

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

WHY CLANK THEM!

Clank, Clank, Clank.
What is that I hear? It's the clanking of chains in the house across the way.
You would never expect to see that house or the people that live in it, that one would hear such a sound when one stops for a chat on the veranda of a Sunday morning in September. It is a darling little newly wed house with a white kitchen cabinet, and blue gingham curtains in the kitchen, and a baby grand piano in the living room, and a pink rambler shading the porch, and a little silver standing out in front. And the people who live in it are the dearest young couple who have been married two years and still adore each other.

And yet I am perfectly sure I did hear chains clanking and this was the way of it.

The Lady Pouts.

The man of the house was reading a book in the glaucous hammock when I stopped up to ask the lady of the house if she would like to take a walk with a crowd of us. She was delighted, just what she wanted to do and called upon Jack to be delighted too. He wasn't. He had had a hard week at the office and he wanted to read his book. "Oh do come," she begged. "I want you to go, too."

"There's plenty others going," he reminded her. "You'll have a good time."
"Yes, but it's more fun if you go, too."
"But I don't feel like walking."
A very pretty pout from the lady and a "Won't you please, dear?"

An uneasy movement from the male: "If you want to walk and I want to read why don't you do what you want to do and let me do what I want to do?"

"Because it's much more fun if you come along. You didn't use to want to read and let me go to walk with other people before we were married."

I came away about this time. I thought it better. But I came away with that clanking of chains in my ears.

Why do women do it?

But Not All the Time.

I know the lady in the case would say that that is what people get married for—to be companions and do things together.

So they do. But she and Jack do a dozen things together. If he wants to do one thing and she wants to do another once in a while what bad judgment it is to make him feel that he either has to do what she wants to do, or be branded as less loving than he used to be. What an unwise thing it is to make him bear the clanking of chains! There's nothing in the world, people, and especially males, hate more than being made to do things. It takes the pleasure out of things you would otherwise want to do. Of course there has to be more or less of that in marriage but, for goodness sake, don't make it more when you don't have to.

He Heard Them Clank.

When we started for the walk, Jack was among us looking distinctly resentful.

During the walk she coaxed him back into good humor but that didn't alter the fact that he had heard the chains clank.

Marriage doesn't make two people always want to do the same things at the same time. Of course each must sometimes do what he doesn't want to do for the other's sake. But when there can be freedom, when each can do what he wants and meet refreshed afterwards, for goodness sake, don't clank the chains—it doesn't pay.

Obituary.

MRS. N. J. COLLIER.

With the passing of Mrs. Nicholas J. Collier yesterday morning, another well known family is left to mourn. For some time she had been in indifferent health, but a naturally buoyant spirit enabled her to bear her illness patiently and with singular brightness. During the past week, however, it was seen that the end was near, and she passed away peacefully in the early morning hours of yesterday. Her husband predeceased her about seven years ago, and one son, Mr. Eric Collier, is left of her immediate family. She will be greatly missed by many friends who admired her cheerful and charitable words and deeds. In the sympathy being extended to the family that of the Telegram is added.

St. Lawrence
Welcomes New Pastor.

REV. FATHER THORNE RECEIVED BY CONGREGATION.

St. Lawrence was an fête yesterday to welcome Rev. Father Thorne as its new Parish Priest. Bunting flew from every building in the place, and the church grounds were literally covered with flags. The whole congregation turned out en masse to honour their new pastor. Before prayers the members of the Holy Name Society lined the route from Presbytery to the church. When it was time for prayers his Reverence walked through its ranks preceded by the officers and band. When Benediction was over the appended Address was read by the President of the Holy Name Society, to which our new pastor replied in eloquent and very beautiful words. The Society again formed ranks through which his Reverence walked back to the Presbytery, and from its balcony again thanked his people for the reception given him, which brought responses in cheers and volleys of musketry. Until a few days ago Fr. Thorne was Parish Priest at L'Anse-au-Loup. We know his loss will be felt there, but their loss is our gain. The accompanying address suffices to show how glad we are to have him as our Pastor, and may God spare him many years in our midst is our hope.

St. Lawrence, Sept. 9, 1922.

ADDRESS

To Very Rev. Father Thorne, P.P. On His Appointment as Parish Priest of St. Lawrence, Sept. 1st, 1922.

Very Rev. and Dear Pastor:

The keynote of our address to-day is wholeness of joy, and its object is to bid you a hearty and cordial welcome. Never before have we felt so keen a joy and satisfaction at welcoming a priest to our parish. Never before was such gratification given to us as is to-day at the pleasure and honour of welcoming you, Dear Rev. Father as our Pastor. In doing so we are not welcoming a stranger, whom we do not know, but one who has lived with us, laboured for us, and endeared himself to us. One who has grown into our hearts and lives and become a pledge between us and our God.

For weeks we were hoping and praying that you would be the one chosen, and when your appointment confirmed our hopes, we felt that God had conferred upon us a blessing beyond compare. You have given to us a Priest whom we knew and revered, one who had come to us with the Holy Oil of Ordination fresh upon him, and filled with Christ-like charity and ardent zeal, had laboured for the honour and glory of the Divine Master. For three years you have toiled in our midst, going to and fro on this perilous coast, to minister to the spiritual wants of the people of two parishes, often at the cost of much hardship and great sacrifice, risking your health and life to bring the sacraments and consolation of Holy Religion to us, when our own beloved Pastors were either absent or suffering from severe illness. No wonder then that our joy and pride are great and our welcome unbounded as we look upon you filled with the Holy Spirit of zeal and sacrifice and strong in your faith and manhood.

And now Dear Rev. Father we pray that God may make us worthy of the blessing He has bestowed upon us, and crown your labours with success. May your years be long and happy amongst us; may they conduce to that happy result by our loyal attention and obedience to your instructions, and our ready and willing co-operation with you in all your plans and labours for the uplifting and welfare of our parish. May we cooperate faithfully with you in all your undertakings, feeling assured that our good is your only aim and our advancement your greatest desire, and may the bonds of love and gratitude which bind us to you to-day and bids us rejoice with an exceeding joy, strengthen and increase as the years roll on, are the fervent wishes of your loyal and grateful parishioners.

Senef's Report.

50,000 QUINTALS NORTH OF HOPE-DALE.

The following message has been received by the Minister of Shipping from Capt. Barbour of S.S. Senef:—"Over one hundred and nine schooners are fishing North of Hope-DALE and have each an average catch of four hundred and seventy quintals codfish. The probable total catch is fifty thousand quintals. Strong gales from the N.E. have been recorded since September, seven traps were wrecked and some lost, but fortunately no schooners met with mishap. Since last report the fish are scarce and the weather is still stormy. Went West as far as Bear Gut."

Small Boy Drowned.

FELL OVER WHARF ON SOUTH-SIDE.

Two men who were walking on the Southside Public Wharf at 8.30 p.m. yesterday, discovered the body of a 4½ year old Frederick Porter, floating face downward in the water.

The body was recovered, and upon being identified was taken to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Porter, where the efforts of two doctors failed to find a spark of life. It is believed that the boy was playing on the wharf, and that he was knocked overboard by an oil cask which was found in the water. His sudden death came as a great shock to his parents to whom the Telegram extends sympathy.

On Wednesday last the Shannon Athletic Association had an Excursion to Bell Island. Some left here 7 a.m. by the S. S. Pawnee. At that hour the weather did not look very promising, which no doubt prevented a lot from taking in the excursion, but the day proved a very fine one, and the Shannon team with a picked team from the Iron Isle played a good game of football there. The result was a win for Bell Isle, one to nil. A dance was held in the Star Hall in the night, the music furnished being by the C.L.R. Band. The party arrived here again at 3 a.m., having spent a delightful time.

Mr. Ralph B. LeDrew left town on Tuesday for St. John's to connect with the S. S. Canadian Sapper enroute for Canada. Mr. LeDrew was formerly employed at the Cable Office here and also at Bay Roberts. He will now make his home in Regina, to which place the good wishes of his many friends follow him.

Mr. J. H. Mace, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, who has been ill for the last couple of weeks, is now improving. Mr. J. A. Dunbar is at present relieving him.

Mr. Wm. Noel of the Surveyor's Department, St. John's, is in town on a week's visit to his mother.

Mrs. W. S. Goodwin was a passenger by the S. S. Melgie on Wednesday last for Bonaville. Dr. Goodwin is at present at that place on a professional visit.
