Trustee Booker is Disappointed-Elgar Choir and Toronto Orchestra Achieve a Great Success.

HAMILTON, Feb. 2.—(Special.)—The board of education this evening elected John T. Wilson chairman; Thomas W. Watkins, chairman internal management committee; Alfred Ward Chairman building committee; J. W. Lamoreaux, chairman finance committee; George Armstrong, chairman technical committee. Trustee Booker considered that he was in line for a chairmanship. The Ontario Governchairmanship. The Ontario Govern-ment will be asked for $7000 towards maintenance of the technical school. ncludes $2000 formerly given to amilton Art School.

The Elgar Choir, in conjunction with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, gave a second concert this evening to another big audience at the Grand. The Toronto Orchestra shared the choir's triumph. The work of the orchestra was a revelation. Its numbers were the Overture to Oberon and the Symphonic Finlandia (Siberius), and it had to respond to enthusiastic encores. The choir gave a fine rendition of contractions of the choir gave a fine rendition of contractions.

Fitzgerald of London, the high sec-retary, has put up security for $20,000 the inspection of outside and indepen-dent auditors, it is plain therefore that it is a matter that concerns bank share-holders more than the general banking public. It may well be imagined that as they are subject to such definite regulations, banking corporations are as a rule disposed to adopt every precaution with regard to the soundness and safety of their business. Prominent among these precautions is the nent among these precautions is the appointment, by the various banks, of ispectors whose duty it is to investigate their own concerns. It may be said that the audit thus made is continuous and efficient. From the accu-mulated knowledge of the bank's busiless acquired by its auditor, he is able to place his finger on a weak place in the financial machine much more readily than would an outside man making an occasional inspection.

It is true that in the United States system of outside audit has been adopted which is conducted under the auspices of the government. Officials belonging to the department of the controller of the currency are empowered to make a periodical inspection of the banks. But the results are not betthe banks. But the results are not better than those afforded by the method that has been in force in Canada up to now. We have had very few bank failures in this Dominion, and the way in which the banks tided us over the in which the banks tided us over the bank is either inspection by some output of two years ago shows

We have had very tew bank failures in this Dominion, and the way in which the banks tided us over the period of panic of two years ago shows its either inspection by some outside agency under conditions arranged that our institutions are sound. As self-preservation is the first law of nature, it may be presumed that Canadian financial institutions may be depended upon to take measures for their own safety. It has been shown that an outside audit sometimes gives a fix-titious sense of security that is not borne out by subsequent events, so that altho the outside audit sometimes gives a fix-titious sense of security that is not borne out by subsequent events, so that altho the outside and independent audit system may commend itself at the first system may commend itself at the first system may commend the first should, in the journ may be doubted whether the blush, it may be doubted whether the results secured by it would, in the long results secured by it wou
