ICEMACDONNELL STREET EDNESDAY EV'G, JULY 29, 1869.

THE ISSUES AT STAKE.

The lul! in matters political has n broken by the din of preparation hich the present Coalition Governreat importance necessarily attaches the result. The Reformers of West ork never were called upon to exerthe franchise under circumstances n the present government, and at a ime when the mask has just been orn from the deception and hypocrisy y which the people were deceived ast summer—when the treachery of heir late representative has been nade conspicuous by its price—and then, if they falter in their duty to hemselves and their country, a serius state will be given to political

At the approaching contest, the dectors of West York have two great luties to perform. The first is: to stamps it as utterly recreant to the ondemn Mr. Howland's betrayal of professions made at its formation and the Riding into the hands of Sir John unworthy of public confidence. Macdonald; and the second, to ive their verdict on the reckless and as thus far pursued. The unpopular appointment of Mr. wland to the Lieutenant-Governorhip of Ontario, has exposed the ob-ects and aims of the chief actors in e combinations of last July, and a ore lamentable display of political rickery and human selfishness was eldom ever brought to light. There no use in trying to gloss over or dis. ise the matter. At the recent general election the people of Ontario were deliberately cheated and deceived by bur leading public men. Contrary to their past professions and principles, Messrs. Howland, Macdougall and Sandfield McDonald, joined Sir John . Macdonald and the Tories in formg Coalition Ministries, They came fore the people with loud-mouthed ssions of patriotism; they declar-Coalition Governments were absolutenecessary to "preserve the Union," d that only the highest and pures tives induced them to act together! With these plausible professions on heir lips, they pleaded for "a fair rial," and hundreds of Reformers ot discerning the wolf beneath the ep's clothing-were entrapped into astaining the old and corrupt Macenald-Cartier Combination, which are had consistently opposed for ten atesmen—in what light does the unted Coalition of "the best men of Il parties," new appear? Not, cernly, as the patriotic, disinterested Union-savers" they proclaimed themlives; but, as we have remarked, s an unholy Compact, the offspring political trickery, on the one hand, d human selfishness on the other. Sir J.A. MACDONALD-ever shrewd d ever tricky-knew that the geneal election would bring punishment f his long sacrifice of Upper Canadian terests, unless he could contrive me artful political juggle which ald overthrow Mr. George Brown C. & T. MEREDITH, adhoodwink the electors. A coalition Parties was decided upon. The alpole of Canadian politics, bent all energies to his great task. Mcwas easily caught by the oes of becoming leader of a number anti-Brown Reformers and a constitional dislike to leave office; Sandald McDonald consented (for the first me in his life) to become Sir John's litical shadow for the Premiership Ontario and promises of the Lieut. overnorship; Mr. Howland hesita-day after day, apparently loth to tray the Reform party to which he ed so much, but at last the tempter ited his hook with a written promise the office of Lieut-Governor, and too, fell. Sir John's plot was now mpleted. The elections were hur-d on. The sequel is only too well honor of our new Dominion we e they will perform their duty fearly. It will be an unfortunate ng if that intelligent Reform Ridan be induced to stamp its approat the polls of that system of poli-I legerdemain by which Sir John Macdonald deceived Ontario last mer, and has managed for so long riod to cling to power. It will be bly unfortunate, if the sham ayal of the Reform party by Sand-McDonald, Howland and Mc rall into the hands of the Tories, unequivocally condemned.

e policy pursued by the Governsince the elections, is equally ving of reprobation. The people much reason to feel alarmed their recent actions are approved.— Last summer they asked for support until they "brought down the poliabout the future of the Dominion if cy." But what policy has Sir John ever submitted? The hollow cry "dont condemn us unheard," answered its purpose; but he has not now-nor ever had-any policy but or the West York election. This is he first occasion since the general lection (except that of Lincoln) on ish measures have driven Nova Scocia nearly into rebellion. They were determined to turn over a new leaf and be economical, but create 13 Cabinet offices, votes of $5,000,000 for use. sat has been put upon its triel, and determined to turn over a new leaf and net offices, votes of $5,000,000 for useless Fortifications, and an increase of f greater responsibility. They are and dealy required to give their verdict, at the most state of the annual expenditure to nearly $17,000,000, attests how their promises the most state. long, costly and useless Robinson route, for the Intercolonial Railway to prevent the Coalition breaking up and enable Sir John to continue to be Premier, shows that the Ethiopian still has his inky skin and the leopard his spots. Mr. Howland's unpopular appointment is worthy of the worst days of the Cartier-Macdonald regime, and when added to the other unpopular acts which the present Government has crowded into its short career,

These are among the issues upon which the electors of West York are ngerous policy which the Coalition required to express their opinion-They have in Mr. H. S. Howland a nomince of the Coalition and a supporter of its acts. Mr. Amos Wright stands before them as the Reform opponent of the Administration. The polls must decide which of them the electors consider in the right. The Gov't has evidently hurried on the contest in the middle of the harvest, to endeavour to steal a march upon the electors of the Riding, the great majority of whom are farmers. from the past history of West York. we do not believe this device will avail Sir John and his candidate much. Alarmed at the extravagant and dangerous course of the Government, and disgusted by the recent developments in connection with the Lieut.-Governorship, there is reason to believe that Mr. H. S. Howland will be sent to the right about, and a rebuke administered to the Coalitionass not unobjectionable, still their characteristics. Government were sheafule, check them in their mad career. check them in their mad career.

Since the the above was in type we learn by our Toronto exchanges that Mr. Howland has retired.
