Radio Guy Sold
In New York

Special to The Standard.
Frederick, Aug. 11.—The Gleason today published a special despatch from New York stating that just before the races at Goshen, N. Y., on Saturday afternoon Adio Guy, 2.03 1-4 was sold by D. F. O'Neil, of Halifax, to W. Johnston, of Endicott, N. Y., for $6,000. The Adio Guy went out and won the 2.09 pacing stake worth $2,000 for his owner in straight heats. Adio Guy cost "Kid" O'Neil $4,500 when he bought him in Sandusky, Ohio, last winter, according to the Gleason, and this summer made his only start in the Maritime Provinces at Frederick, when on July 2nd he reduced the local track record to 2:11 1-2. He won every race in which he started this year, his fastest mile being 2:05 3-4 at Monroe, N. Y., the week before Goshen.

THE MOTOR BOAT RACE.

Commander John C. Chesley, of the St. John Power Boat Club, submits the following list of speed boats for the big motor craft event in connection with Thursday afternoon's grand regatta in the harbor. The boats are being weighed and measured and correspondingly handicapped by officials at the present time, a special means for this expert figuring being devised at the Indianapolis berths. The entries in the race are:
Annie, Harry Baker.
Patricia, Robert McAllister.
Dart, George Lake.
Dixie, John Prodham.
Playway, Ed. Harrington.
Ukelele, William Edgett.
Toothpick.
Oliver, A. Fred Armstrong.
Reel, L. C. MacFarlane.

A CHANCE FOR SWIMMERS.

Twelve bronze medals have been ordered by Jack Redfern, instructor at the Kennedy street swimming school, and he expects to hold races as soon as the medals are received. Mr. Redfern is out to boost swimming, and he ordered the medals on his own account, but hopes to get some citizens to take enough interest in the matter to help out or to provide a silver medal for the best all round swimmer, and the contests are to take place Aug. 23rd.

The Paris Crew
And Other Boats

The Rowers Who Were Prominent in the Days When Sculling Flourished.

During the days when the Paris crew were making themselves famous and spreading the renown of St. John to all quarters of the globe, many writers of verse told of their exploits in rhyme. Among these was Byron DeWolfe who published a souvenir of the rowers of both St. John and Halifax. This souvenir is in the form of a large sheet with the heading "Halifax and St. John" and dated August 30th 1871.

There are songs and verses composed both before and after the race on the Kennebecasis when Renforth died. One poem is entitled "The Race and the Death of James Renforth." In another column appears a song, with appropriate verses telling of the fortunes of the Paris crew.

The crews then famous about St. John and Halifax and listed in the souvenir were:

The Paris crew of St. John, New Brunswick.
Robert Fulton, stroke.
George Price, bow.
Samuel Hutton, No. 2.
Elijah Ross, No. 3.

Average weight of the men of the Paris crew, 162 pounds.

Name of the boat, "St. John." It was built by Elliot of Greenpoint, N. Y. This was the crew that won in Paris and also beat the yards.

The Roache crew of Halifax, Nova Scotia.
John Young, bow.
William Beckwith, No. 2.
David Parker, No. 3.

Average weight of the men of the Roache crew, 145 1/2 pounds.

Young was 28 years of age, a shipwright and belonged to Dartmouth. Beckwith's age, occupation and residence was the same as Young's.

Parker was 27 years of age, a ballastman, belonged to Dartmouth. Hedder was only 25 years of age. He was a ballastman and hailed from Halifax. Their boat was 44 feet long and 18 inches wide and was called the "Lillian." It was built by Messrs. Charles Roache and John Finlay.

The Barton crew of Halifax.
Edward Monk, bow.
Leonard Young, No. 2.
Erica Weeks, No. 3.

Monk, Young and Weeks were fishermen. While Tracy was a cooper. Their boat was built by Elliot of Greenpoint, N. Y. The average weight of the men of the Barton crew was 170 pounds.

The Pryor crew of Halifax.
George Brown, bow.
Thomas Hayes, No. 2.
Warren Gray, No. 3.

James McGrath, stroke.
All four were fishermen and the average weight was 164 pounds. Their boat was the "Nova Scotian." It was 40 feet long, 19 1/2 inches wide and weighed 128 pounds. It was built of Spanish cedar by Samuel Norris of Halifax.

The Renforth crew from England.
Robert Chambers, stroke.
James Perry, bow.
John Bright, No. 2.
Henry Kelly, No. 3.

The boat of the Renforth crew was the "Queen Victoria," which was used on the Kennebecasis and in which Renforth died.

The Taylor crew from England.
James Taylor, bow.
Joseph Kaye, Jr., No. 2.
John Biglin, No. 3.
Henry Coulter, stroke.

Coulter was called the champion sculler of America. Average weight of the men of this crew, 155 pounds. Their boat was built by Elliot of New York and was 41 feet long, 18 inches wide, weighed 90 pounds and was named "America."

These crews took part in the races at Halifax.

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

Both the New Brunswick and the Nova Scotia tennis championships got away to a good start yesterday. At Rothesay the weather conditions were ideal and the contests were particularly keen. The games will be continued during the remainder of the week, and there will be several social functions in connection with the tournament.

Homer Baker's performance in the half-mile on the Travers Island track Saturday, when he won in 1m. 55 3-4s, shows that the international champion of 1914 is making a real come-back. It was a great feat in track athletics.

Gerald L. Patterson, the Australian, who has already won the All-England tennis title and is looking for the American title as well, is only 23 years old, but he is a veteran in the game, as he has been playing it since he was 10 years old.

Much of the Cincinnati Reds' success is due to the remarkable pitching of Dutch Reuther, a young left hander. Reuther first made his appearance with the Chicago Cubs two years ago, but was released because he lacked confidence and control.

Outfielder See, who can also take a hand at the pitching now and again, is a popular favorite at Cincinnati. He is the newest kind of a newcomer—a kid who has just started in the game—and his rise to the National League has been the fastest in history. He started at Rochester as a pitcher; he began to hit so hard that Arthur Irwin wanted him in there all the time, and made an outfielder out of him—and now, after only half a season in the game, he comes to Redland Field. See! That's a curious name. "Look-See" will probably be his moniker with the fans. Arthur Irwin claims him to be the best youngster he ever saw—but then, Arthur is selling, not buying.

With beautiful weather and a great deal of enthusiasm the tournament of the New Brunswick Tennis Association opened yesterday at Rothesay. Three events only were played in the morning but the afternoon hours were well filled and the courts, which are in fine condition were kept constantly in use. A number of spectators followed the play closely and good scores were applauded showing that the revival of the fine old game is welcomed. There were no new counts used, no one present seeming to object to the "duce" and "love" terms. It is a great disappointment that the Sackville Club is not represented among the players in the tournament.

Visiting players are belittled at Rothesay homes. Afternoon tea was served at the courts, the committee in charge of yesterday's entertainment being Mrs. W. Macdonald Mackay, Mrs. A. L. Fowler, Mrs. Frederick Taylor and Mrs. H. S. Stambury. The Duke of Rothesay Chapter I. O. D. E. are giving a dance tonight at which the visiting players will be guests of the Rothesay Club.

During the afternoon a brief but heavy thunder storm spoiled the play for some time but dampened no one's spirits.

The games which attracted most interest were a set of men's doubles in which Don Skinner and Percy McAvity defeated Cyrus Inches and Hugh McLean. All four are returned soldiers and it was excellent tennis to watch, each man putting up a good game. A set of singles between "Tom" Stewart and "Cy" Inches was fought to a finish, T. McAvity winning after some very close games.

At one time the score was 6-5 in Mr. Inches' favor in a set of mixed doubles in which Mrs. J. R. Thomson and Rupert Turnbull defeated Miss Mabel Thomson and Harold Ellis—6-1, 6-1.

Miss Katherine McAvity and A. Sprague won from Miss K. Holly and G. Holly—6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

NEW GIANT HURDER MAKING GOOD

Phil Douglas used to be a Cub hurler, but now he is a Giant flinger, having been traded to the New York crew for Davey Robertson, the tall and clubbing outfielder. "Shuffling Phil" is a big fellow and can stand plenty of work, and there is no doubt that he will find plenty to do during his stay with the Giants. Douglas will help materially in their march to the pennant.
