JOURNAL OF REV. HENRY GORDON

CARTWRIGHT, LABRADOR

Continued.

Thursday, Jan. 2nd.

Slept in very late. Blowing and snowing in best style. Worked at the saw horse in the morning, that eternal problem! Also tried to clean up the house a bit. Cleared up after dinner and became colder. Three komatiks arrived bringing still another corpse, poor old Chris Lethbridge from Grady who died on December 2nd. One is terribly sick of this work, and my nerves are feeling it pretty keenly. Started three hands on the grave, thankful to be at least free from the manual labor side of it.

Friday, Jan. 3rd.

Phenomenal digging on grave. Blasting would seem to be the only serviceable means of getting down to any depth. Only two and a half feet down by evening but I decided to bury, and made plans to mound over in the spring. Cartwright electrified by news of engagement between Mr. Haviland and Miss Udle, the teacher Mrs. Martin gave birth to a baby this evening, which I baptised.

Saturday, Jan. 4th.

Fine frosty weather. Busy indoors at house work and cooking. I have tried living without cooking but find it does not pay. Poor Martin! They had to part with their little baby to-day. I buried it in the evening.

Sunday, Jan. 5th.

Very stormy all morning. No Matins. Everybody has got a bad breaking-out which looks exactly like Herpes. It seems to accompany the Spanish flu. Mrs. Martin is very sick. Went out to supper to the Point.

Monday, Jan. 6th.

I have rigged up my bunk in my kitchen, so as to have it a bit warmer and save wood. I reopened school to-day, for the first time since the fall. I hope that we may be able to make up for lost time to some extent. Towards evening, Mrs. Martin took a turn for the worse, and died about 6.30. Poor old Will, I feel sorry for him, with his great crowd of little children.

Tuesday, Jan. 7th.

A grave-digging day. I tried a new part of the ground and found it much better digging. Two big boulders had to be hand spiked out, but the work was finished by 3.0 when I buried Mrs. Martin.

Wednesday, Jan. 8th.

Got together some mail for South. The courier starts this evening to connect with the Battle Harbour man at Long Pond. So uncertain is the whole system of winter mails that one rather hesitates about sending anything of importance by it. Only two years ago the Straits' mailman lost one of the mail bags off his komatik. The dogs probably know its fate! There is every indication of a mild spurt of weather. We generally get one at this time of the year. I hope it won't spoil my South ern trip as it did last year. I have been reckoning up the total death-roll for this district of Sandwich Bay and find the figures as follows: Cartwright, 15 dead. Paradise, 20.

Separation Point, 7. North River, 13 Strand Shore, 9. Grady, 1. Hare Islands, 4, making a total of 69. Out of some three hundred odd people in the whole district, this is a very serious loss indeed. In the Groswater Bay district, some twelve deaths have occurred. To the south, there are only nine. North of Groswater Bay we have not yet heard. The people may have escaped, but it is not very likely. If the Esquimaux round Nain and the other Moravian posts contracted it there is no telling the awful results that may follow.

SIR WALTER DAVIDSON'S DEATH

News was received by His Excellency Sir W. L. Allardyce on Sept. 17th, stating that Sir Walter Davidson, Governor of New South Wales, Australia, and former Governor of Newfoundland, had died suddenly at Sydney.

The following message was sent to Dame Margaret Davidson, Sydney, N.S.W.:

"Government and people of Newfoundland deeply shocked at sad news of Sir Walter's death, and desire me to express profound sympathy."

AN ELECTION

There is quite a lot of talk on the street about a general election taking place this fall. The Guardian is of the opinion that such will not happen. The enquiry will not commence until the middle or the latter part of October, and will not likely finish until the end of the year. So that an election is out of the question in our opinion, this fall.

WILL BRING CREWS FROM LABRADOR COAST

S. S. Portia will make a special trip to Labrador about the end of this month to bring up the fishing crews who will be leaving the coast early in October.

On return the ship will go in dock for repairs.

THE NEW ROAD FROM GRAND FALLS TO BOTWOOD

The new road from Grand Falls to Botwood via Bishops Falls is now completed. From Grand Falls to Bishops Falls the road is 21 ft. wide and from Bishops Falls to Botwood it is 20 ft. ditched and 16ft. graded. The work was done under the supervision of Mr. Roland Goddyear, of Goddyear & Sons. A number of men belonging to Bay Roberts and vicinity, who were working on the road have returned home. The rate of pay was $2.50 for a 10-hour day. The cost of provisions was as follows: Pork, 20c lb; beef, 17c lb; bread, small loaves, 17c; large loaves, 20c; flour, 80c stone; hard biscuit, 7 lbs. for 70c; tea, 60 to 70c lb; salt codfish, 11 1-2c lb. The men built their own camps, 1-ply felt being provided by the contractor for the purpose of covering. The general conditions were fairly good considering the nature of the work. The only complaint the Guardian has heard from the men is that the work did not last long enough.

Geneva, Sept. 17—"Stormy" was the word employed Sunday in summarizing the session of the Council of the League of Nations which was hurriedly convoked Saturday night and which did not adjourn until early Sunday morning. The session was devoted to the delicate question of how to deal with Italy. The Greco-Italian conflict now has been happily settled, say the delegates who have flocked in Geneva, and thanks to the motive power of the League of Nations backed by world opinion, but they declare Italy has defied the League and that Assembly should take some action calculated to reinforce the prestige of the League.

WILD BERRY PRODUCTION NOT PROLIFIC THIS YEAR

Orders For Thousands Of Gallons Have To Be Passed Up

Owing to the unfavorable weather the blueberry crop along the French Shore has this year been a complete failure. One gentleman interested in their export recently sent 300 barrels north to be filled but sufficient was not obtainable to fill them.

He also had an order from the States for 12,000 gallons of blueberries, or whortis, but could not obtain them, they also being very scarce. The price charged here for this berry was forty cents a gallon while in Nova Scotia they are selling at about thirty cents so that even if obtainable he could not dispose of them profitably.—Daily Mail.

Mr. Matt Petten, of Port de Grave secured 6 qts. of codfish on his trawls in the Bay on Tuesday last.

Minister of Finance Cave left by the express for Canada on Tuesday. It is thought he is going in connection with the floating of a loan of $3,500,000.

The Bishop of Newfoundland is sending the following message to the clergy of his Diocese:

I appoint Sunday, October 28th, to be observed throughout the Diocese as "Japan Relief Sunday," and I request that wherever possible a collection be made in all churches and school-chapels on that day; and that all sums received be forwarded to the Private Secretary, Government House, St. John's, not later than the 10th day of November.
