Rebuilding and Alteration Sale.

228, 230, 232 DUNDAS STREET.

LONDON'S CHEAPEST STORE.

You Save Money By Trading at Whiskard's.

For many years this has been the sentiment expressed by thousands of people in the city of London and surrounding country. Among the crystallized chunks of common-sense handed down to the present generation of this city is the oft-repeated truth, "It pays to trade at WHISKARD'S." 'Tis a fact known far and wide, a statement that brings in force every day of our business life, because each day brings new evidence that we have the goods the people want. Quality right, prices right, therefore our stores are crowded.

Laidlaw, John G. Galloway, Douglas, Charles Sumner, Miss Edith Savers, Miss Maggie A. Murray and Rev. E. W. Savers.

Rev. W. R. Ross, president of the Presbytery, occupied the chair, and with him on the platform were Rev. R. Johnston, of St. Andrew's and Rev. D. R. Drummond, of Knox Church, St. Thomas.

After opening devotional exercises, reports were received from secretaries and the various congregational organizations as to the plan of study, method of contribution and the work done in 1896.

Rev. R. Johnston gave an admirable address on "The Devotional in Our Meetings." He emphasized the following points: Reality, consciousness of need, reverence, consciousness of God's presence, in the name of Jesus Christ. Praise should be hearty and helpful. In the reading of the Scriptures we should hear, heed and obey. Mr. Savers made a brief and earnest speech in regard to prayer, and Mr. John Cameron spoke of the necessity of bright, spiritual singing.

Mr. Henderson of Appleton, said that pastors should bear in mind that young people's meetings are training schools.

Messrs. Alex. Stewart and Smith also spoke briefly.

Rev. Alex. Henderson presented a paper on "The Assembly's Plan of Study." Messrs. Johnston, Currie and others took part, and it was moved by Mr. Currie: "That this convention respectfully request the assembly's committee to provide a plan of study for every week in the year. At some discussion of the plan of study, the motion for the present. This closed the afternoon session.

At the evening session, on Monday of the church was fairly filled, especially when the attractiveness of the house-cleaning and the religious nature of the program were remembered.

Rev. Mr. Courtenay presided at the beginning of the evening session. The Scripture reading by Rev. Robt. Johnston, the singing of several hymns, and prayer, led in to the address by Rev. G. Stuart, Mr. Sterling (St. Thomas), Walter Moffatt and J. A. Clark, Rev. R. Paxon, resulting bridge, $2; W. Hartley, tile, $4; J. Gilbert, hauling sand, $1; J. Mr. W. J. Clark was then called upon to deliver an address upon the subject, "Some Things Presbyterians Stand For." He apologized for his presence by stating that the committee in charge of the programme had sought to obtain the services of two distinguished foreigners, and although they had been successful in the case of Dr. R. R. Drummond, St. Thomas, they had not obtained the other, and had fallen back upon him. He said that the Presbyterian Church generally throughout the bounds of the Presbytery of London, and especially the young people.

Goodly Amounts Find Their Way Into the Fund.

Organization of Wards 1 and 6 to be Done on With at Once—Favorable Report Concerning the Schools.

The jubilee committee met again last night. Reports of most satisfactory work continue to come in, and the members have good cause to feel gratified. Dr. James Wilson speaks highly of No. 2 ward, and says the sum from it will be large. He said he understood that the county would give a substantial sum if a certain amount were raised in the city.

Mrs. Boomer thought that the children who did not go to school should be given a chance to contribute to the fund, and thus help the children's work.

This did not meet with the views of some, who thought the school children should have all the honor, but if they could not raise the required amount, then the money from other children might be applied to the purpose.

A communication was received from A. E. L. Dickson, pass agent of the T. R. & N. P. railway, following: Between all stations in Canada, single fare for the round trip, selling dates of June 21, all trains June 22, good to return until June 23; bands will be charged 25c, fare and one-third.

Charles W. Ellis, secretary of the Forest City Bicycle Club, informed the committee that the club would be at the service of the Queen's jubilee celebration committee.

A letter was received from the Western Fair Association, granting the use of the fair grounds for the jubilee celebration week, on payment of $25, as one of the mysterious ones, which would not out, when it was all cleared up in a most remarkable manner. Some months ago a convict confessed to the warden of the Kingston Penitentiary that he it was who shot Angus McLeod. The Attorney-General was notified, and he delegated Detective Rogers to inquire into the matter. In an interview with Troy the detective warned him that any statement made might be used against him.

Four witnesses were called for the prosecution—Detective Rogers, who gave evidence of the prisoner's confession; Mrs. McLeod, widow of the murdered man; Dr. Leonard, who held the post-mortem, and Mr. Glynn, of Sarnia, who recognized the prisoner as the man who had sold a revolver to the prisoner.

The prisoner was placed in the box, and his testimony created a sensation. He said the confession made to Rogers was false in the main. He did not deny his guilt, but said that two men named Sturges and Penn were both with him at McLeod's house. When he entered the house he had no intention of committing murder. In reply to a question by the judge, he said it was the state of his health that induced him to confess the confession, and that he endeavored in his solitary confinement in the penitentiary.

Washington, May 12.—Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, the Senator who gives no tips, caused a strike at the fashionable Raleigh Hotel. When the Senator entered the cafe for breakfast, Sunday, the waiters ignored him. The head waiter told a man to take the Senator's order. The man refused, and was discharged on the spot. Another waiter was then called upon to take the order. He also refused, and was discharged. Two other men quit, and then all the other waiters struck in a body. An entire new force was employed, and the Pennsylvania Senator is now being waited on.

Sensational Murder Trial

Before Justice Robinson at the Napanee Assizes.

Prisoner Troy Pleads Guilty to the Charge—The Plea Rejected and the Trial Proceeds—A Case for the Attorney-General.

Napanee, Ont., May 12.—The trial of John F. Troy for the murder of Angus McLeod, on Sept. 12, 1893, terminated last night, which Mr. Justice Robinson characterized as the most extraordinary case that had ever come under his observation. The court was packed. The prisoner said he was innocent and wanted to plead guilty, but his lordship would not consent, and Mr. W. H. Perry was selected to defend him as one of the mysterious ones, which would not out, when it was all cleared up in a most remarkable manner.
