

COL HOUSE ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Says Munroe Doctrine Has Been Superseded by the New Organization.

FAVORABLY IMPRESSED WITH COUNCIL DOINGS

Vienna May be Chosen as Permanent Home for the Headquarters of the League

Copyright, 1920 by Public Ledger Co.

London July 22.—(Special) Edward M. House today made the following statement for the Public Ledger foreign service:

"In mentioning the interest which all Americans have in maintaining the integrity of the Monroe Doctrine, a very distinguished European statesman, recently in London, said, 'Your people should be very happy over that outcome for the world has now formally accepted the Monroe Doctrine and the burden of maintaining it no longer rests with the United States since every South and Central American republic, excepting Mexico, is now a member of the League of Nations and the duty of protecting them in their political and territorial integrity now rests with themselves and the other members of the league.' 'I am not so sure that the American people will be as happy as the distinguished statesman thinks when they once realize that the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine is no longer in their keeping, but in that of the League of Nations. The celebrity with which these republics have joined the league and without waiting for their powerful northern neighbor to act first is causing some good-natured amusement.

Harding's Views Amaze Europe.

"Press reports from America concerning Senator Harding's views regarding the treaty and the League of Nations are disturbing Europe. For many years it has been said that the Republican party had broader sympathies with the world at large than the Democratic party and that its general policy would be more conducive to a good understanding among the nations. President Wilson and a few of his immediate political family were thought to stand pretty much alone in their advocacy of a world union to prevent war. On the other hand, it was said that practically every Republican leader of note, outside of the Senate and many inside of it, were for the league. In confirmation of this, such names as Taft, Hughes, Root, Lowell, Wickereham and Hoover were freely mentioned. In addition, one heard of great church, labor, educational, professional and commercial organizations being overwhelmingly for it. There seemed never a question of the league but merely one with reservations which would not modify it.

"Today in the light of Senator Harding's remarks, Europe is confused and amazed. They are considering whether or not a new assessment of the political forces in the United States should be made.

Common Sense Shown by Counsel.

"The council of the league has used much good sense and moderation in dealing with questions coming before it. The Aaland Islands controversy is a case in point. One criticism of the covenant has been that it gives too much power to the council, which may be termed the political end, and not enough to the international court, which is the judicial end. When it transpired that this controversy was full of legal technicalities, the council at once determined to ask three eminent international jurists to sit upon the questions involved and report their findings to the council. It is considered certain that the council will follow the findings of these jurists in their decision. This action has given much satisfaction and encouragement to well-wishers of the league. It is highly probable that some American may be asked to sit as one of the three jurists.

"The Aaland Islands dispute gave the council a wide latitude of procedure. Nearly every method under which the council is permitted to act was brought into play. It was placed before the council (1) by a disinterested party; (2) a small state, not a member of the council and another

ANOTHER TEST OF THE ONE-MAN CAR

One of the new one man cars made the clock trip to Indian town yesterday. It was occupied by the Mayor, L. R. Ross, president of the New Brunswick Power Co., and by representatives of the Trades and Labor Council.

The car made two round trips losing but ten minutes in all and the test was considered quite satisfactory. The car carried a number of workmen on her trips over to Indian town. One thing which the general public have not become accustomed to as yet is the entering of the car by the front doors instead of by the rear.

The Investigating Committee Met

Assembled Yesterday Afternoon to Investigate Charges Made by Councilor Campbell Against Housing Board—Another Session on Tuesday Next.

The committee appointed by the Municipal Council to investigate the charges by Councilor Campbell against the County Housing Board, met yesterday afternoon and made an inspection of the site and buildings. The first hearing in the matter will be held on next Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 in the office of the County Secretary.

Those present yesterday were Councilors Mosher, Frink and Dalzell, who compose the committee; Councilor Campbell, Messrs. Alex. Wilson and J. A. Barry of the Housing Commission; F. Neil Brodie, architect for the Commission; and the contractors, Rourke and Griffith.

After looking over the McKell St. location and the houses under construction, the committee inspected sites on Sand Cove Road and Prince street.

As some members of the Housing Commission were not able to be present it was decided to defer a hearing until next Tuesday at 2.30 p. m.

state not a member of the League of Nations were involved.

"The only unfavorable impressions concerning the functioning of the League are laid at the door of the Allied Powers the most recent instance being the renewal for one year of the Anglo-Japanese treaty. While both governments at interest admit that the present treaty is not entirely consistent with the letter of the covenant which both governments earnestly desire to respect, they say they accordingly have the honor jointly to inform the league that they recognize the principle that if said agreement be continued after July, 1921, it must be in a form which is not inconsistent with that covenant.

Elihu Root Dominated Jurists.

"It will please Americans to know that Mr. Root was the dominating influence in the commission of jurists charged with the duty of preparing the constitution of the permanent international court of justice. The distinguished Frenchman, Leon Bourgeois, in his speech of welcome, said: 'I welcome particularly Mr. Root. The great jurist's presence permits us to affirm that in the work which has called us together the old and the new world in spite of passing difficulties cannot be separated by a durable barrier and that indeed the two worlds, the old and new world, can now have no other meaning than the whole which will form the new world of tomorrow.'

Vienna for League Seat.

"There may be disappointment in store for Geneva in particular and surprise for the world in general regarding the final seat of the league. Geneva was unanimously selected last year at Paris for this honor, the reason being that a neutral state, removed from the influence of a great capital, was desired. Now, however, there is a decided movement in favor of Vienna. It is said that if this movement were sponsored by any one of the great Powers it would be carried with virtual unanimity. The reason is like this: If Vienna were chosen it would show magnanimity on the part of the Allies, would forever keep Austria from fraternizing with Germany, and the great, empty palaces of Vienna would house the league most adequately and at small expense. The difficulty is in finding a sponsor. No Allied country at present would hesitate to make such a proposal."

Furness-Withy Staffs On Picnic

The Office and Wharf Staffs Enjoyed Themselves as Guests of the Firm at Crystal Beach Yesterday.

One of the best days of the summer favored the office and wharf staffs of the Furness-Withy Co. who were guests of the firm at an all day picnic held at Crystal Beach yesterday.

The first event, a baseball game between the Married and Single men was won by the benedicts, the score being 8 to 5.

In the tug-of-war which followed it might have been reasonably expected that the married men being more used to team work would have proved victorious, but notwithstanding the urging of their better halves, the collieries succeeded in pulling them over the lot in two of the three pulls.

The children's classes were one to five year olds; five to ten, and ten to fifteen. The ladies' races was won by Miss Murray, with Miss Day a close second. A 220 dash was won by Scott, Scott second. There were fifty entrants in the 440, all of whom finished strong with West again leading the field, hotly pressed by Scott.

D. W. Ledingham, the manager, and his partner, were the winners of the three legged race. Mr. Ledingham also carried off the honors in the swimming race, the winners being the three legged race. Mr. Ledingham also carried off the honors in the swimming race, the winners being the three legged race.

After tea the wharf and office staffs lined up on the diamond, the outside men winning after several strenuous innings with a score of 9 to 7.

The ladies also participated in the field, hotly pressed by Scott, D. W. Ledingham, the manager, and his partner, were the winners of the three legged race. Mr. Ledingham also carried off the honors in the swimming race, the winners being the three legged race.

Handsome prizes were awarded the winners and those who finished second in the different events. Throughout the day ice cream and soft drinks were lavishly supplied. The party left for the city by the D. J. Purdy, which made a special trip for the purpose and arrived in the city at 9.15.

On the way down Mr. Ledingham was called up on deck where Mr. Martinson on behalf of the employees made a short speech thanking him for the outing and the grand time all had enjoyed. Mr. Ledingham replied in a suitable manner, and on leaving the boat at Westfield was given a rousing series of cheers which voiced in an unmistakable manner the appreciation of those who continued on toward the city.

What Would You Have Said?

STUDY the Gillette Poster on the boards. What do you think of the wording, "A Handle for Every Hand"? Do you think we have taken too much for granted that everybody knows that the Gillette Safety Razor will give a cleaner and more comfortable shave in the least time? That each set at $5.00 includes 12 double-edged super-keen blades?

With the space at your disposal on this poster, would you have chosen the message we adopted, or would you have emphasized the NO STROPPING—NO HONING feature, or the fact that there are 20,000,000 Gillette users, or the saving of ten minutes each day by Gillette owners?

If you do not see the poster itself, you will find a reproduction of it in colours in dealers' windows, together with a display of some of the most popular Gillette sets.

Go into such a store and you will find Gillette Safety Razors in styles to suit every man who shaves—literally "A Handle for Every Hand"—among them the Gillette exactly suited to your hand! Take it!
