THE PEARY COOK FIGHT.

Peary Wires to His Wife He Has Cook Nailed.

Cook Declares He Will Prove He Was There.

North Pole Offered to Taft-Question in House of Commons.

New York, Sept. 8 .- The text of the message to Mrs. Peary advising her not worry about Cook, as learned here today, was as follows:

"Indian Harbor, Labrador, via Cape Ray, Nfld., Sept. 8. "Good morning. Delayed by gale. Don't let Cook story worry you. Have him nailed.

A despatch from Commander Peary, which was received for Herbert L. Bridgman, in Brooklyn, to-day, gave some details of the explorer's return from Etah, told of the movements of Harry Whitney, the Arctic hunter, of New Haven, Conn., and mentioned Dr. Cook. The message follows:

The Jeanie is the Peary relief steamer which sailed from New York this summer to search for the explorer.

GIVES THE LIE DIRECT.

Foundation Laid for Controversy Unparalleled in History.

New York, Sept. 8. —The lie was hurled to-day concerning the discovery of the North Pole and the foundation laid for a controversy unparalleled in history. Commander Robert E. Peary is history. Commander Robert E. Peary is making uncertain progress southward off the coast of Labrador in his ship, Roosevelt, but there came from him today a message as direct as his homeward journey has been slow. It challenges the veracity of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, of Brooklyn, and further complicates a situation which the whole world is discussing.

In effect Peary discredits Cook's claims with the internation that he (Peary), and he alone, planted the American flag at the North Pole on April 6, 1909, and that Dr. Cook, who asserts that he unfurled the flag at the Pole on April 21, 1908, must substantiate his claim.

At Copenhagen, Cook, shown his rival's statement to-night, stood by his guns, declined to enter into a debate and calmly asserted that his records would sustain him. To prove his right of discovery before the entire world, beyond a shadow of doubt, he announced that he will despatch a ship to Greenland and bring to America his Eskimo companions. Then with their testimony and his data he declares that he will stand ready to face all detractors.

In the meantime, Peary continues the meantime, Peary continue ready to face all detractors.

In the meantime, Peary continues his homeward journey on the ice-scarred Roosevelt, and is to-night at Battle Harbor, Labrador, still more than 400 miles from North Sydney, Cape Breton, the objective point of the homeward cruise, through the Strait of Belle Isle.

By those who received woyd of Dr. Cook's announcement with skepticism, Commander Peary's challenge to-day' was received with gratification; by those who, had been neutral it came as another surprise in a series of remarkable happenings, while to Dr. Cook's supporters it was signal for war. Cook, if his plans do not miscarry, will sail for the United States on Sunday next and will arrive hore by Sept. 21. By that time Commander Peary will have reached home, but no one has as yet suggested the possibility of a dramatic meeting of the two face to face.

HAS LEFT INDIAN HARBOR

Peary's Next Stop is Likely to be at Red Bay.

Red Bay, Labrador, Sept. 8.—Com-mander Robert E. Peary, on the steam-ship Roosevelt, sailed to-day from In-dian Harbor, and arrived later at Batthe Harbor, just above the opening of the Strait of Belle Isle, and approxi-mately 65 miles above this point. As the telegraph station at Chateau Bay. nately 65 miles above the telegraph station at Chateau northeast of here, is will like the Roosevelt's next stop will likely be here, although it was at first intended that she stop at the former place.

At one time to-day the Roosevelt was reported at Blanc Sable, southwest of here, and 100 miles from Battle Harbor, but latest advices to-night merely chronicle her arrival at Battle Harbor, with her exact itinerary thereafter in doubt.

Harbor, with her exact itherary thereafter in doubt.

Coal is direly needed on board, and it is reported that part of the vessel's woodwork has been used as fuel.

News from Battle Harbor is most meagre, but advices which reached here to-day say that the Roosevelt was sighted at that port at 10 o'clock this morning. Her speed is uncertain, but she is expected to stop here or go on to Blanc Sable to-morrow, whence after a short call, she will proceed on her way to North Sydney, Cape Breton, about 475 miles to the southwest.

COOK'S REPLY.

Will Issue Statement to Dispel All Doubts.

No Controversy.

No Controversy.

Later he said to a correspondent: "I will not enter upon a controversy with Peary. If he says I kidnapped Eskimos, I reply that the Eskimos are nomads. They belong neither to him nor me. I engaged them and paid them twice what they asked. It is foolish to say I appropriated Peary's stores. I can hardly credit that Peary said such a thing. As a matter of fact Peary took my stores, saying to their custodian that he had to organize a relief expedition to search for me.

Il reached the pole. I will submit my proofs and observations to any international scientist or explorer and place my subject at the bar of public opinion, and await the world's answer. I will to-morrow make announcement that will prove I am sincere and ready to present my evidence."

The same correspondent ascribes the following to Sverdrup:

"Peary will never admit that the pole was reached before he got there. He is the most jealous of men and thinks he has a lease on the pole. He is sure to be a keen and sharp adversary. He is not afraid to use any means. Peary's treatment of myself when we met at Smith's Sound is well known and marks

Cook has sent the following to an American respaper:
"I have promised to submit my facts, figures and instruments to the Rector Magnificus and faculty of the University of Denmark as a body of scientists thoroughly familiar with polar exploration. I know I am right, and I am confident that the verdict will affirm the accuracy of my observations. I decline to be held responsible for the varying stories of my interviews with correspondents at Copenhagen. While retaining the highest respect for the courageous explorers who are unconvinced, I decline to engage in any controversy with their friends or members of their families." families.

Peary Cables Placing North Pole at President's Disposal.

President's Disposal.

Beverly, Sept. 8.—President Taft is much interested in the news concerning the top of the world, but he is not making any expression of opinion on the relative merits of the two gentlemen most directly affected. He added a touch of humor to the situation to-day when he answered a message from Commander Peary.

Here is the message which came to the President:

Asquith's Answer to Sir Gilbert Parker's Question.

London. Sept. 8.— Prime Minister Asquith replied in the House of Commons to-day that Sir Gilbert Parker's question with regard to the ownership of land at the North Pole. The question was in two parts, the first asking if North Pole land was considered as belonging to the Dominion of Canada, and the second whether the planting. and the second whether the planting of the American flag there would give the United States any right of posses-sion over the region. The Prime Minis-

"I do not understand that there is any land at the North Pole. The second part of the question involves too much hypothetical matter for me to be able to give any definite answer."

The reply was greeted with laughter. James F. Remnant. member for Finsbury, then asked whether, if it should prove that land existed there, Mr. Asquith would tax it as undeveloped land. To this the Prime Minister made no Doubts.

Copenhagen, Sept. 8.—It is useless to submit the most scathing despatches reflecting on him to Dr. Cook, for he simply smiles, says they are untrue, and refuses to discuss them further. He has an air of perfect confidence without a touch of braggadocio.

His only reply to Commander Peary's despatch stating that he had not gone out of sight of land was this statement: "I have been to the North Pole. As I said last night when I heard of Commander Peary's success, if he says he has been to the Pole I believe him.

"I am willing to place facts, figures, and worked-out observations before a joint tribunal of the scientific bodies of the world. In due course I shall be prepared to make public an announcement that will effectually dispel any doubt, if there can be such, of the fact that I have reached the Pole. But, knowing that I am right and that right must prevail, I will submit at the proper time

Mackenzie King Addresses Presbyterian Board.

Compulsory School Attendance Shorter Work Hours.

Toronto, Sept. 9 .- The report of in dustrial problems, submitted to the Presbyterian Board of Moral and So-Presbyterian Board of Moral and Social Reform yesterday, which was considered in the presence of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor, who is a member of the board, recommended action toward securing compulsory attendance of children at school up to the age of fourteen, and discouraging the continuance of boys over fourteen in street occupations, thus tending to $\ellin{\text{l-low}}$ them to drift into the ranks of the criminal or those of unskilled labor, but rather toward encouraging them to enguge in a trade or other permanent oc-

Cook's Danish friends, such as Sverdrup and others experienced in polar research, keep undiminished faith in him. In regard to the statement of the two Eskimo boys saying that Dr. Cook did not leave the land. Sverdrup says:

"Cak could not have been such a fool. No one could keep Eskimos on the land and pretend he had left it. The Eskimos know better."

It is rather surprising that a serious man like Norman Hansen should, in an article in the Politiken to-day, say that Cook took the homeward route that he did in order to avoid meeting Peary, fearing that Peary, out of jealousy, would kill him. Hansen has been close to Cook since his return. He first met him on the Greenland coast. They lived alone together in Greenland, except for the natives, for weeks, and Hansen probably believes that Cook's fear was justified.

He believed the sclution of industrial problems was to be found in the teaching of Christianity and its application to industrial life. Where there is no Christianity, he said, there is no Labor Day, no Sunday, and women are the burden-bearers. The manifest remedy was to Christianize. The workingmen in the Christian Occident must face competition with labor living at a much lower level. Speaking of the Lemieux Act, he said sixty Conciliation Boards had been annointed, and Sheriff Gaston is on the trail of the person who sent Mabel Millman the registered letter at Ann Arbor. He believes that when he ascertains who signed the registered letter slip he will have a positive clue-to the person who flung the girl's dismembered body into the Ecorse Creek. The letter is supposed to contain the money wherewith Mabel came to Detroit from Ann Arbor, ostensibly for the sole purpose of visiting her chum, Miss Martha Henning.

Guelph, Sept. S .- If the post-morem examination on the remains of Alex. Bunyan, who was found dead on the railway near Cobourg, and who was supposed to have been murdered, does not reveal some stronger indication of foul play than the supposed bullet hole behind the ear it is hardly likely that the verdict will be murder. Alex. Bunyan was born and raised in Guelph, being a son of the late John Bunyan, formerly of the City Hotel, and friends and relatives here state that the hole, which has been the principal cause of the murder story, is natural. It was a peculiarity known to those intimate with him, ity known to those intimate with and especially those who knew him and especially those who knew him when he was quite young.
