

Land at reasonable prices.
A big and growing market.
Unsurpassed transportation facilities.
Records of large commercial returns.

A sufficient rainfall with no need for irrigation.
The opportunity to acquire almost any acreage required.
A reputation for excellent fruit products, which is a world-wide asset.

Crawford Peaches—a Popular Variety.

4

Government experimental stations to give the fruit-grower counsel free of cost.

The active aid and consideration of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Co-operative societies and associations to encourage and assist the individual fruit-grower.

Ontario offers big opportunities for industry and enterprise. The capital required is comparatively small. The return on the investment is large, immediate and sure.

Ontario Soil.

There are many soils, suited to a variety of fruits.

APPLES do well on clay loam or gravelly or sandy soil.

PEACHES thrive on sandy loam.

GRAPES AND PLUMS prefer a clay soil.

PLUMS grow on a variety of soils, but prefer the heavier types.