He recommended to save the payment of ten the Ontario Legislature at this winter's session.

These two members will gather all they can of technical instruction in its relation to mining and also smelting works and with respect to the mining laws of the United States. They will most likely visit Pittsburg, the charcoal works in the Salisbury region, in the water near as Mr. Jones had suggested. He did not think the respector should be allowed to take up a very large block of mining land.

Lockhart Gordon, who is connected with the Canadian Laud Emigration Company, est gave evidence, Mr. Gordon is interested in mining in Haliburton. The district was no mining and lumbering them agricultation.

S. S. Mutton, who is interested in mining on the north shore of Georgian Bay, was the next witness. Near Hamilton he possessed a kaolin deposit which had been pronounced by the analyst at Ottawa to be free from iron and lime. It could be utilized in the manufacture of ornamental articles and crockery. The specimen resembled French chalk. The commission examined the sample produced, but owing to its red tint thought it must possess some slight quantity of iron. Mr. Mutton said he had sold a quantity of the kaolin to a man in Chicago, who expressed the opinion that it was of the best quality.

W. T. Newman, a geutleman who had been ting in the region of Lake Nipissing samples of magnetic ore and one of limestone. He had observed vast quantities of iron ore on Iron Island in a loose state, but had run across only one small vein. On his own property located on Manntou and Newman Islands he had seen quantities of iron ore in a rock, but did not know its character.

He showed a sample of feldspar from a point about five miles west of Lake Nipissing.

Dr. Pattullo, who has large interests in the Credit Valley freestone quarries, mentioned the township of Caledon as possessing large quantities of red and grey stone.

The Salisbury iron, which is mainly used in car wheels in Canada and which is procured in Eastern Connecticut, costs $35 here. Charcoal iron he considered to be better than Scotch iron, and thought it very desirable that the former should be manufactured in Canada. LOOKING OVER ISLAND PARK.

Ald. Baxter, as successor to Chairman Irwin, lead his brother members of the Property Committee over Island Park yesterday morning. There were in the party the Mayor, Ald. Pells, Bell, Gibbs, Hallam and they remained glum and unapproachable, the memory of the lost $25,000 preventing anything like mirth.

One alderman put the probable complete cost of the park at not less than $1,000,000, while an anary West Ender advocated that the work be allowed to lie fallow for the next two years as a punishment to the clever charman. Ald Hallam engaged himself in studies of arboriculture examining the forests of planted trees, not one of which he declared would be alive next spring.

On the conclusion of the survey City Commissoner Contaworth issued orders for the men to quit shovelling and piling, and set to work gathering up the tools and appliances ready for the cessation of work to-day. The party then proceeded to view the site of the proposed temperance hotel on the lake shore. Mr. L. C. Moffat was on hand to press his claims for a transfer of the lease of the lot, but the visitors did not look favorably on them, temp impressed with the belief that the city did not want to pay for a temperance hotel when the lease of the lot expired seven years hence.

When this little business was disposed of Ald. Swait took the lead and showed the visitors over the government work on the lake side of the Island. It appeared in good condition and able to brave the winter storms.

UNIVERSITY FEDERATION.

Dr. Denart in The Christian Guardian.

The combined effort to obstruct and retard the movement on behalf of the new Victoria in Toronto has fallen flat, outside of the limited circle in which it originated. Letters full of misleading assertions, the attempt to get up a Cobourg boom, and suggestions for a compromise which implied that the majority should adopt the policy of the minority, which was rejected by the General Conference, have all failed to mislead or dishearten the loyal Methodist ministers and laymen, who feel that the honor of the Church, as well as the best interests of its educational work in this Province, demands the faithful carrying out in good faith of its deliberate decisions. We deeply regret the unfriendly attitude of brethren who, however sincere in the belief of their particular views, are making a grave mistake in the course they are taking. We carnestly desire their loyal co-operation; but if they continue to withhold it, we have no choice but to go forward without it. It is not too late for these brethren to retrace their steps, and to unite with their brethren in carrying out the policy of the Church; but whether they do so or not, the loyal ministers and members of the Church cannot allow themselves to be turned side from faithfully endeavoring to give effect to the educational policy which was deliberately adopted by the General Conference of the Methodist Church. The friends of the movement will only have to give more liberally and work more carnesily to make up for the defection of those upon whose co-operation they had a right to depend.

The Management of the product of the second of the second Mayor, Ald, Pells, Bell, Gibbs, Hallam and Swait, ex-Ald. Taylor, Captain Mason, City Commissioner Coatsworth and Assistant City Clerk Littlejohn. The voyage across the bay was made in the Jesse L McEdwards, and Inspector Kimings met the visitors on the Island shore and conducted them over the work.

As already stated there has been any quantity of good work done, but it is the immense amount still to be done which is puzzling the aldermen. To finish the work as it stands will require well nigh $30,000, and many and deep were the "encomiuns" passed on Chairman Irwin's shrewdness in so successfully dusting the eyes of his brethren on the Property Committee. The Mayor tried to lend an air of cheerfulness to the group by lend and the group b box that excited the enrichity as the SulvanearHe had stood on those planks when fits bearing was less lamb-like and sublime—when from his lips poured, not such suave and wooong words but the hot and scorching chainshot of municipal combat. He had threshed the air of that hall with his strong right arm as he had pointed the way to millennial municipal management—lying in the direction he was traveling, but very different was his attitude last night as he leaned affectionately over the edge of his rostrum as though he would take his responsive audience to his bosom. At times he blazed with indignation as he recalled she oppression under which his neighbors suffered and at every outburst the flames were fanned by the applicance that shook the hall. Beautiful indeed was the bould of sympathy that joined him to the audience.

Naturally the first speaker was Ernest Albert the Earl of Chester. He sraced the course of the Toronto Street Railway Company from its fornation and exhumed injustices, oppressions, indifference and neglect with the graves of which that course was hedged. At every resurrection he breathed the word "Revenge." Having shown injustices, oppressions, indifference and neglect with the grave of which that course was hedged. At every resurrection he breathed the word "Revenge." Having shown it lie injustices of the corporation "without body to be kicked or soul to be damned" he exclaimed: "This is the first time we have had this monopoly by the thrust," and he clinched his outstretched hand on an imaginary larynx. "Their charter will expire in two years and it is worth millions of dollars; how much the people of Toronto want to know." Then with his walking stick he traced the routes of his proposed lines of railway and as the cap-sheaf of his triumph he disclosed the contents of his mysterious box. It contained a piece of the "U" shaped rail, the latest style, whose great beauty is that the roadway can be built up flush with the rail and vehicles cannot get caught and their wheels ripped off. This rail sent the audience into ecstasiss. As was once uttered in the Legislative hall "strong men wept and women pressed their babes closer to their breasts." [James Commee, M. P. P.] The snocess of the new railway company was from that moment assured. Ernest Albert exponded the virtues of the proposition of the Toronto Passenger Transport Company, but the up of East Toronto's requirements was full and Potato King Barrett's was running over; he offered Ernest Albert $5 a week if he would put the "been titul rails" all over the city.

The following resolution was then moved by

"That this meeting having heard read the proposals of the Toronto Passenger Transport. Co. to the City Council dated the lith day of September, 1888, the nature of which proposals was communicated to the Toronto Street Railway Co., on the 9th inst. together with an option of constructing, and operating certain lines of street railway, which said option will expire out the 2th of December next, is of the opinion that in the avent of the said Toronto Street Railway Co. not availing itself of the right to constructing operate the said lines, be given to the Toronto Passenger Transport Co., upon terms of their said proposals or upon such better terms as the City Council can procure from instranted Co. and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to each of our representatives in the City Council."

Amid prolonged applause the resolution was carried. Speeches were made by Mr. Raden, ex-Ald, Inghatn, Ald, Galloraith, King William III. Barrett, Ald, Macdonald, ex-Ald, Elhott, J. K. Leslie, G. S. Macdonald and Benjamin Langley. From every side bouquets of rhetorical posies were scattered at the feet of Mr. E. A. Macdonald. Then this resolution was carried unanimously and the Earl was buried beneath the flowery fusilade:
