Proving by Actual Experiment

This experiment will always interest the children, and will provoke a good deal of thinking. The explanation, of course, is that the lighted piece of paper which is inserted into the inverted glass drives out most of the air, so that when the mouth of the glass is quickly put down into the water there is very little air, and, consequently, very little pressure above the water within the glass. Hence, the weight or pressure of the air on the water outside the glass drives the water up into the glass to occupy the space from whence the water was driven by the burning paper.

A practical demonstration of this kind is always more convincing than any mere statement. This is particularly true of medical remedies.

The effect of the anti-toxin treatment for diphtheria is noticeable within a few hours, so that everyone must believe in its virtue. In a similar way, the treatment known as ORANGE LILY gives a practical proof of the progress it is making in curing women's disorders, and that, too, within a few days after commencing its use.

All authorities agree that in every case of women's disorders there exists a congested condition of the womanly organs. The circulation in these parts is sluggish or stagnant, and the result is that the broken-down tissue or waste matter which should be carried off if the blood was circulating freely, remains in these parts, causing inflammation, irritation, oppression of the nerves, etc. ORANGE LILY is not taken internally, but is applied direct to the suffering organs. It is absorbed into the circulation, and its antiseptic properties at once act on the waste matter referred to above. The consequence is that this waste matter, which is causing the inflammation, ulcers, nervous troubles, etc., begins to be discharged, and it continues to be discharged until all the foreign matter is removed from the circulation. At the same time the blood vessels and nerves are toned and strengthened, the nervous trouble disappears, the circulation is restored and good health follows.

Dear Mrs. Currah:—I wish to tell you that Orange Lily is doing me a great deal of good. Those ulcers come away one or two every week, and I have less pain and fewer headaches. I feel sure I will be perfectly cured in a little longer time. MRS. D. S. T.

The explanation of the wonderful cures performed by ORANGE LILY is very simple. It is a scientific remedy, based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. The conditions existing in all female troubles are alike in character, differing in degree and development only, so that a positive remedy, as ORANGE LILY is, acts with all the certainty of a chemical experiment. In order to convince every suffering woman that ORANGE LILY will cure her, I make the following

FREE TRIAL OFFER

I will send without charge, to every reader of this notice who suffers in any way from any of the troubles peculiar to women, if she will send me her address, enough of the ORANGE LILY treatment to last her 10 days. In many cases this trial treatment is all that is necessary to effect a complete cure, and in every instance it will give very noticeable relief. If you are a sufferer you owe it to yourself, to your family and to your friends to take advantage of this offer, and get cured in the privacy of your home, without doctor's bills or expense of any kind.

Should any lady desire medical advice or information on any special feature of her case, I will be happy to refer her letter to the eminent specialist in women's diseases, Dr. D. M. Coonley, President of the Coonley Medical Institute, and he will answer her direct. Dr. Coonley is the discoverer of the ORANGE LILY, and has had over 30 years' experience in the treatment of these diseases. No charge will be made for this medical advice. Address, inclosing 3-cent stamps, Mrs. Frances V. Currah, Windsor, Ont.

Orange Lily is recommended and sold in Toronto, Ont., by The T. Eaton Co., Ltd. (Drug Dept.).

painting the lily" to use anything but oil and wax on woodwork.

As a last suggestion, let me say be sure you know what YOU want, not what the architect may tell you you should have. Let your house express your own individuality, and not be a copy from anyone. JACK'S WIFE.

I am heart and soul with "Jack's Wife" in all of the ideas above, except one. I think I should have the living-room face the finest view, and have the best window placed therein, keeping the dining-room apart. To my mind, a dining-room should be just large enough for table and chairs, with a goodly passage left on all sides for the use of those who wait on the table. I should have the sideboard built in, and the decoration of the room dependent upon flowers in the windows, beautiful wall paper, and a very few good pictures or a plate-rail. I don't think a dining-room should be used for a living-room. If not, the tablecloth may be left on all week, and the dishes may be replaced as soon as washed, the whole table being covered with a cheesecloth spread when not in use. You have no idea how much work this plan saves until you have tried it. . . . More ideas, please.

From Maple Leaf.

Dear Dame Durden.—It is with pleasure I enter your Nook. I often thought I would like to, but felt a little shy about coming, but I have been treated so well I will not fear in the future. I thank "Valentine" for the lovely scroll pattern she has sent, and I am sending an excellent recipe for Spanish bun and one for ginger cake.

I thank Miss Nellie Sutherland, too, for her trouble. I might help her some time in the future. We have all the back numbers of "The Farmer's Advocate," and the children have a treat reading them over again. We have taken it a long time, and it is a welcome visitor. I love the "Quiet Hour." May "Hope" long be spared to fill her little corner.

Spanish Bun.—Excellent. Stir well together 1 pint sugar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter, add the beaten yolks of 4 eggs, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 tablespoon cinnamon,  $\frac{1}{2}$  spoon of cloves, 1 heaping pint of flour, 1 cup chopped raisins. Mixed with part of the flour and 2 teaspoons baking powder. Add, last, whites of 4 eggs well beaten. Bake in a small dripping-pan, and frost with chocolate icing.

Ginger Cake (without milk or eggs).—One cup molasses,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter, 1 cup boiling water,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon ginger.

Readers interested in extravagant action in horses, such as is so much demanded and admired in Hackneys, should make note of the advertisement of G. E. Gibson, of Oakham, England. Mr. Gibson is the inventor of an appliance made of strands of elastic that teaches horses to bend their knees and flex their hocks. Write to him for particulars.

POWER LOT

A Story of "Down East."

"Say, I c'd kick myself"—ex-postulated Captain Belcher reasonably—"for not havin' no more memory. 'Hilton—Hilton'—Sure. That's it. Now I'm goin' ter lay that away, jest the way it is, along o' the dried sage an' boneset in my old garret here," he tapped his forehead depreciatively.

"And remember, it's you that's carryin' the 'stuff,'" Rob reminded him, bitterly.

"'Hilton.' Yes. Le' me see, what was I sayin'?" Oh, yes—we got a perscription 'round here that's a wonder-worker on any man what's predisposed to pulmonary affections. This 'ere perscription—she's a mericle."

"A what?" sniffed Rob. "She's a mericle in her drawin', savin' power, that's what she is. She sucks out the inflammation like a double pad o' Griswold's Ol' Family Salve, that's what she does."

"Well, what is it?" said Rob, as testily as his general contempt and indifference for the subject would allow.

"It's—she's—ahem—she consists of—Giddup thar! giddup! what ye yavin' all over the road for! She consists o' a plow, an' a shovel, an' a spade, an' a hoe, an' other implements, an' inted every half-hour with a gallon er two o' elbow-grease. She's a d—n hard dose ter take. I been a-takin' of her, all my life. But she socks right down ter work 'an' does the job every time. She reds ye o' every pulmonary affliction so clean ye wouldn't know ye'd got any pulmonary for afflictations ter light on. By the Livin' Wheelbarrow, I know what I'm talkin' about too."

"That's lucky," Rob managed to sneer painfully, his great overcoat sagging on his arm, his spent breath coming in gasps that were almost sobs, as he made another desperate effort to keep up with the procession; "that's lucky, for I don't."

"No, ye don't, Mr. Lee—Mr. 'Hilton,' as soon as ye git to the top—I won't forgit my 'ngagements. No,
