Quotations Remain Firm Despite Apathetic Trading

Cobalt Securities Are Dull, But Undertone Continues Good-La Everything in Good Shape and Rose and Crown Steady.

Wednesday Evening, Nov. 10.

The mining markets witnessed a rather dull and uninteresting session tother dull and uninteresting session to-day. Speculative trading was flat, the list with few exceptions being some-what neglected, but in spite of this, prices remained firm around yester-day's figures, while in a few cases higher levels were recorded.

The market was absolutely devoid of feature, and prices changes were any feature, and prices changes were too narrow to call for much comment.

The majority of the low priced securities were dealt in on a very narrow scale and quotations were unchanged from those of the last few days, while Rochester and Silver Leaf, both of Standard Stock and Mining Exchange.

ENGINEER HARDINGE

Work Preceeding Rapidly-Recent Strike on Foster.

Engineer Hardinge passed thru To-ronto yesterday after having spent four days in Cobalt looking over the Waldman property. At the same time he inspected the Foster and examined the new find reported on that properinge said, "that the new strike on Fos-ter is an excellent one. The vein which is at the surface, has been traced from between 70 and 80 feet, and average about six inches in width, and Carries good values."

This find means considerable for Argentum shareholders, which company has a five year lease on Foster on a 50 per cent. basis, and which lease three months' notice. At the Waldman, Mr. Hardinge reported that the work was proceeding at the usual rapid rate. The mine manager on this property is now getting a station cut at the 85 foot level in the shaft. At this level there is a very nice vein in sight, but it is not very wide. The large vein dipped out of the shaft before the present level was reached, and it is the intenstation to connect with the big vein, which was followed down from the surtion to start to crosscut from the face. Upwards of 75 men are engage on the company's property, and considerable trenching has been done.

In the process of trenching several small veins have been disclosed and it is the intention to keep up this work as long as possible until the real win-

IMPROVE THE COUNTRY

Ontario Horticultural Association to Petition For Restriction of Billboards.

Prof. J. A. Craig, Cornell University, told the Ontario Horticultural Association yesterday what the American Civic League had done towards the preservation of Niagara Falls for both the Canadian and American people. Speaking of civic improvement, he said that towns, villages and country places needed improving as much as cities. Clean up vacant lots and remove unsightly bill-boards and telegraph poles. He condemned the vaudeville house as having evils of its own, which were suggestive of immoral ideas.

The St. Catharines Society has put up a trophy for competition amongst the various societies in producting the finest asters (fifty flowers in five vases), gladioli (fifty stems to ten vases), gladioli (fifty stems to ten vases), geraniums (double, twenty blooms to four vases), hydrangeas (thirteen spikes), Phlox Drummondia (five blooms in five vases). The cup must be won by a society twice to hold it.

Parks Commissioner James Wilson read a paper on "Supervised Playgrounds."

The city council did not provide sufficient funds to keep them up locally, so the Playgrounds Association had been forced to maintain supervision.
