade." Financial Post Magazine January 1991, 14-18.

_____. "So Little Time, So Much at Stake: Negotiating Trilateral Trade Deal a Daunting Task." Financial Post (27 May 1991) 2.

Mohn, Ingrid et al. "U.S. & Mexico: A Partnership for Growth / U.S.-Mexico Relations Enter a New Era." Business America 111 (8 October 1990): 2-16. Eight short articles on U.S.-Mexico trade relations. US1 DC B71 ENG

Molot, Maureen Appel. "What We Need Are More Answers." Policy Options 12 (April 1991): 14-18. On whether Canada can afford to wait for more answers before joining in North American free trade negotiations.

Morici, Peter. "The Canada-U.S. Free Trade Agreement: A Laboratory for the World Trading System." American Review of Canadian Studies 21 (summer/autumn 1991): 305-13.

_____. "Free Trade with Mexico." Foreign Policy, no. 87 (summer 1992): 88-104.

_____. "Grasping the Benefits of NAFTA." Current History, no. 571 (February 1993): 49-54.

_____. A New Special Relationship: Free Trade and U.S.-Canada Economic Relations in the 1990s. Ottawa and Halifax: Centre for Trade Policy and Law; Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1991. Briefly discusses North American free trade. HF1480.15 .U5 M67 1991

Morton, Colleen. "The Washington View of the NAFTA Negotiations." In North American Free Trade Area, edited by William G. Watson, 60-76. Kingston, Ont.: John Deutsch Institute for the Study of Economic Policy, Queen's University, 1991. HF1453 .N67 1991