House of Commons Postmaster.

It is reported to night that D'Arcy Scott, barrister, of this city, will be appointed postmaster of the House of Commons in succession to Mr. Stansfeld, superannuated.

AN OLD OFFICER RETIRES.

Mgr. Merry del Val, the Papal Ablegate, is lying seriously ill here from some kind of a fever, brought on by over-exertion. Two trained narses from the Water-street Hospital have been detailed to attend to his wants and decide as to the best medical assistance.

A Young Girl's Confession. Three times last February Miss Har-mon's ladies' boarding school was set on fire. All were clear cases of incendiar fire. All were clear cases of incendiar-ism, and a regular panie ensued. A ser-vant, Theresa Kissick, was arrested on suspicion, but upon trial for arson was acquitted. A few days ago one of the resident pupils, Miss Carrie Moore, con-fessed to the principal that it was she who had set fire to the premises each time, actuated by some insane desire.

A pessimistic view of the demand of American farmers for a bounty on wheat grown for export. It says:

"As the fairness of the claim must be conceded by every logical protectionist, and as the fairness of the balance of power between the goldites and the silverites, their demand will probably be granted, in which case the value of sugar in England will sink, like the value of sugar in England, possibly to to 15 shillings a quarter. It is difficult to conceive what would then become of English agriculture. Rents could not be power to the coast by a private C.P.R. car. Hon. Judge Kisby of Dublin will be competing in metals must win the farming re's vote, and they can only win by conceding their demand, which, if protection is reasonable at all, must be absolutely just. Why should other industries be protected, and the oldest and best left out in the cold? The expense will delight the friends of President McKinley, who wish to deplete and not to fill the Treasury."

It is difficult to the content of the league of the League of the League. Mr. Jacob also brought out some 30 medals of the league.

Don't Think Johnson is Dead.

London, July 4.—Mr. Beydell Houghton, the ambitrator in the case of Thos. Johnson, who was alleged to have been drowned off Port Erin, Isle of Man, has rendered his decision. He says that he is not satisfied that Johnson was drowned, and, therefore, decides in favor of the Railway Passengers' Assurance Company, which contested the claim made upon it by Johnson's heirs for the amount of a policy written by the company upon Johnson's life. Johnson also held a policy for $50,000, is sued by the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. The evidence adduced at the hearing tended to show that Johnson's disappearance and the report of his drowning was prearranged.

Malaga, July 4.—A mutiny occurred on board the British steamer City of Lisbon at this port yesterday, which, but for the intervention of the crew of the Spanish gunboat Cuervo, might have had serious consequences. The sailors of the City of Lison made an attack upon their captain, who signaled for assistance. The officers of the gunboat quickly sent a boat's crew aboard the steamer, and the mutineers put under arrest.

In Her Falling House.

Rapid City, Man., July 4.—A cyclone passed over this district yesterday aftermoon about 4 o'clock and did considerable damage west of this town. A widow named Mrs. Matrise, who lived alone, was instantly killed by the roof of her house falling on her. The house was built of logs. The wind litted the roof seides a considerable distance from the foundation. When discovered by a herd boy, shortly after the storm, which only lasted a few minutes, she was quite dead, with part of the roof lying across her head, which was broken.

WHEW! BUT IT'S HOT!!

Dictionary Artists and Their Description Knocked Down by the Close Atmosphere and Atoms Lie Still.

Who started the story that it was hot ver the town. It must have been started outh, and everywhere you went you eard the yarn repeated. Now, it was not Webster-and who will deny his au hority?-says that heat is "a force in na head is a mode of motion, being in general a form of molecular disturbance or vibration."

Perhaps you thought it was hot yesterday, but after reading Webster's deinition of heat you will surely admit that you were missed. There was something that caused the trouble. You see, webster says that heat is a force. Now, what particular force did you feel yesterday? Wasn't it a) lack of force, rather, that you were kicking about all day? Did you have any spare force yourself? Yould you be forced to do anything yesterday? Wasn't there a dull, enevating lack of force about everything and everybody yesterday? If this does not convince you that there was no heat around yesterday. Just consider the second clause of the defit vition, which says that heat "is a form of molecular disturbance any molecular disturbance or vibration." Did you experience any molecular disturbance any molecular disturbance any molecular disturbance or vibration. Did you experience any molecular disturbance or vibration. Did you experience any molecular disturbance or vibration. When says that heat was, it is evident that there was no heat in Toronto yesterday. It should get up enough energy to vibrate yesterday. Now, granting that Vebster knew what heat was, it is evident that there was no heat in Toronto yesterdiary at all. But perhaps it was heat and Webst y didn't understand what he was writing about, or got tangled up when he re ached, this particular chapter in his celebrated story about words, where they came from, how to call them by the Christian names, and what hey was many that they mean. It's a long yarn, with so one yet, and they mean it is a long yarn, with so one yet, and they mean it is a long yarn, with so one yet, and they were they came from, how to call them by the Christian names, and what they me
