CANADIANS MAKE TWO MORE RAIDS

Western Troops Take Part in Daring Night Operation—QUEBEC MEN Make Daylight Raid; Prisoners Taken

London, Feb. 8.—The following communication was issued yesterday by the Canadian War Records office: "Reveling in the opportunities presented by the wintry conditions, Canadian troops have carried out two more successful raids, carefully planned and brilliantly executed both operations were completed without a hitch, and as a result recent Canadian captures were swelled by twenty-three prisoners and two machine guns.

"One raid was made at night by a composite party from Manitoba and Alberta, and the other in daylight by men from Quebec. The principal purpose in each instance was to harry the enemy, destroy his mine shafts, and secure prisoners. Both parties thoroughly fulfilled their mission.

"In addition, German dugouts and machine-gun emplacements were destroyed by explosives and the enemy is believed to have suffered casualties four times greater than those of the Canadians, which were very light in proportion to the complete success of the enterprise.

"The Canadians have now to their credit a total of seven successful raids in the past nine days."

This is a most important question for the young or the old of either sex, and the sooner it is considered the better. If you are troubled with faulty vision, with black spots or floating specks before the eyes, it will be to your advantage and safety to have the deflection attended to without delay. We are professional opticians, and can examine your eyes correctly and prescribe for you the right kind of glasses. The wrong kind will injure you.

Music and Drama

Jack Pickford Returns
Jack Pickford's arrival at the Lasky Paramount studio parlor of the nature of a reunion. The youthful star had been sent to the coast by the Famous Players previously, and had made a host of friends in California who lined up to greet him when he arrived this week. He is to start work on "Freckles" as soon as the reunions are completed.

Some Ride
Theodore Roberts recently staged a complete revival of the old "Sheridan Only Twenty Miles Away" episode of Civil War fame. The star had been sent east to Washington for some scenes in the national capital for "The American Consul" when he heard that "Joan the Woman" was to be presented on the Coast. Having played the important role of Cauchon in the picture, Roberts was most anxious to attend the western premier of the production. So he started back for California at full speed as soon as the work had been completed in Washington. Business of Roberts speeding wildly for the west coast was threatening to go on without his personal chaperone. With rails twisting and melting beneath the furious onslaught of his impatient train, Roberts sent telegrams after telegrams urging that the performance be delayed as long as possible so that he might arrive in time. But his supplication was of no avail, and "Joan" went on the screen with Roberts "twenty hours away."

An Indian Girl—Again
Dark hair and an extremely individual style of beauty have marked Lenore Ulrich as a "foreign type," whether she be on the stage or in the movies. It will be remembered that she played a Hawaiian maiden in "The Bird of Paradise" a few seasons ago, and that she appeared as the Indian maiden in "The Heart of Wotona" last year. She has been impersonating various exotic types in motion pictures in Los Angeles, Algerian, Indian, Mexican maidens have fallen to her lot, with an occasional European character thrown in for good measure, but the majority of roles have been of Indian extraction, as it were.

Miss Ulrich's latest appearance was in the role of an Algerian girl. Now she is to revert to the redskins for next production, which will be called "Her Own People." As the title suggests, the tale has to do with the faculty of attempting to introduce a half-breed girl into exclusive society.
