Lord Northcliffe on Seasickness

Gentlemen—Your letter of the 14th of September reached me on my return to England from a journey to Newfoundland and back, during which I have seen and heard abundant evidence of the fact that Morrell's Seaside Remedy appears to be in sixteen cases out of twenty, an absolute cure for mal-de-mer, and also for what Americans call "sea-sickness." I am quite sure that it is a duty to express my opinion on the subject. Your truly, LORD NORTHCLIFFE, Sutton Place, Guildford, Surrey, England.

Use it for Dish-washing. Go to your grocer, buy a package of Asepto—it will cost you five cents—take it home and dissolve a single teaspoonful in a pan of dish-water. That's what you do—then see the result. Now how it cuts the grease—how it leaves your china and glassware bright and shining—how clean and wholesome it leaves your pots—your pans—your cooking utensils.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE VOICES OF THE DEAD

By John Cumming

WE die, but we leave an influence behind us that survives. The along the ages. It is what man was, that lives and acts after echoes of our words are evermore repeated and reflected him. What he said sounds along the years like voices amid the mountain gorges; and what he did is repeated after him in ever multiplying and never ceasing reverberations.

The apostle from his chair, the minister from his pulpit, the martyr from his flame-shroud, the statesman from his cabinet, the soldier in the field, the sailor on the deck, who all have passed away to their graves, still live in the practical deeds that they did, in the lives they lived, and in the powerful lessons that they left behind them.

THE DE BERCY AFFAIR

BY GORDON HOLMES

SOME PHRASES FROM THE PROBLEM. Chief Inspector Winter sat in his private office at New Scotland Yard, while a constable in uniform, having stood near the door in the alert attitude of one who awaits the nod of a superior. Nevertheless, Mr. Winter, half-turning from a desk littered with documents, eyed the man as though he had just said something outrageous or something to report to the Chief Commissioner alone could deal with the matter.

"Have you been to Mr. Furneaux's residence?" he snapped, nibbling one end of a mustache which he clipped or chewed so short that his strong white teeth could barely seize one refractory bristle. "Yes, sir." "Have you telephoned to any of the district stations?" "Oh, yes, sir—to Vine Street, Marlborough Street, Cannon Row, Tottenham Court Road, and half a dozen others." "No news of Mr. Furneaux anywhere? The earth must have opened and swallowed him!"

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of those experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The question of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.
