

A FAIR OFFER.—Dr. Franklin once made the following offer to a young man: "Make a full estimate of all you owe, and of all that is owing to you. Reduce the same to a note. As fast as you can collect, pay over to those you owe. If you cannot collect, renew your note every year, and get the best security you can. Go to business diligently, and be industrious; waste no idle moments; be very economical in all things; discard all pride; be faithful in your duty to God, by regular and hearty prayer morning and night; attend church regular every Sunday; and do to all men as you would they should do unto you. If you are in too needy circumstances to give to the poor, do whatever else in your power for them cheerfully; but if you can, always help the worthy poor and unfortunate. Pursue this course diligently and sincerely for seven years, and if you are not happy, comfortable, and independent in your circumstances, come to me, and I will pay your debts."

Among the imports from Hamburg last week, at New York, were two bulls, which were valued at $5000 each, and entered accordingly at the Custom House, as the coat price at the place of purchase in Germany. It is well for the importer there was no duty on them. Animals for breed are free.

FISHERIES OF GLOUCESTER.—The Gloucester fleet of three hundred schooners that have for nine months past cruised on George's and Grand Banks and the Bay of St. Lawrence, are now hauled up and stripped. The catch of mackerel has been twenty thousand barrels in advance of last year. The profits of the fishery business will not be large this season, on account of the increased expense for outfits. — Boston Times.

The above paragraph proves clearly what was always advanced by the advocates of the Reciprocity Treaty—that with an equal footing, the American fisherman cannot compete with the people of these Colonies on Colonial fishing grounds. While protected by a duty of 20 per cent. on Colonial caught fish, and some other advantages, American fishermen were able to make fair profits from the fisheries on our shores; but now that the duty, and the other advantages are at an end, American fishermen cannot make a living by visiting our fishing grounds.

Our colonial gentleman, who was thoroughly conversant with the subject, and took a prominent part in the negotiation of the treaty always held that the treaty would be the means of securing the Coast Fisheries of the Provinces to their inhabitants, and such seems very likely to be the case, in a very few seasons. It is all very well for the Americans to put their failure during the past fishing season, which produced a large catch, upon the ground of "increased expense of outfits"—but it is a simple fact, that vessels making long voyages from distant shores to the fishing grounds, can never compete with those who live on the spot, and conduct their business under the most favorable circumstances, and at the least expense. — New Brunswick.

ELOPEMENT—A YOUNG LADY "Cut off with a Shilling."—There is some considerable excitement in certain circles with regard to an elopement which came off in Troy, on Thursday. The young lady is a Miss W. She left the house of her father on Thursday afternoon, for the ostensible purpose of "taking tea at a friend's."—Instead of doing this, she met in River street, a clerk connected with a dry goods store, who invited her to jump into a carriage and take a ride to this city. She accepted the invite and took the ride. On arriving here they talked of darts, cupids, winter nights, and all that sort of thing. They did this with such fervor, that they resolved to finish up the ride with a marriage. They accordingly repaired to the residence of a well known clergyman, who in a few short moments, made two willing hearts one. As soon as they could swap a kiss or two, they started for home. On arriving in Troy the carriage pulled up near the Union depot—the young lady returned home on foot, as if nothing had happened. Her husband sought his home in another part of the city. This was on Thursday. On Friday, somebody posted up in the matter exposed the secret. The news fell upon the young lady's parents in a manner that shows old folks are not to be trifled with. They look upon the marriage as an outrage, and insist that the bride "shall not live with the clerk if forced." The young lady says she won't do anything else. "The old folks reply to this by saying that if she does they will cut her off with a shilling." The young lady says she "can't help it." She has a lawful husband and she intends to cling to him "shillings or no shillings." We fear the old folks will have to give in. In such matters they usually do. — Alb. Knickerbocker.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Saturday January 5, 1856.

In expectation of the early arrival of an English Mail, we issue only a small paper to-day. We will publish two double sheets next week, and hope to have by that time plenty of news to fill them.

(Extract from a private letter from Georgetown.)

"Grog is doing its work among us. I person of the name of Hugh McLeod met his death from a drunken road of the name of Macdonald, a ship carpenter, from Carriacou Road, St. Peter's, on Christmas eve, by being felled with a long battle, or life-sword, rather a life-taker. A coroner's inquest has been held."

The Yarns—Last of Thursday night, the Couriers from Cape Breton or aught sever, New Brunswick, and American Mail Bags, but none from Halifax. By this arrival we have a week's later news from Europe by telegraph on New York. We may also see a few papers up to the 25th not given an account of the expedition's start search after John Franklin; we give a short extract in today's paper, and will publish the details in our next Number.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

On Tuesday afternoon, pursuant to notice, a meeting was held in the Infant School room for the purpose of forming a "young men's" Christian association, when on the motion of Lieut. Hancock, Mr. Wm. Heard was called to the chair, and Mr. James Moore was requested to act as secretary to the meeting. Prayers for the Divine Blessing having been offered by the Rev. Mr. Snodgrass, the chairman briefly set forth the object of such associations which are now productive of so much good in various parts of the Earth, not only to the youthful members of the community but also to those of riper years.

The first resolution was moved by the Rev. Mr. Brewster, seconded by the Rev. Mr. Snodgrass and supported by the Rev. Messrs. Lloyd and Fitzgerald—to the following effect:—"That in the opinion of this meeting it is highly desirable to take immediate steps for the formation of a 'young men's' Christian Association." The Rev. Mr. Snodgrass seconded the meeting that his thoughts had long been directed towards the formation of a Society of the description contemplated by the Resolution, that he had long wished for an opportunity of expressing his sentiments in reference thereto, and that he now rejoiced in the means for doing so, which were afforded him by the present meeting.

Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald stated that however favorable he had been to the promotion of Temperance Societies and Mechanics' Institutes, the propriety of which he has always endeavored to promote, he could not but think that the association now contemplated had for its object the promotion of higher and more important principles, for that while in these Institutions the Christian often found himself shackled, and was unable to express his sentiments, without fear of giving offence—in the young men's Christian Association, the disciples of our blessed Lord need be restrained by no such feeling, but would be able fearlessly to stand forth in the support of that religion from whence the association took its name, and he believed in a place like Carriacou, where the young men were no strangers to the precepts of the Bible, this association could not be attended with the most beneficial results.

The Rev. Mr. Lloyd said, that this association based as it was upon the word of God should have his most cordial support.

Second Resolution moved by Lieut. Hancock—seconded by Mr. Wm. Murray and Mr. Harris:—"That it is desirable to appoint a Committee for the purpose of enacting a constitution for a young men's Christian Association." This resolution was unanimously carried and after some discussion the following persons were appointed as a Committee for carrying out the object of the resolution.

Messrs. Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Snodgrass, Mr. MacMurray, Mr. Brewster, Mr. Burnett, Mr. Lloyd, Lieut. Hancock, Messrs. Morpeth, Heard, Harris.

Resolved, that the above committee meet at the Infant School room on Friday next at 8 p. m. for the purpose of forming the constitution, and

That a public meeting be held in the same place on Monday next, 7th inst. at 7 p. m. to approve of the same, and to admit members, and choose officers.

JAMES MOORE Secy. to public meeting.

POLICE COURT.

Jan. 1, 1856—Cotarius Lejage, drunk and disorderly; convicted, fined 5s., with costs, or be imprisoned 14 hours.—Kenneth Meison, assault on James Davie; parties settled out of court.
2—Thomas Parsons, Hacksmith, malicious trespass—driving horse and cart on Mrs. Holloway; convicted, fined 30s., with costs, and ordered to find security to keep the peace, and be of good behaviour for 12 months, and stand convicted till good find and costs be paid and security be given.
Jan 2—James Cahill jr. a boy for trespass on property of Robert Taylor, case abandoned.
3—Andrew Hayden, drunk and disorderly, convicted, fined 5s., with costs, or be imprisoned 18 hours.
4—Andrew Hayden, for assault and battery. Arthur Mullins of Johnson's river, settled out of court.
5—Cammiller for the ensuing week J. C. Macdonald, Esq.

His Worship the Mayor, with very great propriety, considered that as the season of the year had arrived for so high driving accidents might occur, that those who should drive in a disorderly or reckless manner, might depend on it, that the Police would be vigilant in the discharge of their duty, to apprehend such parties, and bring them to justice. The public has a right to a lawful use of the streets and thoroughfares, uninterrupted, and this Court would see that they were preserved by their right from any disorderly driving, and if persons wished to break in horses or to drive in a furious or improper manner, they must not do so on the streets or squares of the city, or on the public highways.

No Speaker had been elected for the U. S. House of Representatives on the 27th. The last ballot on that day resulted as follows: Banks, 103; Richardson, 67; Feller, 31; scattering, 9. Necessary to a choice, 106.

Van Dieman's Land exists no longer, the Queen having acceded to a petition from the colony, praying that the name of Van Dieman's Land should be changed to "Tasmania."

It is said Gen. Canrobert is about to marry the daughter of one of the physicians of the Emperor, a beautiful lady, thirty-two years of age, who has hitherto rejected all proposals of marriage, and who will bring him as a dowry, an income of 150,000 francs. This is a match of the Emperor's making.

REMAINS OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.—St. Paul, M. T., Dec. 22—Mr. Stewart arrived from Red River last evening, on his way to Canada, carrying despatches to Sir George Simpson, containing information of the discovery of the point where Sir John Franklin and his party perished. It was on the coast opposite Montreal Island. They found the bones in the sand, within an extent of 12 miles. This is the fifth winter since they perished, and the drifting sands of that barren region, being in latitude 53° north, have filled in successive layers to the bones of these noble and ill-fated men.

Mr. Stewart describes the region as dreary in the extreme, and a shade of grass nor a stick of timber met the eye. No game of any kind could be found.

He was informed by the Esquimaux, that they, the Esquimaux, reached the spot just in time to see the remains of a man, who was leaning against some object which he discovered; he was too far away to be saved.

Mr. Stewart has brought home the remains of a bow, having the name of Sir John Franklin on it, a hammer, a knife, part of a blue flag, and other articles belonging to the unfortunate vessel.
