CLOUDBURST.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 20.—The per-sistent rainfall of the last three days culminated here early to-day in a terrific electrical storm and cloudburst. Trees were struck by lightning, the telephone systems of the city were much disorganized, and telegraph fa-cilities in all directions were impaired. Streets in many sections of the city resembled lakes and basements were flooded and stocks in several retail establishments were damaged. The rainfall in Louisville since Saturday has been six inches, and at Memphis, Tenn., it has been 10 1-4 inches. Nearly all trains from the south are arriving circles.

The Reason for Their Going Tersely Explained by President Mercer.

"Why have the vents disappeared from the back of the sacque suits?" was the question asked the president of the Semi-ready Company, who is an admitted authority on men's dress, and the best original designer in America. "Vents were put into sacque coats when the coats were lengthened for the rurpose of making the skirts more easily handled. When the sacque coats arc shortened, as they are this year, no vents are necessary." The Semi-roady fall and winter sacque suit is finished with a graceful flare at the bottom of the skirt, and is shaped slightly to the form. At 81 Yonge-street or 472 West Queen-street.
