

DUCK SHOOTING.

The season now in full blast—Toronto's

The season for the duck sport is now at hand, and almost every train that goes west carries one from Toronto to hunt on the sport. Guns, retrievers, skiffs, decoys were plentiful at the Union station last night. Autumn shooting is much better than spring, the fall being in much better plumage and fly better. Many sportsmen in the states have tried to get legislation against spring shooting, declaring the ducks are not fit to kill at that season.

Saint Clair falls perhaps the best ducking marsh and ponds to be found north of the Chesapeake.

Several clubs have been formed about Ontario that have arranged with the government for privileges of shooting.

Toronto furnishes perhaps some of the best shots that go to the flat, but as a rule a good duck shot is rare and not more than one in a dozen should be trusted in a marsh alone. Messrs. Dave Ward, T. H. Fleming, O. H. Howard, Christopher Robinson, Chief of Police Draper, Alderman Manahan, Taylor and Wint, and few others, who have been duck shooting for twenty years, would be considered pattern shots in any marsh.

But to see some of the "fresh-eyes" at it is very amusing, though to nervous men it is maddening. He commences by aiming himself with a cannon size of gun, a great many with very good shots, and a few even a number ten. He then splashes about the marsh making more noise than a sea serpent, insists that a diver is wounded and accordingly hunts it; he drops his paddle overboard, gets stuck up to his knees in mud, forgets his lunch, breaks his pipe, fires at everything he sees, his nose of time, every time his "cannon" goes off the other duck shooter appears, returns dirty, powder-smoked and tired, and says it is a poor place to shoot.

Some of the gentlemen who go duck shooting manage to make it pay, one having sent last year 150 brace to a game dealer in Toronto.

The New Carlton Street Church.

The Carlton street Presbyterian church was practically opened yesterday, although the main building has not yet been commenced. The services were held in the Sunday school room, which is 85 by 45 feet and where the church itself is finished will be in the rear of it. There are about 150 families in the new congregation, principally ex-members of Cooke's church, but it is not a choir or organ and nothing but psalms will be sung at the services. Mr. Hutchinson is the preacher. The congregation has been worshipping in Temperance hall for the past ten months. Principal Cavan preached at the morning service from the 118th Psalm, 18th verse; Prof. Greg preached in the afternoon from Rev. 1, 4, 5, and Rev. A. Wilson of Kingston at night from Chron. II, chap. 14, verse 11. There is no regular pastor appointed yet. The collection yesterday amounted to $100.

The County Judgeship.

Judge Mackenzie having determined to vacate his seat on the county bench, speculation is rife in legal circles as to who his successor will be. D. B. Read, C. C. Nicholas Murphy, James T. J. E. McDougall and W. G. Falconbridge are among those names which are mentioned in this connection. Any of these gentlemen would be the ermine with ability and dignity, but it is pretty well understood that two of them at least are not banking after judicial honors at present. Mr. Murphy has an extensive and lucrative practice which he does not care to relinquish, and Mr. Tilt's ambition lies in the direction of politics. The three other gentlemen haven't been heard from.

Mark Langan, Esq., first deputy sheriff of New York city, recently said to a prominent newspaper reporter: "I had a very weak and painful back, and could find nothing to relieve it until I tried St. Jacobs' Oil, less than four bottles of which cured me completely. I have recommended it highly."

Millard of Howard street, was arraigned before the police court on Saturday and remanded till Wednesday. Other charges will also be preferred. The people who parked yesterday north of the guns were numerous and well dressed. They leisurely meandered through and among one another, some sat on the grass, which was green and vigorous. The different orders of preachers spoke and exhorted from elevated positions. The grand division of the order of railway conductors will meet in St. Paul on October 17. The following are the Toronto delegates: Grand Senior Commodore, St. Defras, W. H. Hoekin, Geo. Pike and Patrick McMahon. The Toronto brethren will meet on the next annual meeting of the grand lodge held in this city in October of 1883. The team proposed to him was the strongest he has yet played in London, none of them being under what is technically called "twelve and two strength." Mr. Drury had opposed sending county funds out of the county, believing that the county council did not possess the legal power to do so. But at the same time he stated that he would have voted $500 for the relief of the suffering Irish, whereas many of his unscrupulous opponents, who were willing enough to vote or sanction the voting of other people's money away for the relief of the Irish, took precious good care to spend little or none of their own.
