Come This Week

The Man Who "Looks

Into The Eye."

AST week my Optical store was visited persons from all parts of the city and surrounding country. My New Science method of "looking into the eye" and diagnosing errors of sight is beyond question the most scientific of all the methods in use today. The secret of my great success in correcting defective vision is this - I measure the inside of the eye, and see clearly with my own eye the defect, be it great or small. I am fitting perfectly cases every day that have tried repeatedly oculists and opticians. I am fitting these cases perfectly for this reason-I do not try on glasses and depend upon the uncertain answers of the patient. I go about my examination in an intelligent manner. I "look into the eye" and trust not to guess work.

I wish to ask the intelligent reader of this paper to consider for one moment how easy it is to get glasses which are in no way suitable for your eyes. Optical departments in big stores everywhere are run purely and simply for gain, and gain only—the more sales the more profit—the quicker you buy the quicker you are out of the way to make room for someone else. Your eyes are not nearly as interesting as your pocketbook. claim that if your eyes need tention they need intelligent attention from an optician who has more at stake than holding down a job. My practice for years has been amongst the most difficult cases thateexist—and I have never failed to rightly diagnose any case. Call your physician's attention to that statement, and ask him what it means. He will say: "That man understands his work; he is sure of it." And now I say to you who suffer with imperfect or impaired vision, or who need help for the eyes -Come to me. Come this week I care not how difficult or complicated your case may be, I care not how many oculists or opticians have been working on your case, I can, and will, correct any visual or muscular error of your eyes at one sitting. If I did not positively believe my new system of sight-testing to be better and more accurate in every way than the method universally used, I could notispeak as emphatically as I do in regard to correcting difficult and complicated cases. Then, again, my way possesses an advantage over all others, in that the examinations are short and perfectly easy on the eyes. I find out at once the trouble, and guess at nothing. Glasses fitted my way are worth many times what they cost the patient, for this reason, they are absolutely correct. You who have been lured into following a crowd for the reason that you did not know of a really good Optician, come here. Let me tell you the truth about your eyes or your child's eyes. Optical work of every description. Lense making. Optical supplies.
