"Well, have you fixed the status of the lady who moved in across the street," asked Mr. Tenspot.

"Not yet," replied his wife. "She has no car."

"No?"

"No Pom, no Peke, no talking machine; I can't imagine what she has."

"Maybe they have a bank account."

AFRAID OF LOSING YOUR JOB HE QUIT RIGHT THEN

The young fellow who is all the time afraid of losing his job, probably does not deserve to keep it. It is the incompetent worker or the lazy worker who is always fearful that some one will be put in his place. If you are doing the work you should do, and are doing it with the enthusiasm and zeal which belong to it, the last thing that will enter your mind is that some body else is going to get your place.

A young and untried fireman was serving at his first fire, and the chief, rushing up to him, shouted, "Climb up that ladder to the eighth floor, crawl along the cornice to the fourth window, drop down three floors and catch that wooden sign you see smoking; then swing yourself along to the second window, break the glass, and go in and see if there's anyone about. Well, what are you waiting for?"

"For pen and ink sir," said the new man. "I want to hand in my resignation."
