Storms and Blizzards Sweep North Atlantic Coast.

Disasters on Land and Sea -- Turks Will Continue Negotiations -- More Long Drawn Out Conferences -- Newfoundland Arraigned for Homicide.

NEW SWEEPS NEW ENGLAND.

BOSTON, March 7. With a winter of the heaviest snow years, and of biting cold behind it, New Englanders to-day contend with a storm among the worst of the year. Nearly a foot of snow and the wind ran seventy-five miles in exposed parts. The schooner Martha, of Hilton, running light on this coast to Norfolk, was driven ashore on Martha's vineyard. Schools and other cities were closed as a result of the storm.

NEW YORK SUFFERED ALSO.

NEW YORK, March 7. Three persons dead, one dying and several injured, is part of the toll here by a snow storm which began yesterday forenoon and continued until this morning. Two of the victims were found dead in snow banks, and a third slipped from an icy platform and was killed by a train. More than a foot of snow fell and ten thousand were worked all day to clear the arteries of traffic. Marine traffic was seriously disrupted, incoming vessels preferring to remain in quarantine.

BURN FELT IN MARITIMES.

HALIFAX, March 7. The steamer Manchester Corporation ashore in Halifax Harbor, a newly built church blown down by its concrete foundation at Lower Water, Halifax County; a tidal bore several minutes at Yarmouth; and a fire behind their schedule or in all sections—were some of the features of the worst winter of a bad winter, which swept the Maritimes to-day. Lightning bolts were affected and Moncton, N.B., and other places alternated between light and darkness to-night. The prevailing gales seemed to be westerly. Eastern Nova Scotia is several days away from the icebergs.

RECEIVED CALMLY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 7. Turkey's rejection of the Lausanne Peace Treaty, which was not unexpected, has been received calmly in foreign and native circles in Constantinople. The belief still prevails that it is possible to reach a settlement towards peace.

THE TURKISH DEMAND.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 7. The Turkish National Assembly decided the Lausanne Treaty was inadvisable, being contrary to the National Pact. The Government was authorized by an important majority to continue negotiations under certain conditions, the first of which provides for a settlement within a limited period.

WILL COMMAND NEW LINER.

MONTREAL, March 7. Capt. John Davies, one of the best known captains on the St. Lawrence route, will command the new White Star Dominion liner Doric, when she is completed and placed on the Montreal route, it was announced to-day. Captain Davies is now on the Arabic.

HILLS RESIGNS.

LONDON, March 7. John Walter Hills, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, yesterday defeated in the Parliamentary by-election, has resigned from the Government.

CABINET CHANGES.

LONDON, March 7. Neville Chamberlain, Postmaster General, to-day was appointed Minister of Health, succeeding Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen. Sir William Jowett, Parliamentary Secretary for Overseas Trade Department, was appointed Postmaster General.

THE TRAGEDY OF A LIFE.

NEW YORK, March 7. Joseph Murphy, sixty-two, one time honor graduate of a St. John's, Newfoundland College, formerly well-known in Eastern Canada and New York as a travelling salesman, was arraigned before Magistrate Prothmeyer to-day, on alleged suspicion of homicide. He was remanded for examination to March 14th. The story of Murphy as ascertained by the police is the story of a man who had slipped from a position of authority in the business world to a porter in a near drink saloon in Harlem. After graduating, Murphy became an expert in leather and was recognized as one of the leading wholesale salesmen in Canada and New England. Then his investments went wrong and he took to drink, and finally was hired to clean up a Harlem saloon, where he got the nickname of "the sage" from customers that turned the laugh, then, detectives said, O'Rourke struck the old man, Murphy remembering the gibe of many years, stabbed O'Rourke in the neck with a cheese knife, killing him. Last night "the sage" telephoned the police.

to whom he used to pronounce philosophy, and who recognized him as a man with a past. Joseph O'Rourke, a laborer, undertook on Monday to kidnap "the sage." Murphy flung back quips.

18 MONTHS SERVICE FOR FRENCH

PARIS, Mar. 17. The Senate yesterday adopted the Government's project of eighteen months obligatory military service.

MULHEIM OCCUPIED.

LONDON, Mar. 7. A Berlin despatch to the Times, says the French have occupied Mulheim, the seat of the Stines interests.

14 REPUBLICANS ESCAPE.

DUBLIN, Mar. 7. Fourteen prisoners escaped from Galway Jail yesterday by rope ladders, but no prominent leaders were among them. Twenty-five others were captured while attempting to escape.

KILLED BY HIDDEN MINE.

DUBLIN, Mar. 7. Three officers and two men of the Free State troops were blown to pieces by a hidden mine trap connected with a Republican ammunition dump, which had been located by the troops near Knocknagashel, County Kerry.

LORD ROBERT WILL VISIT CANADA.

NEW YORK, Mar. 7. Lord Robert Cecil will spend the period between April 7 and April 11 in Canada, visiting several large cities of the East, it was learned yesterday.

FRENCH RETURN SEIZED NOTES.

BERLIN, Mar. 7. The directorate of the Reichsbank announces that the French authorities on Monday returned to the branch of the Bank at Dusseldorf six boxes of copper plates for use of printing bank notes, seized by the French on February 24th, with twelve billion marks seized at Cologne.

Fads and Fashions.

A tailored suit of camel's hair cloth is bound with a darker tone of the same cloth.

A jacket of real Venice lace is worn over a draped foundation of black crepe satin.

Organdie collars and rumples give a touch of freshness to dark frocks for spring.

A beautiful blouse of vermilion crepe de chine is embroidered in ribbons and silk floss.

A new bertha collar comes to a long narrow point in the back, giving the effect of a cape.

Died of Heart Failure.

SECTION FOREMAN STRICKEN AT NORTHERN TRUCK.

A message to the Reid Newfoundland Company, received Tuesday night, stated that John Costello, a section foreman, had passed away at 6 p.m. on the 6th inst. Dr. Chisholm, who was summoned in attendance when the man was stricken, pronounced death due to heart failure. The deceased was from Avondale where his wife and family reside. Rev. Father Kavanagh was wired to convey the sad intelligence to the unfortunate man's family, for whom general sympathy is felt. The body will be brought to Avondale for interment.

New Ideas in Bridal Bouquets.

Nowadays the successful florist always bears in mind that he is not merely selling flowers, he is selling artistry in blossoms in the same way that the famous French milliners use art in combining ribbons, feathers and other adornments on their most successful millinery creations.

The new bridal bouquets are very beautiful arrangements, says "Say it with Flowers." The finest and most expensive are composed of white orchids, lilies of the valley with maiden-hair fern for the background of delicate green. The well known shower form is still the favorite arrangement, but the florist should never be at a loss to make a lovely 'bridal bouquet of cheaper blossoms, for white roses, narcissus, and other white flowers can be so grouped that the effect is very beautiful.

The very newest idea in bridal bouquets is sometimes called "Two-in-one." It is intended for the bride who is married in a travelling gown and who goes direct from the ceremony to the train. It is composed of a shower bouquet with a corsage bouquet made separately and fastened in the centre so that the bride may detach and wear the latter on her wedding trip and yet have the fun of throwing the flowers in the "shower" to her girl friends.

Bridal bouquets are almost invariably made of white flowers, but occasionally they are given variety by three or four pale pink rose buds inserted near the center.

HOSPITALS AND RED TAPE.

What is a hospital? Is it a place run to take care of sick people and help them to get well? Or is it run just for the purpose of keeping its own rules and regulations and turning out nurses trained in those rules?

There was a time when I should have thought that second question ridiculous. That was before I, or my relatives, had ever had much experience in hospitals. I thought them the ideal place to be sick in because I thought their main purpose was to get people well, and that of course they would have a better plant for that purpose than any private home.

But that was some years ago. My first hospital experience gave me thorough grounding in the relative importance of rules and the patient's needs.

Nation's Best Drug.

As every doctor and most laymen know there is nothing that will do a patient more good than sleep. Yet in many hospitals, if a patient has late awake most of the night and toward morning has fallen asleep, nevertheless, he is waked out of that blessed, refreshing, healing sleep by his face washed. He needs that sleep, it will probably do more toward his recovery than any medicine the doctor can give, but because he must have his face washed before the night nurse goes off duty, nature's most beneficent drug is snatched away from him. And it doesn't do him the slightest good to protest. I know.

Here's another sample of hospital indifference to such minor details as a patient's health. I had had a minor operation in a hospital. I asked the Mussolini's Axe Hits Embassies.

ROME, Feb. (By A.P.)—Premier Mussolini, in his capacity of foreign minister, has decreed important changes in the diplomatic and consular services, abolishing distinction between the two services in so far as the personnel is concerned and calling for economy in the conduct of the various embassies and legations.

He further declares the day past when persons entering the diplomatic service were required to have independent incomes.

WILL BE AMALGAMATED.

No foreigners henceforth will be appointed as representatives of Italy abroad except where no Italian is available. The diplomatic and consular offices will be amalgamated, wherever possible, including those in London, Paris, Berlin and Constantinople, Brussels and Buenos Aires.

As measures of economy all members of the diplomatic and consular services paid in dollars or pounds sterling will suffer a 10 per cent. reduction in salary, and the others will be paid in accordance with the exchange rate of the French franc, while all ambassadors and ministers are ordered to reduce the expenses of their offices by 20 per cent.

This can be done, Signor Mussolini says, "either by paying it out of their own pockets, or by lowering the salaries of their clerks, or by dismissing some."

The commissariat of emigration has been definitely incorporated into the foreign ministry.

The Old Reliable S.U.F. Sofree, first in 9 years, will be held April 10th. Please keep this date open. S. GARDNER, Secretary. mar8,1,1923
