In Reference of No. 12 Sydney St. With reference to some criticism as to the safety of the building in which the store No. 12 Sydney street is situated and for which Mr. Wm. O'Keefe is applying for a liquor license, Miss N. Keenan, agent for the Keenan estate, has received a letter from the owner, Mrs. W. P. Keenan, of Fredericton, in which Miss Keenan states that the building is in good condition and as well laid out as any tenement house in the city. The house, she says, has been inspected by Mr. S. Thompson, the building inspector, and by Mr. B. Holm. In regard to fire escapes she contends that the building has more means of escape for each family than any other dwelling house in the city, and that it is far from being a fire trap. Mr. Holm, in his report, stated that the foundations were in as good condition as possible. They are of stone and concrete and were repaired last year. The chimneys were also rebuilt.

Discovery Of Body Clears Up Mystery

Strange Disappearance of William Martin at Christmas Probably Accounted For By Finding Decomposed Body Yesterday On Shores of Kennebecasis—Brother To Identify Today.

Lying face downwards a body badly decomposed and only partially clothed, which in all likelihood is that of William Albert Martin, of Brittain street was found yesterday afternoon on the beach at Gondola Point, one mile and a half from Rothesay. Martin disappeared mysteriously a few days before Christmas of last year while on a fishing excursion on the Kennebecasis, and there seems little doubt but that the body found yesterday was that of the unfortunate young man. The body is now in a shed near the place where it was picked up, and his brother, Alexander L. Martin, of 27 Brittain street, will go out this morning to verify the identification.

Found By Two Boys. Two boys, Fred Henderson and Bruce Trenholm, playing about the beach at Fairvale, opposite the residence of Mr. E. S. Carter, sighted the body and at once gave the alarm. A telephone message was sent to Dr. Fairweather, of Rothesay, who is also the coroner, but the doctor happened to be to the city.

Mr. Geo. W. Ketchum, of the firm of I. & E. R. Burpee, a brother-in-law of Dr. Fairweather, was then communicated with and after some further trouble he succeeded in locating the latter in the Royal Hotel. The two gentlemen left on the 5.30 train for Rothesay, and later in the evening viewed the remains. The coroner found the body of a man about six feet in height with fair complexion and light hair, seemingly about 32 years of age. He was dressed in a dark coat, blue vest and striped trousers, with a skate strapped around his waist instead of a belt. One foot was bare and the body generally looked worn and weather-beaten. In the pockets were found three jackknives, two fishhooks and several slinkers, which would lend supposition to the theory that Martin had perished on a fishing trip.

ROBBED AND STRANDED

John Robinson of Cape Breton Victim of Clever Swindler--Handed Over $40 on Promise of Employment.

John H. Robinson a native of Cape Breton, penniless and friendless, applied for protection at the Central Police Station about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. According to Robinson's story he is the victim of a man whom he trusted as a friend, but who evidently did not appreciate the confidence of the honest Cape Bretoner. Robinson says that he was induced to leave his home by a man named McDonald, a former resident of Cape Breton, who for several years has been employed in the United States. McDonald returned to Cape Breton about a month ago representing himself as a foreman in a large belting factory in New Haven and with the promise of a good position induced Robinson to go with him. Robinson had in his possession about $40.00 in cash when the two left Cape Breton Tuesday. He turned the money over to McDonald, however, who told him that it would be safer in his keeping. Before arriving at Vanceboro, however, Robinson suddenly missed McDonald, and no one seemed to know where he had left the train. Still trusting in his supposed friend Robinson waited for several hours in the Vanceboro station house, hoping that he would turn up. Hours passed and the impression gradually dawned upon him that he had been duped by a clever swindler. Without any funds Robinson, although he had in his possession a ticket for New Haven, was not allowed to cross the border into Uncle Sam's domain and was sent back to St. John by the U. S. officials. Upon arriving here Wednesday night he wandered about the streets without anything to eat and finally sought shelter at the Central Station. He will make an effort to secure employment today or arrange some means of returning to his home in Cape Breton.

Jenkins and Detective Killen between six and seven o'clock yesterday evening on suspicion of breaking and entering E. O. Parsons' store on the corner of King and Ladlow streets, on Wednesday night and stealing several articles. Entrance was gained by forcing a cellar window open. The door connecting the cellar with the store was taken off the hinges, giving access to the goods. There was only $1 in the till and it was removed.
