Jardine, Canadian commissioner in South Africa, in a report to the trade and commerce department, dated Pretoria, Sept. 8, states that a very large demand has arisen for agricultural machinery, plows, cultivators harrows, etc., of the most simple and inexpensive kind, suitable for the thousands of expatriated Boers, dis-NEW TERROR FROM STRIKE officer at the head of the movement, and a Canadian officer who assists charged Australians, Canadians and British irregulars who are remaining in South Africa. The Imperial Government, he says, are placing these men on the land and giving them a start. Major Leggett, the Imperial him are both anxious to place orders of this kind with Canadian firms if the machinery can be made promptly, Fuel Scarcity Means Great In- rather than buying in the United States. British makers, they think, cannot compete in supplying these implements. Agricultural firms in Canada in a position to make these cheap plows should, Mr. Jardine suggests, communicate with him at once. About 50,000 military settlers are to be put on the land, and the articles are to be paid for by the British Government, and if Canadian firms act with promptitude they may get a large share of the trade. Mr. Jardine submits the wholesale cost price in the Transvaal of a number of food products. Butter of the finest quality costs 23 to 24 shillings per dozen pound tins; medium butter, 18s 6d to 20s per dozen pound pots; lobsters, 18s 6d to 24s per dozen tins; American salmon, 8s to 8s 6d per dozen tins; best quality sardines, 9s to 10s 6d; medium, 6s 6d; corned beef, 8s 3d per dozen tins, and 15s 6d per dozen twopound tins: ox tongues, 8s per dozen tins, and 15s 6d per dozen two-pound tins; white granulated sugar, 26s per 106 pounds; sweet milk, 27s 6d, un-sweetened 28s per case of four dozen; colonial fresh eggs, 3s 6d to 4s per dozen; fowls or chickens, 6s to 6s 6d and 7s each; ducks, from 8s to 11s 6d; best turkeys, 20s to 25c each; inferior, 12s 6d to 15s each; best onions, 25s to 30s per bag of 125 pounds; second quality, 20s to 22s 6d. SALVATION ARMY IS SOLID

Army Is Still Marching On With Old

Chicago, Oct. 7 .- "There are some people who are telling absolute lies about our headquarters, the methods of our organization, its soldiers and its officers," declared Adjutant Storey, of the Salvation Army in an address to several hundred persons in Princess Rink yesterday afternoon, "What their objects are, if they have any, I do not know, but it is only just and right that their statements be contradicted. "With regard to the steps taken by the two sons of our beloved general, the very least that can be said is that the Salvation Army mourns deeply the fact that they have seceded from its ranks. We must agree with the general that they have been misguided, but one thing does seem indisputable. If Ballington Booth was not satisfied with the organizations and methods of the Salvation Army he should have withfields instead of causing rancor and discord by opening new halls all over the country in close proximity, as most of them are, to the Salvation Army halls already in use. He has not pro duced a new creation, which is one of the essential features to be considered in undertaking the service of God, but has simply taken up an old work and carried it out along the lines already employed by ourselves.

LOYAL TO METHODS. "As for Herbert Booth's allegation that the methods we employ have had their day-need that subject be dis-cussed? We are doing what Christ commanded us to do when he said: "Go ve out into the world and preach the gospel unto all nations.' It is the method that he employed-can we do better than to follow his example in all things?

"But how was it that Ballington Booth never discovered that the organization of the army was not right un-til it acutally touched him? There is the weak point in his argument. I be lieve it is a good thing that the brothers seceded when they did—I believe that it was the hand of God preparing the army for the general's If he had died while they were in the ranks and some one else had been appointed to take his place they would have split off just the same, and matters would have been infinitely
