Important Speech by Hon, Joseph Chamberlain,

Startling Proposal in Regard to the West India Sugar Industry.

Liverpool, Jan. 19.—The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce gave a banquet Chamberlain, secretary of state for Gladstone." the colonies. Lord Strathcona and The anno Mount Royal was also present. Mr. Chamberlain, in the course of a vigorous and important speech, referred to the great changes in commerce during the last twenty years. Since the great powers were bitten with the megalomania with which the Germans are accustomed to taunt us, as if it were our exclusive peculiarity, the German Empire has increased sixfold, and the French fourfold, while England," he said, "has only added a modest third to her colonial empire." Answering the argument that it is useless to colonize barren wastes, he pointed to the magnificent enterprise of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that had opened up & vast country of the greatest wheat fields, and was about to open what were perhaps the greatest gold fields in the world. "Looking to the certainty," he said, "that we are likely to be excluded by hostile tariffs from any country where the British flag does not float, our present policy is to take a very firm What the foresight of our ancestors has done for us in building a great empire, we must continue to do for tact with a large cogwheel and was our successors. (Laughter and cheers.) Referring to "the fact that our sacrifices of territory and our general forbearance and deference to the sensibilities of our allies have only resulted in our being told that we are the best-hated nation in Europe," he repeated Lord Salisbury's warning:

PRESS COMMENT

Chamberlain's West Indian scheme meets with scant approval. The Times says: "We are not great ly enamored of the system of doles, to which, by some fatality, the present government has resorted with unusual frequency. Perhaps for this urgent case it was the most expedient device; but it ought to be very clearly recognized as purely a temporary measure, and as no way absolving the government with the matter on a sound, permanent footing.

The Standard warns Mr. Chamberlain that his proposal "savors of protection," and that he must be pre-The Daily News also promises Mr. Chamberlain that the opposition "will deal with his plan on its merits when ally sympathetic with Sir Tatton Sykes it appears," and asks whether he has forgotten the vehement language in which he condemned the late government for voting a small grant to Newfoundland. The Daily Mail confesses to a feeling of intense disappointment, especially after the ringing imperial note of the remainder of the speech. It says: Unless the government has some means of getting bounties abolished without resort to countervailing duties, Mr. Chamberlain's proposal merely staves off bankruptcy and disaster."
