Objects to Discrimination.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—During my absence from the city a few days ago I understand that a large number of fishermen held a meeting in the city and passed resolutions demanding an increased price for Labrador fish. I want to compliment the fishermen who comprised this gathering, and I want to publicly congratulate all who in any way assisted this movement, which has in my opinion "forced the combine" to give the toilers, the protection that they and their dependents are entitled to.

As far back as August I pointed out through your paper how serious conditions were, and how much more serious they would become by the end of the year if fish did not realize an average price of $10.00 per quintal, tal-qual. I went so far as to say that if Mr. Coaker who was in close touch with all our markets, was absolutely certain, that conditions abroad would warrant this price being paid locally, and the exporters refused to pay this figure—that he would be, in my opinion, justified in using the funds of the Treasury to purchase and market our whole catch. No notice was taken of my suggestion; things were allowed to go from bad to worse, and while the opponents and supporters of Mr. Coaker's fish policy were fighting and squabbling about one Ragnoli of Italy and arguing as to whether Messrs. Squires and Hawes automobile, steamboat or flew to Genoa, the poor deluded fishermen were being compelled to sacrifice for truck in most cases the fruits of their summer's work.

Now in the last week in November, when most all the season's catch is in the stores of the merchants gathered in at starvation prices—several hundred fishermen holders of Labrador fish meet here in St. John's and decide to make a fight for what they consider to be their rights, and I hereby publicly endorse their action. The Government, so it is said, comes to the rescue and guarantees an increase of $1.00 per quintal. Bravo men!

But, Mr. Editor, what about the man from Twillingate who had shore fish? What about the thousands of good honest hard working fishermen East, West, North and South who had to accept what the merchant and the Government Inspector wished to give them? What about the underdog who stood by and saw his voyage slaughtered by some incompetent or over officious inspector? What about the poor fisherman who was compelled to remain silent while he saw his good, clean, well cured fish because it may be a little sun cracked, taken in by the exporter under the supervision of an Inspector as West India, and sent out later as good Brazilian fish? I repeat, Mr. Editor, what about these men?

If Government assistance is to be given to fishermen. It must be country wide. The man in Placentia Bay, St. Mary's Bay, Fortune Bay, or any other section of the country has no prior claim on the Treasury of this Dominion, and unless the same privilege is extended, the same protection and assistance given to all fishermen, no government will ever vote one dollar in the House of Assembly while I am sitting there as one of the people's representatives.

Countless thousands of the human race have died fighting lesser evils than this style of class legislation, and men can be found to-day, thank God, who are prepared to fight to the death any attempt to penalize and discriminate against any section of the country and its people by any Government.

Yours truly,
W. J. WALSH.

Christian Brothers' Collection.

A REMINDER.
Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Next Sunday all pupils and other friends of the Christian Brothers will be afforded another opportunity of expressing in a practical way that regard which is due to those devoted teachers.

I do not think that any words of mine are necessary to emphasize the value of the teachings of that excellent community of education, the devoted Christian Brothers, for their record is known over all the land, and the good that they are accomplishing great beyond the power of description.

All that I seek to do is to say but a few words of reminder so that none may forget next Sunday and that all will give generously. The Christian Brothers collection never yet lagged behind for whatever other calls or conditions confronted us. We felt that our good friends of Mount St. Francis should not be forgotten, but that rather as time went on so should our contributions increase to meet their growing expenses.

We have always prided ourselves on making this collection greater from year to year, and if we keep this aim in view again next Sunday, it is confidently hoped that another triumph will be scored. Now boys, young and old, we who spent the happy days in the class rooms of St. Patrick's Hall and Holy Cross, under the tutelage of the masters whom we loved so well, and who yielded up to us their lives devotion in order that we may receive the blessings of education, let us in our turn now show again that we do not forget what the Christian Brothers have done for us. Let us spend the last dollar that we have, so that the collection will be greater than ever, and thus bring joy to ourselves and a slight recompense to our good old teachers, the noble Christian Brothers.

Yours truly,
FIRST DESK.

For the Benefit of "Insides."

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—I notice by the Royal Gazette of Tuesday that the price of Labrador codfish in Greece has been reduced to 80¢ for all qualities. This, to my mind, is a very suspicious deal, and shows signs of crookedness on the part of the Advisory Board for the protection of one or two members of the Board.

You will remember that the steamer Snelfield was loaded with Straits and Labrador fish and sailed for Malaga. It is common knowledge that this steamer discharged a large quantity of fish at Malaga, and then left for Greece with about 8000 qts. It has also been reported that the quality of the fish which is now in this steamer going to Greece is not of the best, the fish showing signs of turning pink. There are no storage facilities in Greece and naturally the owners of the fish still in the Snelfield are somewhat anxious to sell to arrive.

What is more natural therefore than that those interested—who, by the way, are members of the Advisory Board—should advocate the reducing of the price to 80¢ to try and induce the Greeks to buy. To my mind this is not a square deal, as according to reports received cargoes of fish have been sold to Greece this season as high as 90¢, and while prices were being maintained why cut them unless to protect some favored ones?

It would be interesting to hear from some member of the Board as to the reason of the cut in price.

What a nice position for American buyers, who had bought any large quantity of fish at 88¢ c.i.f., New York, and given a bond that they would not sell less than the regulation price would be to-day. And this, I understand, was the position the Americans took, that they had no guarantee that the Government would not themselves cut the price and they would then have to shoulder heavy losses, but they were wise enough to stay out and buy the fish elsewhere.

Yours truly,
INQUISITIVE.

A Strange Situation.

The strident demand of William Jennings Bryan that the President whose regime has been repudiated by the people should resign forthwith and make way for the popular choice, for the sake of world peace, calls attention sharply to one of the wide variations of American Constitution from the principles of direct responsible government.

For four months after a new leader is chosen the old President holds office, with all his powers unimpaired. Until next March the American people will live under an administration in which it has lost confidence and the country will be governed by an authority conspicuously deprived of public favor.

Furthermore, the whole world will be influenced adversely through the fact that the Wilson Administration lacks the Congressional support necessary to enable it to contribute to international stability by entering upon any plan of co-operation with other Governments. Not the voice of the American people, but the voice of a small number of worthy American citizens coming out of the eighteenth century dictates present public policy at Washington.

Nineteen amendments have been made to the Constitution of the United States. The ease with which the prohibition amendment was put through suggests that, in due time they will find the process readily applicable to the present anomaly.—Montreal Daily Star.
