Fables On Health

"SHOW OFF" DANGEROUS AFTER studying social psychiatry as it relates to the early training of children, Mrs. Mann came to the conclusion that rearing children was surely one of the most difficult of tasks. Mothers do so many things they should not do, the learned. For instance, where is a mother who is not so proud of her child that she likes to "show off" the child before her friends. Yet Mrs. Mann was told that when a mother "shows off" her child in company she is developing in the child conceit and superficial-his hands tied. The most exaggerated nervous cases in children, such as poor appetites, temper, tantrums and disobedience, are often due to "too much petting" by the parents, and making the child the centre of attraction, Mrs. Mann learned.

GRANDDADDY FROG VACATES.

When old Mosey Mud Turtle and his family left the Old Swimming Hole and Mister Tingaling, the fairy landlord, had found them a new home, the March Hare stood thinking thoughtfully. For. of course, he could have been thinking a dozen other ways. There are many, "Just a little way I have of saying TLAPPER FANNY SOM many ways of thinking.

But he was thinking thoughtfully.

"What other tenants of yours live in the Old Swimming Hole, Mister Tingaling?" he asked. The fat little fairyman took out his rent book and looked down all the pages.
"The Frog family," he said. "They live over by the other bank where it's not so deep."

"Hadn't they better move?" suggested the hare.
"Old Granddaddy Frog wouldn't hurt a fiee!" cried Nick.
"And he's got such cute grandchildren," cried Nancy. "I know all that," said the March Hare seriously. "But it isn't a case of fleas. It's a case of boys. I don't be-lieve that either granddad, or his -By STANLEY talking about you." "I thought my ears were burning," said Granddaddy. "Well, what was it?

About my fine voice or my handsome face, or what?" "You see, it's this way," said the hare. "Spring's here and we have to get the Old Swimming Hole cleared out for the boys. We were just wondering what would be best for you to do."

"You don't need to wonder any more," said Granddaddy. "We're all packed. My wife has all the cupboards cleared out and all the carpets up and all the curtains down and everything. We're curtains down and everything. We're going to swim down to our summer home under the big leaves in Lily Pond today. And all our children and grand-children are going, too. I haven't lived here all my life without knowing that boys are not to be counted on. They are like files. The first warm days brings 'em out. There are more files and mosquitoes down by Lily Pond and we much prefer them to boys.' "That suits very well," said Mister Tingaling marking in his rent book. "Your rent will be the same."

"Good bye." croaked Granddaddy as he dived into the water.

Old man now feels 35 Mr. Colbourne, a man of eighty years of age, after having taken Carnol, now feels like a man of thirty-five.

When the average man or woman passes the age of three score and ten (seventy years), generally his system needs toning up once in a while. Naturally his vitality is reduced. He is easily fatigued. Sometimes his appetite fails him. He doesn't always sleep soundly. Mr. Colbourne says that his father, who is 80 years of age, felt like a man of thirty-five after taking Carnol, but read the son's letter: "I want to recommend your Carnol tonic to everyone who is in need of a good tonic. I had very sore lungs and was in a very weak condition. People said I wouldn't live for six months. I was thoroughly discouraged to think that I had only a short time to live. One ight I was reading a newspaper."

Those Sevento advertised, so I made up my mind to try it, and the very first bottle I took I noticed I was gaining in weight and felt was the finest tonic they had ever used. I also recommended it to one of my brothers, who, after the 'flu, had a very weak lung, and who received great benefit from taking Carnol.
