Wembley The Solution

From the Introduction to the Official Guide, Wembley Exhibition, which has recently been issued, are taken the following paragraphs:—

"When we pass from the sense of legitimate pride that Wembley must evoke, the pride that is not one of the seven deadly sins, because it is made up of two cardinal virtues, Faith and Hope, we come to the significant truth that Wembley presents the best of all solutions to the problem of overcrowding and the problem of social unrest. If the Empire is congested at the centre, it is well nigh unpopulated at the circumference. At Wembley those who have the inquiring mind can ascertain precisely what the Empire has to offer, North and South, East and West. They will be able to see more clearly than before how the Dominions and Colonies can supply our needs, and how we can support them, in peace as in war. They will be helped to share and to develop the strong belief of the wisest of our Statesmen that the Empire, without prejudice to any who stand outside, should become self-supporting, and that nothing should be left undone to strengthen the association between the parents at the centre and the children at the periphery.

Yet another great purpose to this wise end is served by the Exhibition. It brings all the races that constitute the Empire into closer and more friendly touch, increasing the understanding that must triumph in the end over all differences of race, colour and faith.

Finally, Wembley serves as a focus of the might, the achievement and the progress of the greatest Empire that history has known, and it is for every citizen who takes a real pride in his citizenship to maintain and encourage the new phase of a vast endeavour."

Whether Wembley proves a financial success or not, there can be little doubt of its effect in bringing the Mother Country and the various parts of the Empire into closer relationship in matters of trade and commerce. Only a few days ago several of the most prominent members of the Labour Party strongly supported the Government on the question of Imperial preference, a significant sign of the change which has taken place in their policy within a few months.

Here is a paragraph from the London Daily Express, which does not show any inclination to approach the subject in a circumlocutory manner but goes straight to the point:

"We are as a nation only dimly aware of the golden chances we possess of calling in these new worlds to redress the balance of the old. Let us have vision. Let us realize that here is the true solution of our unemployment problem. Let the old country go to the aid of the new countries which are ready to feed its millions and to provide it with new markets for its merchants and its manufactures. Forget Europe! Remember the Empire!"

The Times in referring to the action of the Labour members remarks that "the incident is a sign that the whole question of fostering trade within the Empire is passing from the realm of ordinary party conflict." May it not be regarded as the awakening of the people in Great Britain to the realization of the fact that the consummation of such a policy furnishes a solution for most of her social and industrial troubles and the re-establishment on a firmer basis than ever of her world supremacy?

Deplorable and Dangerous Highroads

After the heavy rainstorms of last week, Topsail Road is in a deplorable, and without exaggeration, in a dangerous condition. In places the bridges are a formidable obstacle, and pot holes are numerous. A slight improvement is noticeable on the city end, where it has been patched, but even that part is not by any means deserving of the name of a highroad.

We would suggest that in the interest of safety the first business should be to fill the holes and ruts. Next in order, to expedite matters, the machinery which was formerly used for such work as grading should be employed. To see men making slow progress with hand implements is altogether too reminiscent of the days when snow shovelling and stone breaking operations provided relief work, but were unproductive of useful results.

There is a striking contrast in the work which is being done in the Foxtrap-Seal Cove section. Shale is being used for a top dressing, progress is being made, and good value is being obtained for the money spent. Is there any reason why the same results should not be obtained in the eastern section? If there is, will the Highroads Commission seek to remove the cause as expeditiously as possible?

Paint Up! Clean Up!

Communications endorsing The Telegram's suggestion for a Paint and Clean Up Drive, received too late for to-day's issue, will appear to-morrow.

The hearty approval of the idea on all sides is already sufficient to show clearly the intense feeling which exists to have a better and more beautifully kept city. Speed the movement.

HOLIDAY NEAR TOWN.—Hundreds, who cannot leave town for the whole day on Wednesday, will spend the afternoon and night at the C. L. A. Outing at Smithville. Buses will leave Columbus Hall, Duckworth St., at 2.45 Wednesday.—June 22, 11

Motor Cars in Collision

Yesterday, shortly after 6 p.m., a collision occurred at the junction of LeMarchant and Cooktown Roads, between a motor car owned by Mr. Theo. Kelly, of Gear Street, and a car owned and driven by Mr. S. Noah, of Water Street. The right mud guard of Kelly's car and the right front wheel of Noah's car were smashed. Neither of the drivers were injured. At the time of the accident Mr. Kelly was proceeding west along LeMarchant Road, whilst Mr. Noah was turning out of Cooktown Road to proceed in the same direction.

Going to Labrador

Rev. Fr. McCarthy, J.P., is leaving by S.S. Meigle for the Northwest River, and is being accompanied by Judge Malone, who came here recently from the States on a holiday. Father O'Brien, of Northern Bay, who has charge of the Mission at Northwest River, will accompany the party.

Company Has Taken Over East King's Wharf

We understand that the Government has leased a portion of the King's Wharf, east pier, to the Marine Agencies, Ltd., who are starting business at the W. & G. Rendell premises. A rental of $200 per year is being charged. As far as can be gleaned from the lease provided that the public rights to this place shall not be disturbed. It is the intention of the lessors to extend the pier about 50 feet or more, so as to be in alignment with the pier they are about to erect, and with which it will form a solid block, as an intervening piece of water front known as Gill's Cove, is included in the deal.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

June 20th.—Do learn this day how the storm of this week did much damage to vessels everywhere, and in particular on the coast of Labrador, so that some crews will be compelled to return to their homes, being without gear. The waves of the fishery, however, is good in high every part of the island, and the banking vessels, in particular, do well. Talking this day with Mr. Lake, that is but lately come from Fortune, he tells me how some of the bankers are even now fishing with caplin bait and good reports of them. Anon to the office of the Telegram sheet, where Mr. Jeffery discussed a paint and clean up week, which he thinks would be a good thing for the city, as indeed it would. This evening did play much at tennis, being the first time in a whole season and to my great content.

June 21st (Lord's Day).—Up betimes leaves it is like to last night another 2 1/2 nights. Coming home towards dusk, do find my wife is gone, being that the Poveys did carry her for a drive, and so do wait up against her return, which angers me since I was much in need of rest and of a mind to bar the wretch out.

Belvedere Orphanage Garden Party Meeting

An enthusiastic meeting of the supporters of Belvedere Orphanage took place yesterday in the Recreation Hall, when matters in connection with the annual garden party, which takes place on July 16, were dealt with. The meeting was addressed by Mrs. A. Hiscott, President of the Ladies' Association. Messrs. J. J. Lacey, T. Hickey and C. Merner, were elected Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary, respectively.

As it is the general desire to have this annual affair superior to anything of its kind, it is desirable to add new members to the Committee and another general meeting will be held next Sunday, at which all interested friends are requested to be present to make the necessary arrangements.

CONFEDERATION LIFE.
April 3, 1925, vol. 1

Honk, You There! Honk!!

Now every Tom, Dick and Harry can get in the motorists' way. He can't take out Laura or Carrie. To give them a ride in his dray, for unless he's minded to tarry, He must some stunned citizen slay!

"Ye reckless, fool pedestrians who blockade our thoroughfares! I'd broadcast this bold bid to you. Come 'cross my path who dares! That I may scorch the street; How can I have to dodge Graybeards with halting feet? How can I if the urethra play With rapture unalloyed, At 'Ring a Rosey' in the street When I go out to ride?"

Be gentle, Mr. Motor lord. We beg you to refrain. We beg you to condone our lot. Don't fill the land with slain!

How thankful should we yokels be That we are still alive, When we will cut on Water Street Angles of 45. For oh, they've been some grand sedans All wrecked beyond repair Trying to save pedestrian mopes Who scorn the word "Beware!"

Of course we never shall forget. The noble things you did do. You even checked your motor coach To save a two year kid. You could have knocked that kiddy smash.

(Who'd now have wing to wear). But you're a citizen of worth Who drives his bus with care.

Still! we're a menace to your ilk, Pedestrians great and small, 'Tis only that you're kindly hearts That we're left live at all.

Cochrane Street S. S. Anniversary

Delightful summer weather and good congregations marked the Anniversary Services yesterday. The school missed the presence of its devoted Superintendent, Mr. Arthur C. Peters, who is in Montreal for medical treatment. The Associate Superintendents took charge and the three services were quite successful. Special hymns had been prepared and the scholars sang them with enjoyment and vigour. Mr. Hatcher, who has given such splendid service to Cochrane St. Church, sang "The Plains of Peace" at the morning service and has never been heard to better advantage. In the afternoon Miss Doris Withers charmed everyone by her singing of "The Lord is my Shepherd" while Mr. Steele gave a very pleasing interpretation of "The Task." At the evening service Miss Eleanor Mews sang the noted aria by Stradella, "Righteous Art Thou, O Lord," and her splendid voice filled the large auditorium, while her enunciation was perfect.

The Pastor of the Church, Rev. C. H. Johnson, M.A., B.D., presided at the morning service and gave a most interesting account of the Inaugural Service of the United Church at Toronto whence he had just returned. In the evening Rev. R. J. Power, M.A., of the Kirk, spoke on "In what respects is a boy like a watch?" Mr. Power's address had the attention of even the smallest scholar and he pointed lessons that will be remembered by old and young.

In the afternoon Mr. R. H. Palmer presided, making an ideal Chairman. Mr. Llewellyn Colley gave a most thoughtful and instructive address taking as his subject "Anniversaries." He spoke in a most pleasing manner and engaged the attention of the whole school and the various anniversaries which he mentioned will not soon be forgotten.

A most interesting report, if condensed, was given by the Secretary, Mr. Thomas Young. The Exercises by the Beginners' Department and the Primary scholars were very pleasing and well rendered. Mrs. Johnson, wife of the Pastor, who during her stay has been one of the efficient teachers of the School, was presented with an Address and a bouquet of roses in appreciation of the services which she has rendered. Because of the turning of the itinerant wheel Rev. C. H. and Mrs. Johnson will be leaving Cochrane St. next month and taking up work at George St. Church. Their presence will be missed but the pleasant associations that have been enjoyed will remain as a fragrant memory.

TROUBLE AMONG FRENCH SEAMEN.

HAVRE, June 22.—Agitation among seamen as a result of the imprisonment of the Secretary of the Seamen's Union culminated last night in the desertion of 200 members of the crew of the liner La Savoie. MARSHAL JOFFRE'S CONDITION CAUSES APPREHENSION.

PARIS, June 22.—The condition of Marshal Joffre, who had a chill, yesterday, took a turn for the worse. It is reported his condition is serious. Marshal Joffre was stricken at Louviers, four miles north of Versailles. He has a heavy cold. He has been in poor health for some time and owing to his advanced age (he is 75 years of age), it is feared the veteran soldier may be fighting a losing battle. No official communication concerning his condition was given to-day, but it is probable one will be issued to-morrow.

MACMILLAN GIVEN A SEND OFF.

MONHEGAN ISLAND, Maine, June 21.—The villagers and summer folks of little Monhegan Island, 15 miles off the mainland, gave Lieutenant Commander Donald MacMillan and his crew of the Bowdoin their farewell from the United States as the little craft left this island at noon to-day headed toward the Arctic. The guests of the Bowdoin included Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, President of the National Geographical Society, which is sponsoring and financing the MacMillan expedition. He will go as far as Sydney, N.S. Yesterday Commander MacMillan and the men of the Peary, the other ship of his expedition, as well as those on the Bowdoin, received their official farewell at Wiscasset as he passed out of the harbor. To-day twelve members of the Civilian Club of Minneapolis, who came to Wiscasset yesterday to see the ships start, and who accompanied the Bowdoin to Monhegan, chased after the Arctic ship in a small boat, caught up with her, and threw aboard their morning's catch of fish, mostly cod, enough to last the Bowdoin's crew until they reached Sydney, N.S., next Thursday. At Sydney the Bowdoin will again join the Peary, which sailed ahead last night.

The schooner ran on the rocks on a deserted section of the coast after the wires had been broken down by the storm, and Captain Clark was unable to report the wreck until last night. The 200 glass jars of alcohol carried by the schooner were lost and only a few personal belongings and gear were salvaged.
