Training Teachers.

We observe with pleasure that Dr. Curtis in his report is emphasizing the serious disadvantages under which our teachers labor. Here is what he says:—

"The teachers of Newfoundland labour under serious disadvantages. They have no regular training school in which to prepare for the practical work that lies before them. They obtain some theoretical knowledge, of course, and if they keep their eyes open they may observe much in the way of method from the different teachers with whom they come in contact. But opportunities for the exercise of their gifts in the work of actual teaching are almost nil, until they find themselves with the responsibility of a school on their hands, and then they must do the best they can. In some instances creditable work is done; a few do splendidly; some badly; but none of them can do the work that would have been possible with proper training. It is with this insufficient qualification that a large number of teachers now employed entered upon their work. If they adopt poor methods of teaching their schools suffer, their pupils fail to benefit in full from their opportunity at school, and the work of education is retarded."

Dr. Curtis recommends the establishment of a Summer School for teachers where up-to-date methods may be studied. He is convinced such a course would be beneficial.

Technical Education.

This new form of instruction is quite modern. Since 1890 it has been very much helped by the National Association for the promotion of Technical Education in England. It has made much progress in America and there is great enthusiasm for this new method of education in Canada and especially in the far west. In Winnipeg they are now building a splendid modern school specially devoted to this subject. George Prowse the Judge's eldest son, who is the leading expert and lecturer on this branch of modern education has been appointed head master, with a large teaching staff under him and he is supervising the internal fitting up of the class rooms. Technical education is of two kinds, oral teaching and written exercises and hand training in the various trades. Prowse's method as best adapted to elementary schools is chiefly hand training, and the result is very successful. At all his lectures he shows examples of the work of his young scholars.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Mr. Michael Leary, of Fleming St., is 84 years old. Mr. Samuel Churchill, of John Street, is 86. Both are considerably over the age which qualifies for Old Age Pensions.

Robbing the Dead.

Recently Miss Ewing, widow of the late A. F. Ewing, placed a number of valuable bulbs on the grave of her husband in the C. E. Cemetery and on going to visit the grave a few days ago Mrs. Ewing was appalled to find that all had been stolen. It is about high time that this desecration and spoliation of the resting places of the dead ceased. Yearly these cases are recorded in the press, and people of all denominations should join in an effort to put a stop to this robbery of the dead. Of course any person guilty of this ghastly work will receive no mercy at the hands of the authorities.

New Letter Machine.

The P.M.G. has installed a stamping and punching machine in the Post Office. It will register automatically the number of letters stamped in a day. It will date and efface in the twinkling of an eye. It will be run by an electric battery and will make 1,200 revolutions in a minute. The motor to run it will be installed on Monday next. Formerly all the letters were stamped by hand but now they will be done by this machine. Mr. Clark, the head of the letter department is delighted with the invention. It will be worked by J. Murphy.

SALMON AT THE COVE.—Mat Churchill had four salmon in his net at Portugal Cove this morning. Most of the people who have salmon nets there are afraid to put them out on account of icebergs.

Fire on Schooner.

This forenoon a fire broke out at the wharf of Jas. Baird, Ltd., in the fore-castle of the schr. Nimrod, James Efford, master. The men were landing fish when suddenly they observed volumes of smoke coming through the companion way. A bucket brigade was formed and water thrown into the apartment, when the blaze was quenched quickly. Some birch rinds near the stove had ignited and clothing owned by Jos. Efford on a locker near were destroyed. Had the fire occurred at night the vessel might have been badly damaged.

Police Court.

To-day two drunks were discharged. A deserter from the Gaspe was put on board. Two drunks, one of whom was in charge of a horse, were each fined $2 or 7 days, and a drunk for the fifth time this season was fined $5 or 14 days. Billy Rendell was sent down for 10 days for vagrancy. A man summoned by Const. Gardiner for loose and disorderly conduct was fined $2 or 7 days. A man summoned at the instance of Mrs. Ellen Carrigan for assaulting her did not appear on the summons and a warrant has been sworn out for his arrest. According to her evidence he caught the woman by the throat and tried to choke her. Mr. Higgins appeared for her. A case between two Outer Cove men for a breach of the fishery laws in connection with the wrongful placing of salmon nets, was adjourned until Monday.

Reid N.F. Co's. Ships.

It is most likely that the steamer for the Labrador service the coming summer, in place of the S. S. Invermore, will be the S. S. Solway. The negotiations were practically closed by the President of the Co., Mr. W. D. Reid, through Mr. A. D. Brown. The Solway was built in 1881 by Barclay Curlew & Co. at Glasgow. She is 220 feet long, 30 feet wide and 15 feet deep, and 182 nominal horsepower. She was bolted anew by A. J. Inglis of Glasgow, in 1899.

The house was a squalid one, contained no furniture and the girl's condition was of a nature which excited the pity of the men. No woman could be procured to attend her. Dr. Campbell was called and looked after her and she was sent to the S. A. Home.

When using a bottle of glue the stopper may be prevented from sticking by rubbing a fresh one with a little lard or grease of some kind and using that in place of the old, sticky one. Hemstitched tablecloths and napkins can be nicely mended when the hemstitching breaks by fagoting the edges together with strong thread. This will wear as long as the article.
