On 279 Special Trains,
C. G. Railways

Up to March 1st 757,400 Troops have travelled over Government Railways.

Thousands arrive each week at Halifax and are sent forward to Dispersal Areas.

Since the war began in 1914 up to March 1st, when S.S. Belgic disembarked her returned soldier passengers at Halifax 757,400 troops have been carried on special trains over the Canadian Government Railways.

The first train which carried troops over the Government Railways the year the war was declared was numbered one and all special troop trains to and from Halifax since that time have been numbered consecutively. The last train from the Belgic was on Saturday No 1279. Each train averages about twelve cars with an average of 50 men to a car, which figures up a total of 757,400 men carried. Of course in addition to this thousands of soldiers have journeyed between Montreal and Halifax by regular trains during the past four years.

The movement of troops back to Canada is now approaching its greatest activity. Last Sunday 5000 arrived at Halifax by the transports Lapland and Belgic and fifteen special trains were despatched westward inside of fourteen hours.

G. S. Megantic with soldiers and dependants arrived Wednesday and S.S. Adriatic is due Sunday. The movement of returning men is to be kept up actively all summer.

The process of disembarkation at Halifax is being carried on without a hitch, and there is a fine system of co-operation between the Military and the Railway officials.

Look! Read! Realize.

We cater to the men's trade, and no other. If you were sick you wouldn't call to see a Tailor, or a Blacksmith, about the condition of your health. Of course not; you would call to see a Doctor.

If you wanted a Suit or an Overcoat would you go to see a Doctor, or a Shoemaker? Not at all. You would go to see a First Class Tailor.

WELL, there's where we shine!!!
We study the business. We know what suits a young man we know what suits a middle-aged man, and we know what suits the old gentleman—both in goods and in style. It does not make any difference whether you want your clothes Ready-to-Wear, or Made-to-Order. We are equally in a position to suit you. We do not let a suit or overcoat leave our establishment until it suits and fits the man who is buying. Our prices are always right when you take the quality into consideration.

Do not forget that we are sole agents for the famous W H Leishman & Co., Wholesale Custom Tailors. We have an elegant stock of Overcoats to show you at the present time.

MacLELLAN BROS.

At The Federal Capital

Proceedings of the House of Commons during the week ending March 20th, were not of a very extraordinary or exciting character. Scarcely any public matter of outstanding character was under discussion. Private members days were taken up with the discussion of various matters, of more or less importance, viewed from the local point of view of the different members who discussed them and who of course regarded them as of utmost possible importance to their respective constituencies. In many of these discussions on the resolutions of private members, a very large amount of valuable information was brought out during the debates, and important points might very well be appropriated in a general way in their bearings on matters of Dominion-wide extent.

The most important debate, from a national point of view, was that upon the approval of the peace treaty between the allied and associated countries and Bulgaria. The terms of this treaty are, generally speaking, about along the lines of those contained in the peace treaty with Germany which was discussed and approved and ratified during the autumn session of last year. In the discussion of the Bulgarian treaty, about the same arguments were employed as those used when the first peace treaty was under discussion in the House. The treaty was presented to the House by the President of the Privy Council, Hon. N. W. Rowell, who made a speech of considerable length in moving the adoption of the treaty and developed the constitutional aspects of the case in an admirable manner, bringing out all the points relative to the position of Canada, as one of the self-governing nations of the British Commonwealth. The position of Canada as a nation standing side by side with the United Kingdom and the other self-governing Dominions of the Empire was elaborated and placed in the most satisfactory light that the citizens of Canada might desire as in the former debate, when in the first peace treaty there was some discussion and some exception taken to the contention of the Government relative to Canada's status. The leader of the opposition was not critical in his remarks on Canada's national status, but he was disposed to give a great amount of credit for the advancement and development of the national idea for Canada to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and others as well as to Sir Robert Borden. Apart from that he expressed himself as quite pleased with the advanced position that Canada had taken, and hoped it would be maintained, and still greater advancement made.

The discussion was continued on the Government side by Right Hon. Mr. Doherty, Minister of Justice, who made a most important contribution to the constitutional side of the question. No one could do this better than the Minister of Justice. In the first place, because he is thoroughly versed in all the constitutional aspects of the case, is a profound constitutional lawyer, and in addition, was a member of the peace conference, and one of the signers on behalf of Canada of the first peace treaty. The Minister of Justice expressed no desire to detract from any of those Canadian statesmen who had done anything towards advancing Canada's national status prior to the time the matter was taken up by Sir Robert Borden. He was quite prepared to give to them every credit that was their due, but he went on to show that in the later stages, from 1916 to the present time, Sir Robert Borden had performed most wonderful work on behalf of Canada in this connection. His onerous and successful labor at the peace conference and his success in his fight for Canada's equal representation at the conference were all reviewed. In most sarcastic terms he demolished the flippant attitude assumed towards this question by Hon. Mr. Fielding and some other members of the opposition, who considered it their duty to do what they could to injure the prestige of Canada in her advanced position among the self-governing nations of the British Empire. The winding up of the debate by Hon. Mr. Rowell was illuminating, and admirable in every way, and left nothing to be desired so far as the exposition of Canada's place in the peace treaty and among the self-governing nations of the Empire are concerned. The motion passed without a division.

Apart from the discussions in the House of Commons, a most important feature of the week's proceedings was the presentation to the House of the estimates of expenditure for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1921. The estimates show that the total expenditure on consolidated account would amount to 377 millions, consolidated revenue, this, along with capital and demobilization account, make a total expenditure for the year of $537,149,428.09. The expenditure on consolidated revenue of ordinary account, it is expected, will leave a deficit on the year's transaction of about 70 millions. The deficit on the year's work may be made up by money secured from additional taxation, or from the money secured by a loan issue. This, of course, will not be known until the finance minister makes his budget speech. These are certainly very large figures; but it must be remembered that the war has generated us with a huge debt, which it is our duty to meet in accordance with the means available from the resources of Canada. All this can be accomplished, and will be accomplished by care and prudent management of public affairs. It is better not to say anything more about the figures of our debt and expenditure and the possible means to be employed for meeting these until the whole question is submitted to Parliament, when the finance minister makes his financial statement. The expenditures for Public Works all over the Dominion were pared down as closely as possible, and in the matter of new works nothing has been put in the estimates except in cases where absolute necessity existed. In this connection, it may be stated that the amount in the estimates for public works in Prince Edward Island, in connection with harbors and rivers, amounts to $105,000.00. Of this amount $75,800.00 goes to King's County. Most of the items for this county, which had been desired in the way of repairs, have been provided for in the estimates, notwithstanding the vigorous paring down exercised by the finance minister. Amounts particularly relative to this expenditure may be given in future correspondence.

It is not expected that very long debates may take place in the House of Commons before the Easter recess, with one or two possible exceptions. The estimates of 20 millions for the Government Canadian Merchant Marine will probably be discussed during the week ending March 27th, and possibly also the Franchise Bill may be up for second reading during the same week. It is possible that a good deal of discussion will take place on both these questions, especially of the Franchise Bill, as it is well known no Dominion Franchise Bill was ever introduced into Parliament that had not had a rough passage before reaching its completion. The present bill, on the

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

Keep the Bowels Regular and Prevent Constipation.

When the bowels cease to work properly all the organs of the body become deranged, therefore a free motion of the bowels every day should be the rule of every one who aspires to perfect health.

Keep the bowels regular and you will have no constipation, no bilious or sick headaches, no painful internal bleeding or protruding piles, etc.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the bowels so that you will have a free and easy motion every day.

They do not grip, weaken, or sicken, nor do they leave any bad after-effects.

Mrs. J. F. Boudier, North West Cove, N.S. writes: "I suffered with sick headaches and constipation for over a year. I used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and am completely cured now. I recommend your medicine to all."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25¢ a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

face of it, seems most reasonable and moderate, and does not appear to afford any very great grounds for radical exception; but one never knows what turn a debate on a question of this kind may take, and it is surprising sometimes the length to which these discussions go, and the virus that may be injected into them as they proceed. However, it is unnecessary to anticipate any extraordinary scenes in connection with these matters; the only thing is to wait until the time arrives for grappling with these subjects, and then we shall see what we shall see.

The weather latterly has taken a very considerable turn for the better. The sun has come out very strong, the snow has disappeared wonderfully rapidly, and the evidences at present are favorable to the advent of spring, although changes are so sudden that we may have still a considerable touch of winter more than once yet before we can say we have landed into summer weather. The young hickories of spring are with us, and they may be seen and heard at every turn in the city at the present time. The ice is fast disintegrating on the Rideau, and on the great lawn in front of Parliament Hill the snow has almost entirely disappeared, and the evidences of the green grass are becoming apparent. Should the present conditions continue, it will only be a short time until we will have summer conditions, as far as the weather is concerned.

Can Eat Anything Now.

Now Many Dyspeptics Can Say This?

The sufferer from dyspepsia and indigestion who has to pick and choose his food, is the most miserable of all men.

Even the little he does eat causes such misery, and is digested so imperfectly that it does him little good.

What dyspeptics need is not dieting or artificial digestion, but something that will put the stomach right so it will manufacture its own digestive fermenta.

For over 20 years Burdock Blood Purifiers has been restoring stomachs to a normal, healthy condition so that the sufferer has no longer causes distress, but is thoroughly digested and assimilated, and the dyspeptic can eat what he pleases without any suffering.

Mr. F. Dalton, Collingwood, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with dyspepsia and was induced to try Burdock Blood Purifiers. I took three bottles and am cured entirely; my stomach is free of pain; I can eat anything I wish, and I feel any bad effects."
