THE KIND OF WIVES AND HUSBANDS WANTED

Mrs. W. H. Myles in Paper Before W. C. T. U. Draws Comparisons

AFTERNOON TEAS AND BRIDGE WHIST Woman Who is Content With This is Not, She Says, the One to Help a Man Win—"Sober Young Man Hard to Find; Girls Not Just as We Would Like to Have Them."

That the work of the "W" societies in connection with the W. C. T. U. is practical and helpful in its character is shown by the contents of a paper read Thursday at an interesting meeting of the North End unit, held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Myles, 16 High street. Mrs. Myles prepared the paper, which was read by Miss Jackson, and an interesting discussion followed.

Mrs. Lida Dale and Mrs. Harper were appointed delegates to the provincial convention, to be held in St. Stephen in October. Miss Ida Apt and Miss Emma Gray are the delegates from the St. John's Regent, was expressed at the death of Ida Parise, a former member, and Mrs. Myles will visit the bereaved home with a floral tribute, sent by St. John unit.

The paper read is as follows: Again I would ask our sisters of the W. C. T. U. if they cannot do just a little more to extend "the work for God, home and nation." Will you not encourage and help the young sisters where "y's" are already working? If you see some work and ask them to assist you in it, some entertaining or interesting work, anything that will awaken fresh interest and encourage them.

My thoughts are, that as true Christian temperance women, should interest ourselves with the young people of our city. There is a great work to be done and we feel sure that we will be able to do it. We have young women and young men who are ready to do anything for a young man finds her today. She goes to the front seat in the theatre; she is out for a walk and she will walk down the aisle in a heartless creature, his life a perfection of young women, who are not in the work. The wise, good, whole-hearted and affectionate young women, who are not in the work. The wise, good, whole-hearted and affectionate young women, who are not in the work.
