YALE UNIVERSITY FOREST SCHOOL

NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT, U.S.A.

A two years' course in forestry is offered leading to the degree of Master of Forestry. The Forest School is a graduate department of Yale University requiring for admission a college training. Graduates of universities, colleges, or scientific institutions of high standing are admitted upon presentation of their diplomas, provided they have taken courses in the following subjects in their undergraduate work: at least one full year in college or University Botany, and at least one course in Zoology, Physics, Inorganic Chemistry, Geology, Economics, Mechanical Drawing, French or German and the completion of Mathematics through Trigonometry.

Candidates for advanced standing may take examinations in any subject but are required in addition to present evidence of a specified amount of work done in the field or laboratory.

The school year begins in early July and is conducted at the school camp at MILFORD, Pennsylvania.
